CENTER AVEVUE CAR JUMPS TRACK WITH 75 PEOPLE

Only Two Are Injured, Dr. D. B. W. Martin and Henry Blume---Others Badly Shaken Up.

Car No. 40 of the Center and Larimer division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company ran away down the Center avenue hill from Oakland heights this morning shortly after 2 o'clock. It jumped the track at Herron avenue and was wrecked against the curb. The injured are:

DR. D. B. W. MARTIN, East street and Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, badly bruised, taken to hospital.

HENRY BLUME, salesman, 216 Wick street, sent to his home.

The car left the East End district shortly before 2 o'clock and gathered up quite a load of passengers from a social function in that part of the city. By the time it reached the top of the hill there was a "standing" load of about 75 persons. The usual safety stop was made there and then the descent was begun. The slimy condition of the rails caused the motorman trouble in controlling the car, which soon obtained great headway. Passengers realizing that something was bound to happen held tightly and when the crash came at Herron avenue curve they were prepared. The car left the rails, dashed against the curb and broke one of the axles.

While all the passengers were badly shaken up, the two named above are all that are reported badly hurt.

Two traction emergency wagons and a patrol wagon were sent to the scene with a number of officers.

DR. PATTON SEES NO NEED FOR REVISION OF THE CREED

"I see absolutely no need for the revision of the confession of faith of the Presbyterian church," said the Rev. Dr. Francis L. Patton, president of Princeton Theological seminary, at the Hotel Schenley last night.

"Are you averse to creed revision?" was asked.

"No; I cannot just say so. I have stated before, however, that there is no necessity for creed revision and personally I am at a loss to know why the confession of faith should be changed. I prefer, however, not to discuss the matter at this time."

Dr. Patton left last night for Trenton, where he is to deliver a lecture tonight. He will return tomorrow and finish his series of lectures in the Third Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Dr. Patton likes Pittsburgh. He says the statistics of Princeton university and theological seminary show that the number of students from this section is increasing every year.

CARNEGIE'S VISIT TO MRS. SCHENLEY.

They Talked Over the Park Site for the Technical School.

HERE IN DECEMBER

Information reached Pittsburgh yesterday that Andrew Carnegie, during his recent visit in London, made a special call on Mrs. Schenley and obtained from her a definite answer as to whether she will allow the proposed new Carnegie technical school to be located in Schenley park.

Just what Mrs. Schenley's answer was no one in the city has been notified, but it is confidently believed the reply was favorable. Mr. Carnegie has been apprised by cable of the result of the work of the councilmanic committee and of councils' recommendation of the selection of the park site.

It has been Mr. Carnegie's custom to call upon Mrs. Schenley each year before he returns to Pittsburgh. It is thought improbable by trustees of the institute that Mr. Carnegie will divulge the result of his interview with Mrs. Schenley until he reaches Pittsburgh and has held conferences with the board and the councilmanic committee.

Basis for Hope.

The conclusion that Mrs. Schenley's answer to Mr. Carnegie is favorable is based on the fact that Mr. Carnegie has not cabled the result of his interview to Pittsburgh. If Mrs. Schenley had been unfavorable to having the school located in Schenley park, it is thought Mr. Carnegie would have notified W. N. Frew, president of the board of trustees, and asked him to report the matter immediately to councils in order that another site might be selected.

It is probable that Mr. Carnegie will not reach Pittsburgh until near December 15. It was his intention to sail today from London and he was scheduled to reach this city December 1. Mr. Carnegie had booked passage on the Celtic, but yesterday was compelled to cancel his engagement and will not likely leave London until the latter part of next week.

The story published yesterday that prominent Pittsburghers were advising Mrs. Schenley against allowing the use of the park land for the school was denied on all sides last night.

"The story sounds absurd, to say the least," said W. N. Frew. "I do not believe one word of it. If there is any dissatisfaction among the trustees over the selection of the park site I am in a position to know of the same."

No Dissent Among Trustees.

Prof. John A. Brashear, a member of the plan and scope committee of the Carnegie institute, last night said: "All the members of the board had their own views of the site matter when it was first suggested, but since councils have recommended the park site, I do not believe there will be any dissent."

President Lamble of select council had a meeting with Prof. Brashear and William L. Scaife, members of the plan and scope comittee, yesterday afternoon. President Crawford of common council was unable to attend. The councilmen desired to know the views of the members of the plan and scope committee as to how much ground would be necessary for the site. The conference lasted for over an hour. The members of the committee suggested not less than 30 acres to start the buildings, and an arrangement to purchase more land if found to be a necessity.

The park site contains about 26 acres and if additional land may be secured there it was looked on with favor.

CODY OPENS HIS HOTEL.

He Opens Grand March With His Daughter Irma and Announces Her Engagement.

CODY, WYO., Nov. 18.—Several interesting features marked the opening here this evening of the Hotel Irma, built by Col. W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) at a cost of $100,000, and named by him in honor of his youngest daughter, Miss Irma Cody.

Col. Cody and Miss Irma led the grand march.

Col. Cody announced the engagement of Miss Irma Cody to Lieut. Charles Armstrong, Tenth United States cavalry, a young officer who won honors in the Philippines. Col. Cody's guests included Gov. Savage of Nebraska.

LEFT HIS DEATHBED TO FIND A DOCTOR

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—A special from Derby, Conn., to the World says: Clad in his nightshirt, Alfred Yeoman, aged 170, rose from his deathbed last night in an attempt to go to the office of Dr. William S. Randall, his physician. He was found dead in the street close to the doctor's door. Yeoman, in the last stages of pneumonia, was lying in a room at the home of George Bernhardt in Shelton. While his attendant was absent he stole from the house.

TRIBESMEN PUT UP A WARM FIGHT

PESHAWUR, INDIA, Nov. 18.—The British expedition to put down the uprising of the Waziri tribesmen on the Afghan frontier is meeting with a determined opposition. Col. CASSATT'S VISIT RESULTS IN PLANS FOR EXTENSIVE RAILROAD IMPROVEMENTS

Pennsylvania System Will Make Great Expenditures for Better Facilities in and Around Pittsburgh.

ALL DAY CONFERENCE HELD BY THE HIGHEST OFFICIALS

Great Steel Mills of Carnegie Company Threatened With Stoppage---Complaints of Wholesale Merchants---Through Shipments the Cause.

"The whole conference was devoted to the freight situation. There was no consideration of the ordinances before councils. Plans for the relief of the congestion by the increase of facilities for handling the business were considered. It remains now for the board to act upon these plans. The Pennsylvania means to spend a very large amount of money in carrying out this work."

Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to President Cassatt, made this statement after the conference of Pennsylvania officials was over and the men from Philadelphia were about to start on their return to that city yesterday afternoon.

Relief for the freight congestion in the Pittsburgh district is thus promised by the Pennsylvania railroad system. To this end President Cassatt and other executive officials, the transportation and the engineering heads of the railroad and the lines west, yesterday considered and determined upon vast improvements to be made as soon as the preparations can be rushed through.

In the conference yesterday were President A. J. Cassatt, Second Vice President Charles E. Pugh, Third Vice President Samuel M. Prevost, General Manager J. B. Hutchinson and Chief Engineer W. H. Brown, of the Pennsylvania railroad; First Vice President James McCrea, Third Vice President J. J. Turner, General Manager George L. Peck and Chief Engineer Thomas Rodd, of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh.

In a room full of blue-prints of proposed improvements and maps of the lines as they are today, plans were discussed which mean much to the shippers of this city. From early in the morning until almost time for the special to leave, at 5 o'clock, this work continued. No information as to the character of the plans was given, but it was admitted that the conference was most important from the point of view of contemplated expense.

The conference was held in Pittsburgh for two reasons. The officials of the Pennsylvania lines west are too busy to spend any time just now in going to Philadelphia, and President Cassatt and his associates wished to see the conditions here and take up the study at the scene of action.

"Greater facilities" is believed to express the nature of the improvements intended for Pittsburgh. This means larger yards and additional through tracks. The business of the Pennsylvania system in and around Pittsburgh can no longer be handled on only four through tracks. The increase of motive power, urgently needed, is being made as fast as the locomotive companies can turn out the engines. The Pennsylvania is ordering new engines every time there are vacant spaces in a locomotive factory. The orders already made cannot all be filled for over a year. The company's own shops at Altoona are being enlarged to twice their capacity for the manufacture of locomotives.

At the same time, the Pennsylvania is looking to the further completion of improvements about Pittsburgh for aid in this matter. The new bridges across the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers for the Ft. Wayne and the Panhandle, the elevated tracks in Allegheny and the four-track system along the South Side bluffs are all expected to aid materially; while the new East End connecting branch will also assist much in caring for this rush of business.

GREAT MILLS ARE THREATENED

Blockade on Raw Materials May Close Carnegie Plants---Conditions Grow Steadily Worse. All Shippers Complain.

The great Homestead and Duquesne works of the Carnegie Steel Company may any day be forced to idleness by the freight congestion. These works employ 12,000 men. Complete suspension is not imminent, but important departments may go down and cripple operations. This means that the freight blockade has been allowed to go to extremities. With these mills crippled, nearly everything in Pittsburgh would soon follow. These works consume much of the outside supply of pig iron purchased from merchant furnacemen and specifications cannot be filled while the furnacemen have most of their stacks down, or are working at about 50 percent of their normal output.

The Carnegie interests, which get coke when there is any moving at all, have been cut out recently and their stocks of coke and pig iron, piled at the points of operations, have been nearly depleted. The stocks are only drawn upon when necessary. Such conditions have arisen in the open weather of this fall. The stocks had been accumulated for times later on, when it would be reasonable to expect a shortage of deliveries by reason of bad weather.

Taking from the piles of coke, limestone and other raw furnace materials, is not desirable, except in extremities. It is a far slower and less satisfactory plan than to take the material from the cars coming in from the producing regions.

Coke Shipments Suspended.

In the past few days conditions generally have been better. Yet there is no solution of the trouble. There is always more of a movement of coke at the first of the week. On Monday there was shipped for the merchant furnacemen about their normal requirements, but yesterday there were no shipments at all.

An official of the United States Steel Corporation said yesterday:

"The congestion is the worst in the history of the Pittsburgh district. The railroad people know and we know, although the public has little conception, of the danger of tying up the wheels of industry in this district. The conditions have been bad for a year, growing worse monthly, but last week matters grew worse each day."

An official of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company said yesterday: "The congestion has become a serious matter with us, along with the rest. We have a tremendous and troublesome accumulation of products ready to ship, with our customers clamoring for deliveries."

Alike in All Commodities.

One of the general officials of the American Lumber and Manufacturing Company said: "Some of our customers talk of cancelling their orders because we cannot get deliveries to them as specified. Inability of the railroads to move materials is worse than ever and it is

YOUNG WIFE KILLS SUCCESSFUL RIVAL

BOSOM FRIENDS ONE YEAR AGO

Elder Woman Introduces Younger to Her Husband and Trouble Begins.

AFTER MARITAL QUARREL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Maddened by jealousy at a younger and prettier woman who had won her husband's love, Mrs. Frank E. Youngs this morning stabbed Florence McFarlane to the heart and inflicted two other terrible wounds with a small dagger. Mrs. Youngs was arrested two hours after the murder and admitted the charge, but said she had intended to only maim her rival.

Miss McFarlane insulted her, she said, in the brief interview they had before she plunged the blade on its fatal mission.

"She came between me and my husband," she exclaimed. "I am glad she is dead."

Mrs. Young is 28 years old and Miss McFarlane was 21. A year ago they were intimate friends and worked together at the Bell Telephone Company's switchboard. Mrs. Youngs was the one who introduced Miss McFarlane to Mr. Youngs. He had ever since paid much attention to Miss McFarlane.

The Youngs had been married about two years and had lived very happily. It is asserted by Mrs. Youngs' family that he abused her and threatened on several occasions to kill her.

This morning they had a violent quarrel over his paying attention to the McFarlane girl. He threatened to shoot his wife at noon if she did not get out of his house. They parted in great anger.

After his departure Mrs. Youngs hurried to the boarding house of Miss McFarlane. Miss McFarlane answered the ring of the frenzied woman, who had come to kill her. Miss McFarlane showed her caller into the parlor, where a few words passed between them.

Mrs. Youngs said to the chief of police later that she upbraided Miss McFarlane for stealing the affections of her husband. The girl did not deny the charge, but abused and insulted her, she said, which she resented with the deadly stabs.

The wounded girl threw up her left arm to ward off one of the blows aimed at her and received the blade in the fleshy part of the upper arm, making a gash to the bone seven inches long. Then she turned to run, and the maddened assailant thrust the blade into the back of her shoulder. The wounded girl fled screaming to the kitchen, where she knew the housekeeper was. The housekeeper met her in the dining room and the girl fell dying into her arms.

"Did you murder the girl?" cried the housekeeper.

"Yes, I did! She came between me and my husband!"

Then murderess then fled out the front door, entered a hack in which she had driven there and was driven rapidly away.

In an hour she was arrested at her mother's home. She was calm and had talked of many things, but not of her deed, while apparently making a casual call on her mother.

The dead woman was the daughter of a railroad man. She was a person of refinement and good appearance.

MINISTERS FIGHT SMOOT ELECTION

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Nov. 18.—The Ministerial Alliance of Salt Lake City is making preparation for a vigorous fight against the election of Apostle Reed Smoot to the United States senate, and, failing in this, to carry the fight against him to the halls of congress. The general idea is to make a fight similar to that waged against Brigham H. Roberts in the house.

Mr. Wu in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Wu, the Chinese ex-minister to Washington, passed through Pittsburgh this morning at 2 o'clock. The party, composed of Mr. Wu, his son and his secretary, were on the sleeper Cresson. Mr. Wu was sound asleep as the train pulled into Pittsburgh. He will arrive in Chicago early this afternoon and goes from there to San Francisco, whence he sails to his native land. Messrs. Dillon and Redmond, the Irish leaders, were on the same train. They go to Toledo.

SISTER KILLED BY BOY HUNTER

Sad Tragedy at the Hartman Home Near Bridgeville.

SHELL STUCK FAST

While attempting to remove a cartridge from his rifle, Edward Horstman, 11 years old, shot and killed his sister Mary, 20 years old, in their home at Bridgeville yesterday afternoon. The small bullet entered her neck and severed an artery. She died in five minutes. Her brother is nearly distracted.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Horstman, the parents, left home early yesterday to spend the day with friends in Canonsburg. Both were horrified when they learned by telegraph of their daughter's end. They started for home immediately and arrived late last night.

Mary was left at home to take care of the children. She was in the sitting room when Edward returned home from school. The boy shouldered his rifle and said that he would bring home a squirrel for supper. His sister told him to be careful and she would cook his squirrel for him.

The boy returned about 3 o'clock. He was encountered by W. J. Freyer, who was driving by the house. Edward said that a cartridge had stuck in the rifle and he was going home to extract it. Freyer warned him to be careful. Edward entered the house and started to take the cartridge from the rifle. His sister was sewing.

The cartridge exploded. The girl jumped from her chair and ran out of the house. Her screams were terrifying.

"Eddie has shot me," she cried. "I am dying."

Freyer heard the girl's screams, jumped out of his vehicle and ran back to the house. He took the wounded girl into the house and hurried Edward for a physician. The brother's flight for medical aid was useless. When his sister was laid on a couch she died almost instantly. The physician, when he came, said that the girl had bled to death.

When the parents arrived at home last night Edward went to his mother with his head bowed in sorrow.

"Mamma, I shot sister," he said. "She is dead."

The boy will be brought to the county jail this morning, where he will be committed until after the inquest.

CAWLEY GETS PATENT FOR HIS AIRBRAKE

News from Washington Carried to the Young Homesteader in Jail.

One dream of Charles Cawley, who is charged with killing almost his entire family in Homestead, has been realized. Among the patents granted yesterday at Washington was one on the air brake invented by this young man.

His uncle, P. J. Boyle, of No. 2506 Carson street, South Side, received the notice from the patent office and straightway went to the Allegheny county jail and notified the nephew. The crazed inventor was pleased to learn that his efforts had been rewarded.

It was the strain in perfecting this invention that overtaxed Cawley's mind.

His uncle will handle the patent for him, until the court appoints a trustee. From what could be learned of the patent, its workings are perfect and it has the qualifications to make a successful air brake for railway cars.

PANSIES ARE BLOOMING IN THE NOVEMBER AIR

Henry Mazon, a night keeper at the county jail, believes he has an extraordinary garden at his home near Castle Shannon. He brought to Warden Edward Lewis last evening a large and fragrant bunch of pansies, which he said he gathered in his front yard. He says the air at Castle Shannon is as mild as that of Southern California and that the trees and bushes are threatening to bud.

BULLETS REUNITE ESTRANGED COUPLE

Fired by the Husband Because His Wife Deserted Him.

HAD BEGGED HER TO COME BACK

Endearing Letters, Written by Man Assailant Accuses, in Woman's Pocket.

IN THE SAME HOSPITAL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, Nov. 18.—H. Benning of Youngstown and his wife are at Lakeside hospital in a critical condition.

On Oregon street today the husband, after trying in vain to induce the woman to return to Youngstown with him, shot her in the side and then fired a bullet into his head. If they survive they will owe their lives to the lack of penetrating power of the weapon, which was an old one.

Mrs. Benning, who is only 21 years of age, left her husband early in the fall and came to Cleveland. Benning came to this city and took her home with him. Last week she left again, and on Monday the husband followed her. He registered at a prominent hotel and went in search of the woman. He found her in the street, and after walking a few yards, shot her and tried to end his own life.

The woman said she would not return home, and the husband gave a similar explanation of the shooting.

In the wife's pocket was found a note in which she was called "dear" half a dozen times. It was from the man the husband accuses.

PHOTOGRAPHIC MIX IN ALDERMAN'S COURT

Dabbs Brothers and Partners Sued by a Woman and Her Son.

B. L. H. Dabbs, a photographer, his brother, Frank H. Dabbs, H. C. Williams and Harry Malone, said to be partners of the Dabbs Brothers, are held in $1,600 bail for hearings before Alderman Groetzinger on charges of conspiracy, made by N. P. J. Yost of No. 44 Fairmont street, Allegheny.

B. L. H. Dabbs is also the defendant in a suit brought by Mrs. Mary McMillen, the mother of Yost, who charges assault and battery. The hearings on the conspiracy charges have been set for Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, while B. L. H. Dabbs will be tried on the assault and battery charge tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

After filing the charges against the members of the photographic concern, Yost added charges of embezzlement and surety of the peace against two members of the firm. From the statements made by the defendants and plaintiffs last night, the cases are complicated and it is expected that they will be thrown into court before they are decided.

According to the story of Yost he was made a partner of the firm at the death of the elder Dabbs and the establishment of Stanton's, at the corner of Sixth street and Liberty avenue, was purchased. Yost claims he put money into the firm and that the Dabbs' failed to live up to the agreement made with him and refused to divide the profits.

Yost alleges that he is now bound to pay almost $2,000 indebtedness contracted by the firm. He states that he worked in the place from last April until July without the remuneration specified in the agreement.

The Dabbs' have an entirely different story to recite. They claim they took Yost in as a partner on condition that he raise $1,700 to put into the firm by last April 1. At that time they say Yost could not pay them the money and they reduced the amount to $1,500. It is then alleged by the Dabbs brothers that Yost did not produce the money and he was allowed to remain in the firm until last July, when he was unceremoniously retired.

HACKNEYS BELOW MARK

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.

While, of course, there was never any doubt as to the success of the horse show, the officials this morning were receiving congratulations on the large attendance of Monday evening, as an indication that the exhibition has not lost any of its popularity. Fashion has said that the horse show is a society function not to be missed, and so attends the horse show in its finest costumes.

A competition of the keenest kind was witnessed in the first event of the afternoon—class 38, for horses in harness. The entries came from William H. Moore of Chicago, A. A. Housman of this city, Harry Payne Whitney, Eben D. Jordan, John S. Bratton and Mrs. John Gerken. The last-named drove her own entry, a pair of spanking chestnuts, Brandon and Balmar. Mrs. Gerken was bent upon obtaining a ribbon, and she succeeded in getting the highly commended, just beating Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, whose ill luck seems unbroken. The winner was Mr. Housman's entry, Royal Blush and Royal Flush.

When the garden, after recess, resumed operations for the evening events, it presented a picturesque appearance, with its blaze of electric lights and crowd of fashionable spectators. The vast attendance of Monday was regarded as the limit and not likely to be surpassed; but in this knowing ones were surprised by tonight's showing, which, according to those people familiar with the garden's capacity, surpassed in point of numbers the attendance on the opening night.

The morning was mainly devoted to judging hackney and trotting breeding classes, neither of which was very well filled. The hackneys were generally acknowledged to be of poorer class than usual.

AMERICAN SAILORS INVOLVED IN A RIOT

Crew of Training Ship Hartford Fight With Residents in Madeira.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Daily Mail reports that during the recent visit of the United States training ship Hartford to Madeira 100 of the crew were allowed to go on shore for five hours, and some of them became intoxicated and indulged in riotous behavior. They interfered with a passing wagon drawn by bullocks and attacked a well-known local gentleman with sticks, severely maltreating him.

This incident led to bottles being thrown at the sailors from the windows of a hotel and some among them sustained cuts. Later, the populace assumed a hostile attitude toward the American seamen and several fled into a church to escape from the angry mob.

The Hartford fired half a dozen blank shots and subsequently the captain came ashore and decided to stop all further leave while in port.

The Hartford arrived at Funchal, Madeira, November 5, and sailed for Gibraltar on November 18.

DEATH INSTEAD OF DOLL.

Little Girl of Ben Avon Burned on a Gas Stove.

While trying to reach her doll, Gladys Cralk, 3 years old, of Park avenue, Ben Avon, fell on a gas stove and was burned to death yesterday afternoon. The mother heard the child's screams and hurried to the room, but too late.

Mrs. Cralk threw a blanket over the child and soon smothered the flames. When she raised the blanket the girl was dead. The mother was badly burned.

Interesting Cross Suits.

Some time ago Arch Woodside, son of A. Woodside of No. 905 South avenue, Wilkinsburg, got into a fight with Roden Young, son of F. B. Young, in which it is alleged Young got the worst of it. The lad's father sued the Woodside boy for assault and battery, and when the case was heard in Justice John J. Walker's court, the defendant was held for court. Then Woodside senior sued Young senior for assault and batter, charging him with having held his (Woodside's) son while Young's brother-in-law thrashed him. Young waived examination.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Miss Alice Moran, who claims $5,000 damages because the loss of her right index finger to the first joint injured her chances for marriage, was a witness today in her suit against the West Haven Buckle Company. She asserts that she suffered a loss of earning power.

Her wages before the accident on November 25, 1901, were $6 a week. Since then she has earned only $3 a week.

PLOTS TO KILL THE PRESIDENT

Hoboken Woman Claims to Expose Three Anarchist Conspiracies.

TWO CULPRITS' SUICIDES

One Comes Over from France Because the Fatal Lot Had Fallen to Him, but Weakens, Returns Home and Dies in a Cab Wreck.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.
[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Three plots to assassinate President Roosevelt, with alleged details of anarchist machinery, are exposed in the confession of a woman who has been converted to Christianity, at the behest of her husband, and who now declares she moves in constant fear of her life and needs detectives to guard her whenever she ventures from her home.

This woman is Mrs. Lena Doxheimer. She lives on the third floor of a tenement at Hoboken. Her confession was made before the Mothers' club of the First Methodist Episcopal church in Hoboken and its publication was authorized today.

Of the three selected by lot to assassinate President Roosevelt, this woman declares two have perished by their own hands. What happened to the third, she does not know. One of those who committed suicide, she describes as Mrs. Schroeder of Harlem.

This statement is verified by the newspaper files of last September. Mrs. Freda Schroeder was found dead in her room on September 2 with a half empty bottle of carbolic acid by her side. The police found a quantity of anarchistic literature in her room, and for a time it was reported that the body was that of Emma Goldman.

Later it was found that the woman had been living with a printer named Conrad Steber, and was undoubtedly a pupil of some disciple of anarchy.

The first assassination plot, Mrs. Doxheimer says, was, perhaps, a year ago. There was a drawing of lots among the members of a certain "group" to select the one for the work, and Mrs. Doxheimer declares the fatal lot fell upon a young Frenchman named Moler. He lived in England and arrived in this country on his mission about Christmas time.

Mrs. Doxheimer says she was one of those to meet him at the pier. After that she had long talks with him, and says she tried to dissuade him from carrying out the mandate of assassination.

According to her story, he at first was indignant and threatened to denounce her to the order, but ended by listening to her appeals. He ended, she says, by declaring that his life was already forfeited; that if he killed President Roosevelt he would be executed, and if he weakened the other members of the order would order his death.

He went back to Paris, she says, and there, in one of the boulevards, there was one day a certain cab accident in which a young man lost his life. It was the young man Moler.

Her next news, Mrs. Doxheimer says, was that the lots had been shuffled again and hands again thrust into the black box. This time the news told of a man named Mueller. She is not certain, however, who drew the fatal lot. A few days passed, and she says she heard this man had been found dead.

Chief Wilkie, of the secret service in Washington, was asked about Mrs. Doxheimer's statement tonight. He said he had no information of any plot against the president and had never heard of the woman.

NEW ENGLAND STATES SLIPPING TO CANNON

Massachusetts and New Hampshire Members Declare for Him—Iowa Also.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Most of the Republican members of the Massachusetts delegation to congress met at the Union club today and agreed to send the following telegram to Joseph G. Cannon:

"Republicans of the Massachusetts delegation, at a meeting today in Boston, declared for you as speaker."

The absent Republican congressmen had approved of the indorsement of Mr. Cannon.

LEBANON, N. H., Nov. 18.—Congressman Frank D. Currier, who is here today attending court, on the receipt of a message from Congressman Sulloway of Manchester, made known the fact that both have agreed to support Cannon for the speakership.

DES MOINES, IA., Nov. 18.—At a caucus of members of the Iowa Republican delegation to the next congress, held here today, it was decided to support Congressman Cannon for speaker. Those who were not present are known to favor Cannon.

Preparing for a New Hospital.

The ways and means committee having in charge the preliminary work for the establishment of a new St. Joseph's hospital, on Josephine street, between South Twenty-first and South Twenty-second streets, met last night at the office of Dr. W. F. Pollock, No. 1912 Carson street. It was decided to appoint a subscription committee of eight in each South Side ward.

Fireman Dragged by Engine.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—R. W. Wilson, fireman on the Pennsylvania railroad, fell from his engine tonight west of Cresson, and was dragged one-half mile. The body was badly mangled.

CASSATT'S VISIT RESULTS IN PLANS FOR IMPROVEMENTS

of the utmost concern to us, because, with the lingering open weather, the demand has kept up and we cannot meet it."

On Monday, in a report exclusively printed in The Gazette that Pittsburgh coal shippers will be losers to the extent of $2,000,000 on lake contracts not filled by reason of the congestion, a typographical error put the tonnage cut off as 15,000,000. It was, of course, apparent to those who know that 1,500,000 was intended. The Pittsburgh Coal Company alone will be short to within 100,000 tons of this amount.

Recently the Pennsylvania railroad brought a lot of locomotives from the east to relieve the situation here. The lines west brought engines from western divisions. While on the way, light, their utility was lost and before they had accomplished much they were sent back to their own territory to work down the congestion which their removal caused.

The records of the railroads, in the rush now on, are frequently worthless and shipments are lost. This has led the big shippers to employ runners to stay with their shipments.

WHOLESALE HOUSES SUFFERING HEAVILY

Views of Downtown Merchants on Freight Troubles—Instances of Long Delays.

The freight blockade on the Pennsylvania railroad is a fruitful source of trouble to wholesale grocers, commission men, builders and other commercial interests. All have suffered by delays of cars, loss of freight and other ills which a congestion produces. Most of the business men seen yesterday were not disposed to blame the railroads severely, arguing that the blockade was due to unpreparedness. Lack of yard room is the chief cause attributed by business men. The cause alleged by the railroad, lack of motive power, does not generally appeal to the men who were interviewed.

T. C. Jenkins, the wholesale grocer, said the freight congestion was annoying. At this time last year he experienced the same trouble in a minor degree. "At this time of year men in our business are stocking up on goods that they expect to last them well into the spring," said Mr. Jenkins. "This adds to the amount of freight that ordinarily goes over the railroads and of course increases the difficulty resulting from the enormous impetus to business in the last two years.

Faults of Some Consignees.

"I am glad that President Cassatt has come here with the purpose of seeing what he can do to relieve the situation. I understand that it is hard to obtain locomotives and that the manufacturers will not contract to deliver a new engine under a year.

"The fault does not lie entirely with the railroads. Too many consignees delay unloading their cars, until the railroad has sent a second notice. This delay keeps the railroad from having just that many empty cars for shipments."

Capt. W. W. Kerr, of Arbuckles & Co., said "We have had some annoyance, but it might be a good deal worse. Perhaps we have been more fortunate than others. We have a private siding on the Pittsburgh & Western, and manage to get along pretty well. With our flour shipments the conditions are not so satisfactory. We expect certain consignments of that commodity every week, but sometimes they do not arrive for several weeks and then they come all together."

Cars Held for Twenty Days.

At the Iron City Produce Company, of which Senator Charles A. Muehlbronner is the head, it was said that cars of apples had been held out as long as 20 days. Thirty cars of fruit were unloaded the other day at the Standard Ice Company's plant, Mr. Muehlbronner's manager said, and the empty cars remained on the siding from two to three days, indicating, the manager thought, neglect on the part of the railroad to avail itself of cars that were ready to be shipped west to receive further freights.

"There must be something wrong when cars of fruit or produce are out 20 days and more and can't be found," said John Wallace, a commission merchant. "The Pennsylvania railroad seems to have no way of tracing lost cars."

Albert M. Travis, another commission man, said that he thought the railroads were doing as well as could be expected, considering the lack of yard room. "For example," he said, "the produce yard between Eighteenth and Twenty-first streets has a capacity of 250 cars. The railroad company keeps the yard full, promptly removing the cars as they become empty. There are, however, fully 200 cars of fruit and produce on the sidings in Allegheny, and with the produce yard full there seems to be no way to unload them."

"Builders have suffered much annoyance and loss from the freight blockade," said T. J. Hamilton, of Murphy & Hamilton. "We order our lumber from Michigan and the south, expecting it here at a certain time. It does not come and we are then obliged to buy it here. The men we buy from know why we are patronizing them and they put up the price on us."

PITTSBURGH HAMPERED BY THROUGH FREIGHT

Large Shipper Suggests a Cessation of Through Traffic from Chicago to the Seaboard.

A representative of one of the most important shipping interests of Pittsburgh said yesterday:

"We have only three railroads here, the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore & Ohio and the Vanderbilt link. We are the greatest tonnage producing community of the country. Chicago has ten equally as distinct roads carrying its eastbound shipments, yet Chicago does not produce near the tonnage that we do.

"Our three railroads are choking our industries, important to a great ramification of industries elsewhere, while they are contending for the eastbound Chicago business in grain, grain products, meats and cattle. They carry a tremendous freight of this class, destined for the eastern seaboard or points beyond this gateway, right through Pittsburgh, while the district is blockaded with its own delayed freight.

"It would cost the railroads something to drop this Chicago business for a time, but they would be protecting the district which gives them the most revenue. There are enough railroads out of Chicago to carry all its freight east without coming through Pittsburgh. The shipments of grain, cattle and meat through Pittsburgh to the east is not essential to keep the wheels of industry moving, but the activity of our mills is.

"Ask a railroad official to what he attributes the congestion. He will say, to the increased business offered. Get him to tell how much of an increase there is compared with last year, and he will estimate it at, say, 20 per cent. It may not be as great, it may be only 10 per cent; yet you will have in this a confession that the railroads have not prepared themselves with sufficient facilities for meeting an increase from 10 to 20 per cent in the district which they knew would swell its tonnage records this year.

"Let our Pittsburgh roads cut out the shipments of freight through Pittsburgh from Chicago for a time and they will meet the solution of the local problem without throwing our community idle."

RAILROAD IMPROVING HARRISBURG PROPERTY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—Local officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company claim to know nothing of the proposed low grade cut-off from Marysville to the Delaware river to relieve congestion on the main line between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. These officials believe that even if the company has such a line in contemplation it will not impair Harrisburg's importance as a railroad center.

Over $500,000 have recently been spent by the company in improving its yards in this city and thousands more will be expended the next 12 months to increase the number of tracks. Some classification of the Northern Central freight will be done in the proposed new yards at Enola, near Marysville, but the bulk of the Pennsylvania freight handled by the route will be booked through.

Through its purchasing agent, Mr. Beale, the company is negotiating for the purchase of large tracts of land on the west side of the Susquehanna river in the vicinity of Harrisburg. One large farm was purchased today and other pieces of land near Enola will shortly pass into the hands of the company. Mr. Beale is seeking land near New Cumberland, three miles south of Enola. An offer of $40,000 for a farm in that locality owned by Mrs. R. J. Haldeman of this city, a daughter of the late Gen. Cameron, was refused. The company is negotiating for other land in the same locality, but on account of the high prices asked few purchases have been made.

MORE RAILROADERS GET BETTER WAGES

Union Company Will Advance Pay of Employes 10 Per Cent December 1.

Following the example set by other railroads, the Union Railroad Company will increase the wages of its employes. Semi-official announcement was made yesterday. The Union railroad is the terminal system of the Carnegie company's Homestead, Braddock and Duquesne mills and furnaces. It belongs to the United States Steel Corporation.

Officers of the railway say that it has paid the same wages that the Pennsylvania railroad pays. Engineers receive $3 a day and other employes in proportion. The road employs 1,200 men. Much of the tonnage consists of molten iron taken from the blast furnaces to the mills.

The pay roll will be increased $240 a day, or more than $80,000 a year, based on the calculation that the average wage is $2 a day. The advance will take effect on December 1.

THREE FATAL ACCIDENTS.

A Brakeman, an Ice Wagon Driver and a Train Jumper the Victims.

Alexander Coleman, 18 years old, a brakeman employed in the Homestead steel works, died at Mercy hospital last night of injuries received yesterday morning. He was caught between cars.

Frank Lightner, 43 years old, of Station street, while driving his ice wagon, fell under the wheels last evening and was crushed. He was removed to the East End Charity hospital and died an hour later.

In attempting to board a moving freight train on the Panhandle railroad, at Sturgeon last night, John Oppenheimer was crushed to death, and Michael Burke's foot was so badly crushed that amputation was necessary. The remains of the dead man were taken to Steele's morgue at Carnegie. Both men lived at Sturgeon and were well known at that place.

REACHES SING SING BY DEVIOUS ROUTE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Ronald F. Brennen, 22 years old, who rose in two years from the position of an office boy to that of president of a trust company, which he organized, has been sentenced to Sing Sing for 10 years. He was charged with securing money under false pretenses by filling false satisfaction records of mortgages on the property of persons whom he did not even know.

BURGLARS CARRY OFF HIS GASOLINE MOTOR

Wm. Williamson Finds Automobile Stable Door Open and Machine Wrecked.

Burglars eluded the detectives and plain clothes policemen who are patroling the East End and got away with a 300-pound gasolene motor, incidentally wrecking an $1,100 automobile while stealing the engine.

William Williamson, who lives in Lincoln avenue, has a stable in Upland street, where he kept his automobile. On Monday night Williamson took a friend out in his auto and returned to the stable shortly before midnight. He stabled the machine and left, after having assured himself that the door was locked. Last night Mr. Williamson went to the stable again to take out the automobile, but found the vehicle wrecked and the gasolene motor gone.

The thieves opened the door with a crowbar and pried the heavy motor out of the vehicle. They tore off the seat and broke all the rods connecting with the motor.

PRIVATE PIER PLANNED

House to Cost More Than $350,000 Above Ground—Details to Be Prepared in Pittsburgh. Artists to Beautify Grounds.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SALEM, MASS., Nov. 18.—A real estate trade of magnitude has been disclosed by a deed recorded at the local registry by which Mrs. Emily Tyson conveys her estate at Prides Crossing to George L. Allen; also a deed from Mrs. Tyson and others, trustees, to Mr. Allen of adjoining property. Then Mr. Allen has sold the whole to Henry C. Frick, and this deed also has been filed for record.

No consideration is named in the deeds, but it was understood that some 20 years ago, when the house was built by Mrs. Tyson, it cost $75,000. Mr. Frick will tear down this old house, one of the finest on the north shore, and replace it with a magnificent dwelling to cost above the ground $350,000.

The land is worth over $100,000, and with the other property recently acquired by Mr. Frick, will make a final valuation of $600,000. The land will be beautified by landscape artists and a private pier will be constructed on the water front.

The estate is easily in the front rank of those which have made Prides Crossing the successor of Newport, without Newport's garish displays.

The plans for the Frick mansion, it is said, will be prepared at Pittsburgh.

SAUERS LEAVES THE NORTH SIDE MACHINE

Prominent Allegheny Councilman May Be Citizens Candidate for Re-election.

John Sauers, the well-known Federal street hotel proprietor, may be a candidate for re-election to the Allegheny common council from the Fourth ward on the Citizens ticket. Mr. Sauers was closely identified with Recorder J. R. Murphy and ex-Director Robert McAfee, and was regarded as one of the most popular men in the North Side City hall organization. He had an ambition to go the to the legislature, but Samuel C. Grier, the boss of the North Side machine, objected.

Sauers was sacrificed and Councilman John Wagener given the nomination. Sauers feels that he no longer is at home with the City hall crowd, and has decided, if he is a candidate for council again, that he wants to run on the Wyman ticket. He declares that Wyman will easily win the recordership, and will elect with him a majority in both branches of councils.

Allegheny will elect next February members of common and select council and the Citizens recognize the importance of getting control of councils as well as electing the recorder. Since the recent election there has been almost a stampede among former organization councilmen to get on the Citizens city ticket. Dr. E. C. Huselton of the First ward is another one who is making a fight to get the Citizens nomination.

DR. PATTON ON THE BIBLE.

He Says Its Study Carries With It the Proof of Its Truthfulness.

Dr. Francis L. Patton delivered his second lecture in the Third Presbyterian church, Fifth and South Negley avenues, last night. His subject was "The Seat of Authority in Religion." Dr. Patton said that people had every right to examine the Bible critically and that it did not matter who wrote the books of the Bible or when they were written. Whether they were true or not was the main question and one to be sought for by each individual alone. He said in part:

"You cannot say 'I take this Bible,' unless you say you do it for certain reasons. To get these reasons, you must inquire. If that were not the case we might just as well accept the Koran or any other book held in reverence by heathen peoples.

"Whether Moses wrote the book of law or whether Peter wrote the epistles credited to him does not matter in the least. We must realize the wonderful truths, the wonderful prophesies and their fulfillments with which the Bible abounds. We must realize that what is said is true. We must interpret the Bible in the light of the intelligence of today, not in the light of the intelligence of the days of the apostles.

"We find that the seat of authority in religion is in the Bible, and the seat of authority in the Bible can be found in our own intelligence."

THE BEST PIANO PLAYER

Is Acknowledged to Be the Chase & Baker—The Refinement of Mechanical Musical Devices—Sold Only by W. F. Frederick, 633 Smithfield Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The best piano player will cost you no more than the inferior ones offered in such profusion.

To confirm your conviction that the Chase & Baker Piano Player is the superior of all we urge you to see the others and then see the Chase & Baker.

Hundreds have done this and the invariable result has been the selection of the Chase & Baker.

The most rigid comparison will convince the man or woman who has seen all the piano players on the market that the Chase & Baker has no equal, and the points of superiority are numerous.

It is the most sightly and beautiful—the neatest and most ornamental. It is the most easily adjusted as there really is no adjusting about it—it is ready the moment it is placed in front of the piano. It cannot to the least degree injure a piano—can't be made to scar it or mar it or injure its tone. It plays any piano made; can be operated by a child.

The Chase & Baker Piano Player has as distinct and marked individuality as a human being, and is as different and as superior to all other piano players as the finished human performer is different and superior to a beginner. There is a sympathy and feeling about the way it plays that is only possible with human players of highest skill whose whole soul and heart go into the playing.

This is the perfection which has been sought for by makers of mechanical piano players and only obtained when the makers of the Chase & Baker Piano Player, after months of work and experience, finally were satisfied to place on sale the only perfect, the "refinement of all," the Chase & Baker Piano Player.

A notable feature of the Chase & Baker Piano Player is one of great importance—the perfect music rolls. The paper used is special and far better than others. The machinery for making them is of the very latest and has many exclusive devices to ensure perfect results.

Now, do not lose sight of the great feature of the Chase & Baker Piano Player—added to its superiority over all others—it enables you to have perfectly played in your own home all the masterpieces of music, new or old. New pieces, that are successes, operas, or whatever they are, are ready for you here within two weeks from their initial public production. Free exhibitions daily.

MARY WAS INSULTED BY THE PHONOGRAPH.

Mary Fraley of Penn avenue was arraigned yesterday morning before Magistrate McKenna on a charge of disorderly conduct. She had been arrested for entering the store of the Columbia Phonograph Company in Penn avenue Monday and breaking a phonograph. She claimed that she had a right to do so, as the machine was playing a song that was shockingly immoral. She claimed that the words were insulting. She was held pending an investigation of her mental condition.

GLASS PRICES AGREED UPON

Jobbers and Manufacturers Hold Meeting at Columbus.

ALSO DECIDE CONTRACT

Purchase of 450,000 Boxes from Three Companies Satisfactorily Arranged—Quotations to Advance Every 60 Days.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, Nov. 18.—A meeting of representative glass manufacturers and officials of the Window Glass Jobbers' association was held at the Chittenden today. The session was called to arrange the details of a contract between the two sides. A week ago the same men met in Pittsburgh, where the American Window Glass Jobbers' association decided to purchase 450,000 boxes of glass monthly from the American, Independent and Federation companies, the three largest in the country.

The jobbers and companies came to an agreement at midnight. Contracts were made by the jobbers with the manufacturers for 450,000 boxes per month for six months, to be pro-rated according to the output of the factories. The price of glass is to be advanced every 60 days for this period, the rate of advance to be agreed upon between jobbers and manufacturers. The statement was given out that glass would go no lower, but would advance from now on. The reason given for increase in price is that it but keeps pace with advance in labor, material, etc.

Those present were: Window Glass Jobbers' association, William T. Gray, Syracuse, N. Y., president; American Window Glass Company, J. A. Chambers, Pittsburgh, president; William Loeffler, Pittsburgh, second vice president and purchasing agent; T. F. Hart, Muncie, Ind., third vice president; E. T. Phillips, Pittsburgh, secretary; N. T. Depauw, New Albany, Ind., director; S. L. Bodine, Philadelphia, director; Independent Window Glass Company, C. P. Cole, Columbus, president; L. S. Cunningham, vice president, Pittsburgh; J. G. Sayre, secretary, Columbus; T. P. Welch, Falls Creek, Pa., director; Eugene Morenus, Kane, Pa., director; George Camp, Pittsburgh, director; U. G. Baker, Arcadia, Ind., director.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Chambers.

S. P. HUTCHINSON LEAVES THE B. & O.

Pittsburgh Division Superintendent Resigns and New Office Is Created.

E. T. HORN TO COME HERE

Former B. & O. Official, Now With Intercolonial of Canada, Appointed Assistant to General Superintendent at Pittsburgh.

Two changes of much importance on the Baltimore & Ohio at Pittsburgh became known yesterday. The resignation of S. P. Hutchinson, as superintendent of the Pittsburgh division, is one. The other is the appointment of E. T. Horn to the newly-created position of assistant to the general superintendent at Pittsburgh.

The resignation of Mr. Hutchinson is a complete surprise. It has not yet been officially announced, but the present superintendent has announced his intention to give up the position on December 1. There is so far no word as to who his successor will be.

Mr. Hutchinson is the third superintendent at Pittsburgh in two years. John Barron held the position for several years. He was succeeded by T. J. English something over a year ago, and then Mr. Hutchinson was appointed to the place.

Freight Congestion Makes Trouble.

On account of the troubles in the transportation of freight, which have fallen on all the Pittsburgh railroads, and on the Baltimore & Ohio with especial severity, the position is generally admitted to be the most difficult superintendency on the whole system. Mr. Hutchinson's work has been creditable under great difficulties.

When Mr. Hutchinson accepted the position he was vice president and general manager of the El Paso & Southwestern railroad, a new Texas line. He was formerly with the Pennsylvania railroad for many years, advancing by all the steps leading to a superintendency. From January 1, 1899, until April 1, 1900, he was superintendent of the Lewistown division. Then he was made assistant general agent at New York and retained that title until he went with the El Paso road.

Returns to His Old Love.

E. T. Horn, the new assistant to the general superintendent, is an old Baltimore & Ohio official, but comes to Pittsburgh at this time from the Intercolonial railway of Canada, the Dominion government line. On that road he holds the Canadian title of "manager's assistant." His Pittsburgh appointment is effective at once.

Mr. Horn is an expert on yard organization and operation. It was in that capacity that he served the Baltimore & Ohio railroad during the general managership of William M. Greene, now vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern. The purpose of the creation of the new position and the appointment of Mr. Horn is largely connected with the yard troubles which have bothered the Baltimore & Ohio greatly. He is expected to assume active charge of the work this week.

WEST VIRGINIA ACTIVITY.

Companies Organized to Develop Coal and Coke Plants.

The Livengood Coal & Coke Company has been organized by Pittsburghers for large operations in Preston county, W. Va. The company will develop 10,000 acres of coal and plans to reach a production of 5,000 tons daily. Five hundred coke ovens and 150 miners' houses are to be erected. The officers of the company are: S. S. Livengood of Meyersdale, president; Charles Lang of Pittsburgh, vice president; R. Lorentz of Meyersdale, treasurer, and F. X. Weixel of Pittsburgh, secretary.

W. A. Lewis of Pittsburgh and C. J. Poe of Buckhannon, W. Va., head a syndicate which is to organize a company with $1,000,000 capitalization to develop 10,000 acres in Barbour county, W. Va. The company will probably have a coking plant of 300 ovens and erect 200 miners' houses.

Starvation the Only Claimant.

The Humane society yesterday caused the arrest of William Sayers and Charles Ryan of Carnegie, on charges of cruelty to a horse. Sayers sold a horse to Ryan for $20. When Ryan took the brute home and looked it over carefully, he saw that it was worthless. In his anger he put the horse into a grassless lot belonging to Sayers. Neither man would have anything more to do with the animal, and, after spending five days in the barren lot, it died of starvation.

THE WEATHER.

Fair.

A continuance of fair weather, with cool temperature, is promised Pittsburgh and vicinity by the Washington weather bureau. The drop in the temperature in the past two days has made the weather considerably more pleasant. Yesterday's weather was dull and threatening clouds obscured the sun. The maximum temperature at 3 p. m. was 64, and the minimum at 8 p. m. was 54.

The Gazette weather service thermometers at Kaufmann's corner registered:

M'ALEESE'S LATEST MOVE AGAINST ILLEGAL HOUSES.

Police Superintendent McAleese has issued orders to his inspectors to gather evidence against the owners of properties used for immoral and illegal purposes. It was learned yesterday that it is the intention of the superintendent to begin in the outside districts and work into the center of the city. McAleese said that at the proper time he would make arrests.

BODIES OF CHILDREN NOT IN MUCH DEMAND

Indiana Ghouls Mark Graves of Undesirable Subjects With Lumps of Coal.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 18.—Mayor Bookwalter and Rufus Cantrell, the grave robber, had a conference in the grand jury room today. The mayor went to see Cantrell in answer to an appeal from a mother who feared that her son's body had been stolen.

"If what Cantrell told me was true, half of this grave robbing business has not been disclosed," said the mayor.

Minnie Weddell of St. Louis appealed to the mayor to find out whether the body of her son Walter had been stolen from Mount Jackson cemetery. Cantrell immediately recalled the date of the lad's burial and the location of the grave.

"But we did not take that body," said. "It was too small. I could only sell four bodies of children in a year, for the colleges only needed that many."

"Are you sure of this case?" the mayor asked.

"Sure? Well, I should say I am," answered the grave robber. "If you will go to Mount Jackson, you will find a lump of coal at the head of the grave. That is to notify anyone in the business that the body is undesirable. The night after the boy was buried I went to Mount Jackson to get another body. I took the coal along as a marker. It is a sign understood by all grave robbers."

BAD COLORED MAN IS AGAIN IN DIFFICULTY

William Anderson, Who Was Implicated in a Killing, Now Charged With Burglary.

Charged with burglary, William Anderson, colored, 20 years old, of No. 68 Water street, was arrested last night by Detectives George W. Cole and James W. Eagan. He is said to have entered the house of James Nicholson in East Pittsburgh on November 11 and stolen a watch, chain and ring. When arrested these articles were found on him. He said, however, they had been given him by a colored man, whose name he was unable to give the police.

Anderson has been implicated in several other crimes. Last June he confessed to having been one of the trio who killed an Italian near McKees Rocks. With "Philadelphia Kid" and Stewart Jones he was arrested. Anderson turned state's evidence and was liberated after the trial. The other two men were sentenced to 20 years each in the Western penitentiary.

Prior to this crime he is alleged to have been in a diamond robbery that took place in McKees Rocks over a year ago. His partner, John Williams, escaped and was caught in Youngstown, O., while attempting to pawn the diamond. He escaped and was followed to the river by a large crowd. This colored man shot one of the officers in pursuit, and is now awaiting trial for that offense. Andreson confessed last night to having been with Williams when this robbery took place.

A Week's Death Record.

There were 158 deaths in the city last week, the principal causes being: Pneumonia 30, bronchitis 9, typhoid fever 17, diphtheria 7, smallpox 7, consumption 11 and violence 13. During the week there were reported 50 cases of typhoid fever, 24 of scarlet fever, 29 of diphtheria and 23 of smallpox.

BOY SAFE ROBBERS DUE HERE TOMORROW

O'Mara Starts from Milwaukee With Them This Morning—Wilson Penitent.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MILWAUKEE, WIS., Nov. 18.—Detective O'Mara of Pittsburgh arrived here late tonight to take back James J. Wilson and Arthur Orr, the two young men who confessed to looting the Denny estate safe on November 4. The boys were notified today by Chief Janssen that they would start back Wednesday to face the charge of robbery.

Orr is extremely penitent, and says he cannot get to Pittsburgh too soon to confess to his wrongdoings. Wilson is close mouthed, but declares requisition papers are unnecessary. He has had all the excitement that $1,500 can buy, he says, and he, too, is willing to take what the Allegheny courts have to offer.

Wilson says he is a college graduate, and Orr said today that as soon as he gets out of this scrape he would never go wrong again. The police here do not think the young men are criminally disposed, and that this trouble, arrest and probable imprisonment for the crime will be beneficial.

Wilson told Inspector Riemer that it was the longing to "blow" a lot of money that tempted him. He said he earned a fair salary, but that his tastes went far beyond the amount. He takes the blame for planning the robbery, but admits that Orr readily fell in with the suggestions.

Detective O'Mara did not see the youths tonight, but will start tomorrow morning, and it is expected will get into Pittsburgh before daylight Thursday.

MOVEMENT TO ERECT WAR MEMORIAL HALL

Grand Army Committee Confers With the County Commissioners.

A committee of the Grand Army association met the county commissioners yesterday and discussed the memorial hall project.

The committee consisted of Charles F. McKenna, William M. Cramp, H. H. Bengough, R. S. Geyer, J. W. Boyd and Samuel W. Hay. An act of 1895 gives the county commissioners power to set aside a fund for a memorial to the soldiers of the civil war. The matter must be started by a petition, upon which two grand juries must return favorable recommendations, after which the petition must be approved by court. The commissioners then have authority to decide the nature, location and cost of the memorial. Several years ago two grand juries recommended a memorial hall, but the petition did not meet the approval of the late Judge Ewing.

The committee presented to the commissioners yesterday a rough sketch of a memorial. For a cost not exceeding $400,000 it is proposed to erect a building containing a large auditorium, post meeting rooms and a hall for relics. One of the commissioners suggested the Bedford Basin as a site, which was favorably received by the committeemen.

A petition for the memorial hall will be prepared at once and will be presented to the next grand jury.

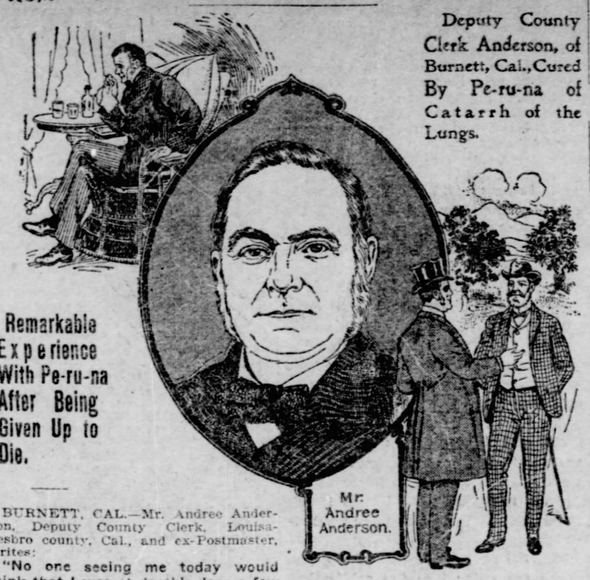
"SAVED FROM AN UNTIMELY GRAVE."

Deputy County Clerk Anderson, of Burnett, Cal., Cured By Pe-ru-na of Catarrh of the Lungs.



Mr. Andree Anderson.

A Remarkable Experience With Pe-ru-na After Being Given Up to Die.

BURNETT, CAL.—Mr. Andree Anderson, Deputy County Clerk, Louisabesbro county, Cal., and ex-Postmaster, writes:

"No one seeing me today would think that I was at death's door a few years ago with pulmonary troubles. I had frequent bleeding from the lungs, my stomach was out of order and when I came here for my health no one thought I would recover.

"My brother in the east had been cured of a very hard cold on the lungs by using Peruna and he wrote me and advised me to try it. I had little faith, but thought I would give it a trial. I noticed a change in my appetite the very first week and found that I soon began to sleep well. Gradually I began to feel better and took on flesh. Recovery was slow for I was so far gone, but after seven months' steady use of Peruna I was my old self once more.

"I now weigh 173 pounds, am in fine health and spirits and have been a well man for two years, thanks to Peruna. It certainly saved me from an untimely grave."—Andree Anderson.

A Congressman's Letter.

Hon. J. H. Huling, ex-Member of Congress from West Virginia, writes: "Peruna as a cure for catarrh and a tonic of most serviceable excellence is beyond all question and has been proven by many of my friends who have been benefited by its use."—J. H. Huling, P. O. address, Charleston, West Virginia.

Consumption Often Caused by Catarrh.

Very few understand thoroughly that consumption is caused by catarrh. It may have begun as catarrh of the head or throat. It silently and gradually creeps down the bronchial tubes to the lungs. After the catarrh has reached the lungs, it sets up the disease known as consumption.

Peruna is not recommended as an infallible cure for consumption. It is not likely that any remedy will cure consumption after the disease is fully established, but Peruna will cure catarrh. It will cure catarrh when it is located in the throat. It will cure catarrh after it has reached the lungs, if it is not put off too long.

Many cases of catarrh of the lungs that have been pronounced consumption and given up to die are cured by Peruna. This happens every day. Like Mr. Anderson of California, many people have been thought to be past recovery and found in Peruna a permanent cure. There are a great many people today who are singing the praises of Peruna that would have been in their graves many years ago had they not discovered Peruna in time to rescue them.

Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio:

"Dear Doctor—I desire to express to you my sincere thanks for the interest you have shown in my case, and for the timely aid and advice which have effected a cure of as bad a case of consumption as could be well imagined.

"Peruna and Manalin have done what thirteen of the best physicians in the country have failed to do. For more than three years I doctored for consumption, and spent thirteen weeks in a Pulmonary Sanitarium at Milwaukee, Wis.; but finding myself growing worse, as a last resort I came west where I was bedfast for many weeks, and the physicians which my husband called gave no hope, but said, 'She cannot possibly live more than a few days.' But thanks to Peruna I fooled them all.

"In an incredibly short time after I began to take Peruna the hemorrhages stopped. I began to mend slowly at first, but the improvement became more marked, and now I can truthfully say that there is not the slightest trace of my old complaint.

"I would have written you a long time ago, but have purposely waited to see if the effect was lasting; and in conclusion I would say, God bless you and keep you with us that you may go on with your work of mercy for many years to come."—Mrs. M. A. Close, Cheyenne, Wyo.

P. S.—"I am going to visit friends in Wisconsin who never expected to see me alive again."

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing the issue of one hundred and forty-seven thousand two hundred and two dollars Brighton road bonds, to pay the cost of grading, paving and curbing of Brighton road, from Washington avenue to the city line.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That an issue of registered bonds in the name of the city of Allegheny to the amount of one hundred forty-seven thousand two hundred and two ($147,202.00) dollars to be designated "Brighton Road Bonds" in accordance with an act of assembly entitled, "An act providing a system whereby cities may pave streets and alleys, pay the cost thereof by the issue of bonds and collect the same from the property benefited, in installments," approved June 12th, 1858, and the same be and is hereby authorized and directed.

Sec. 2. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of one thousand dollars or multiples thereof, payable in five years from October 1st, 1902, with interest thereon at the rate of four per cent per annum, payable semi-annually at the office of the city controller in the city of Allegheny, Pa., and the principal thereof payable at maturity at the same place, said bonds to be signed by the city recorder and treasurer and countersigned by the controller and sealed with the corporate seal of the city, and the proceeds thereof shall be applied exclusively for the payment of the cost of grading, paving and curbing of Brighton road, from Washington avenue to the city line, and to no other purpose whatsoever.

Said bonds to be issued and sold to the sinking fund commission of the city of Allegheny at par.

Sec. 3. Upon the collection of the cost of said grading, paving and curbing of Brighton road in the manner prescribed in the act of assembly aforesaid, the money so received by the city treasurer shall be applied semi-annually to the sinking fund for the payment of the interest and principal at maturity.

Sec. 4. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Common council, properly enough, refused to rush the railroad ordinances through under suspension of the rules, though there is reason to believe the two under discussion are quite satisfactory. Before the matter comes up again members of councils will inspect the proposed routes and satisfy themselves personally that the terms of the ordinances are right. Then they will pass the bills. The caution of councils is commendable, but it must not be exaggerated to make an excuse for unreasonable delay. If inspection reveals any defect by which the city may be injured a proper amendment should be adopted and the ordinance put upon passage. It is necessary that the city should have a fair return for the grants it makes, but beyond that the railroads should be favored in the matter of time, so there may be no useless delay in relieving the embarrassing freight situation.

President Cassatt's visit here at the present time is an earnest of his good intentions toward Pittsburgh, which The Gazette predicted. His control of the Pennsylvania system has been characterized by a broader policy than had prevailed for some years before. His late order advancing the wages of overworked employes was in line with his liberal views upon business matters, and his present personal direction of the work of clearing the freight blockade will be appreciated. Mr. Cassatt is a practical railroad man as well as a man of large affairs, and if an immediate solution of the Pittsburgh problem is possible, he may be expected to find it. If there be a weakness in men, equipment or system, this aggressive engineer-manager is likely to locate it and strengthen it.

When here last spring President Cassatt planned and ordered improvements that will ultimately double the traffic capacity of the great railroads over which he presides. He met the business men of the city and established cordial personal relations likely to be of advantage to both sides. On this visit Mr. Cassatt is dealing with details, some of which may seem trivial, but which are of the utmost importance to Pittsburgh business interests because they affect the prompt movement of supplies for the mills and factories and the shipment of their product and that of the mines. No other president of the Pennsylvania railroad has shown such ready appreciation of the importance of this district to the system. Naturally this interest on his part disposes the people more favorably to prompt action upon the franchises his company seeks and to give him the most liberal treatment consistent with good business policy on the part of the municipal corporation.

As for the Wabash ordinance, it asks so little from the city in return for the benefits that may be conferred that it should be promptly enacted. The Wabash management proposes to bring here a great railroad system that will be useful alike in carrying in raw materials and carrying away finished products. It holds out the best promise for immediate relief from the congestion that has so hampered the Pittsburgh district for two years. The Wabash has paid its way to the city line, has bought the property it needs in the city, and all it asks is permission to enter, assuming without question all damages that may accrue from its construction or operation. To this must be added the sublime confidence the Wabash management has shown in the ultimate judgment of the people of Pittsburgh. While its original ordinance was held up by a combinamic combination, it never hesitated, but went ahead with the work of construction outside of the city, so no time should be lost when the final permission to enter should be granted. That confidence and patience are worthy of their proper reward.

While so much is being done and so much more contemplated for the accommodation of Pittsburgh's tonnage, it must be remembered that all of the proposed improvements will not suffice for the growth of the future. The problem is a progressive one. The Wabash will open new mines and encourage the building of new mills. The demand for Pittsburgh products is pressing and must be met. As an example it was announced yesterday the Carnegie company has broken all records in the construction of a new furnace at the Edgar Thomson plant. This furnace, started a few months ago, is to be put into operation December 5, to turn out 800 tons of pig iron daily. That will mean more hundreds of tons of ore, coke and limestone for the railroads to bring in every day and the hundreds of tons of finished product that must be carried away. There can be no rest for the weary railroads while the tremendous productive energy of this marvelous region continues to multiply at the rate indicated by the building of an 800-ton furnace in six months. The trouble is that this productive energy got a start on the railroads and they are finding it an almost superhuman task to catch up.

River improvement is one means of meeting the future necessities of Pittsburgh productive energy and natural prosperity. It has been much talked about lately and there is a good prospect that something more substantial than talking will be done in the near future. The improvement of the Ohio is an imperative necessity to a large part of the country as well as to Pittsburgh, and the improvement of the Allegheny will be of great benefit to this region. But, as in the consideration of the railroad franchises, the interests of the city must not be overlooked in any scheme of river improvement. What goes over the bridges must be taken into account equally with what goes under them, for be the rivers improved as they may, the traffic upon them can never equal the traffic going over them. They might be improved so as to decrease the traffic over them, without much increasing the traffic upon them, and that is the sort of improvement that is not wanted. Diverse interests appear at times to conflict with each other, but careful inquiry in a fair spirit may usually find means to reconcile and harmonize them. A fair spirit and a broad view must be brought to bear in dealing with the present problems of Pittsburgh and its future development.

This broad view must govern in dealing with the railroad franchises pending before councils; in considering river improvement; in broadening and rendering more useful the thoroughfares of the city; in completing the parks and in creating the Greater Pittsburgh by municipal consolidation and municipal improvements generally. The Pittsburgh district is a good place to make money. It is a good place to live. It can be made better. Its manifest destiny is to become a leading center of education and culture as well as of industry. Toward these objects civic energy needs to be directed unselfishly and untiringly. No narrow policies will suffice. Industrial progress needs facilities for transportation; municipal progress needs proper revenues made available. It is up to the people concerned, and for the best results all interests must act together. Get busy.

COL. GUFFEY AND OTHERS.

Motives for the attacks on Col. Guffey in a certain Philadelphia paper in connection with the failure of the Democratic campaign in Philadelphia are easily discernible. They come from persons who have been unable to oust Republican leaders from control of the Republican organization and whose present wish is to gain control of the Democratic state organization by unhorsing the colonel and placing in the saddle persons who were unsuccessful in their efforts to take control of the last Democratic state convention away from him. It was not to have been expected that former Gov. Pattison would give aid and comfort to this crusade, as the Democrats who are concerned in it are his bitterest political enemies and sought his defeat at Erie and preceding the convention by open attacks and by efforts to cajole the Democratic national committeeman into taming him down. It is, therefore, natural that Pattison prefers Guffey to them at all stages, and it is not a surprise that he comes to the defense of the man who nominated him for governor. There can be no question that Col. Guffey nominated Pattison. It was Guffey's convention and he could have nominated any one he saw fit to nominate. The former governor knows this as well as anyone else. He also knows it is not love for him that inspires the charges that the leader of the Pennsylvania Democracy was not faithful to the Democratic state ticket. These considerations would inspire Pattison, if no others, but we do not question that he is entirely sincere in doing his defense. Col. Guffey had a purpose of his own, of which Pattison was well aware, in furthering the ambition of Pattison to be governor. It is not a secret that he had his eyes on the United States senate. He believed Pattison to be the strongest Democrat in the state, one who could get votes from the opposition and whose strength might win support for local tickets and especially for members of the legislature. The official count justifies his wisdom in making Pattison his nominee, even though results fell far short of hope, and it does not reveal that he did not stand by him. It shows quite the contrary. His candidate ran ahead of his ticket, proving himself thousands of votes stronger than his party. But he was not strong enough to win and he was not strong enough to elect members of the legislature. In this he failed to come up to Guffey's expectations, and his loss was also Guffey's loss. The colonel's interest in Pattison's success being personal as well as general, he would be unlikely to work against their mutual interests. There is no room to doubt that his stake in the result, as well as his party pride and fealty, kept him true to the Democratic state ticket at all stages of the contest. He had nothing to gain and something to lose by a contrary course. As to the efficiency of his party management, that is a question for his party associates. But we doubt the ability to oust him of persons who could not get control of the Republican organization, and we doubt the honesty of men who, when they fail to obtain the control of the machinery of one party address themselves to the task of endeavoring to capture the control of the machinery of another party. Their Catholicity of taste is sufficient to make men who hold to principle for principle's sake view them with suspicion, and their attacks on Guffey are more likely to help than to hurt him.

THE SAMOAN DECREE.

On the face of the facts stated, King Oscar of Sweden, as arbitrator of the Samoan claims differences, could not well have decided other than he did. It appears from the statement made concerning the treaty entered into by England, the United States and Germany, that this country got caught in one of those entangling alliances against which it has been often warned, and that its effort to do the right thing at the right time resulted in claims for damages that are now allowed. That these claims will have to be paid seems certain. The letter of the bond holds us and our agreement to arbitration pledges us in advance to take the prescribed medicine. Germany is the victor, but it is the sort of a victory that brings profit without honor, and while the United States will pay, the incident will be a warning to the state department at Washington to look well to the writings before attaching the necessary signature to future agreements with our Teutonic friends. "If a man fools you once it is his fault; if he fools you twice it is your fault," is the apt saying of a local statesman. If the United States is fooled once in its relations with a foreign power it is thereby forearmed against being fooled a second time. In the Samoan case, as the bill will be a comparatively small one, the experience is worth all it will cost.

The United States, England and Germany made a treaty providing for joint control of Samoa. The chief justice of Samoa decreed that Malietoa was the lawful king. The provisional government of Mataafa had been previously recognized by the consular representatives of the three powers. Each chief was supported by a powerful native party and it was apparent Malietoa could not come into his own under the decree of the court without a fight, and there was a strong presumption that he would be unable to come into it even then. The representatives of the United States and Great Britain proposed to enforce the decree and thereby make short work of the fighting. The representative of Germany would not join them. Then the United States and England jointly enforced the decree. The claim for resulting damages was based on the alleged illegality of American and British joint action under the treaty and the ground is allowed by the arbitrator. It is held by him that—

The Berlin conference aimed to establish a principle that in their dealings with Samoa the powers could proceed only by common accord, and that as the consular representatives of the three powers, by proclamation, had recognized the provisional government of Mataafa, the powers themselves were bound on principles of international good faith to maintain the situation until by common accord they decide to change it.

The ruling is in apparent harmony with what may be termed the statute law of the case. If the treaty of Berlin bound the contracting powers to united action and made no provision for the action of any two of them, as is held by the arbitrator, then the United States and England were outside their contract powers in undertaking to enforce the decree of the chief justice of Samoa. It is reasonable to suppose King Oscar's reading of the treaty is the true one, for it would naturally have been in the mind of each party thereto that provision for majority action in the event of failure to secure united action might result in it being left without a voice by a combination of the two others. The circumstances and the need for action they suggested do not change the text. The letter of the bond apparently did not permit the United States and England to act alone. Therefore their legal responsibility is clear.

But how about the abstract justice of the situation? That does not enter into the arbitration. Unquestionably the German representative should have joined with the representatives of the other powers in enforcing the judicial decree. He was under moral obligation to do so, but the highest written law in the premises did not compel him. There was no power resident anywhere but in his own government to require him to take part in or give consent to the establishment of the de jure ruler of Samoa. Therefore while it is apparent that abstract right was on the side of the United States and England, it is no less apparent that the letter of the law is against them. But Germany does not appear in an enviable light, in spite of its victory, which compels England and this country to pay for damages inflicted in enforcing a decree that Germany was morally bound to aid them to enforce; for, strange as it may appear, it is the refusal of Germany to do its duty in the emergency that arose that gave the claims for damages any standing in court. However, as has been said, the cost will not be great, and the lesson taught is worth the price.

THE SITE CONTROVERSY.

There are well-defined rumors that influential persons who are opposed to using park land for the technical school have been advising Mrs. Schenley to withhold her consent when it is asked. This might have been expected by the advocates of the park site, who should have moved more rapidly toward laying the matter before Mrs. Schenley, thereby anticipating the possible campaign against their project. Even now they should not delay an unnecessary moment in getting their views before the donor of the park lands which they desire to appropriate.

The most unfortunate aspect of this latest development in the technical school site controversy is that it causes bitterness. Pittsburgh ought to be working for the technical school unitedly. Prejudice and selfish desires should not have been allowed to intrude upon this matter. Instead of that the people appear to be breaking up in factions and the energy that should be devoted to procuring a suitable available site bids fair to be wasted by one faction trying to circumvent another. If this policy shall result in losing Mr. Carnegie's generous offer to construct and endow a technological school, of which the city might well be proud, those guilty of the folly should never cease to regret it.

Pittsburgh needs the school. Everybody knows that. Pittsburgh's future depends in great measure upon the technical education of its youth. Great corporations may be able to import chemists, engineers and technologists, but is Pittsburgh content to have the greatest rewards from her great industries go to others than her own sons? That is the real question involved, and it should not be obscured by controversies over a site for a most munificent gift.

LABOR AND THE GUARD.

Uniontown has given fresh impetus to the discussion of the attitude of organized labor toward the National Guard. An employe of a brewery at that place belonged to the Tenth regiment and went with it when it was ordered on duty in the anthracite region. His fellow-employes objected to associating with a guardsman when he returned, and he was dismissed. He asked his captain to give him a discharge from the company, and upon his refusal has applied to Gov. Stone for release from the National Guard in order that he may regain his employment in the brewery.

On this statement of the case, supposing the facts to be accurately set forth, the public can have nothing but contempt for the employer who would discharge a man for doing his duty to the state. It can have no good opinion of the workmen, organized or unorganized, who antagonize the National Guard in that manner. The National Guard is not an enemy of honest labor, but the men who set up the dictum that no workman should belong to the state military organization are enemies of labor and are doing the cause they profess to promote an irreparable injury. Let it be once understood that organized labor as a whole is antagonistic to the existence of a state military organization, and the unions will lose their best members along with the respect of the general public. The Gazette does not believe that organized labor generally holds any such prejudice. It believes the Uniontown, Schenectady and other cases reported are merely sporadic outbreaks. But it is time for the wiser elements to arouse themselves to this insidious way of casting suspicion upon organized labor at large and to take some action to show their disapproval. Unless they do they will surely suffer from unjust suspicion.

Those people who may be inclined to think that President Roosevelt is not as good a shot as in his younger days should remember that he has been blazing away in the Mississippi woods and has so far not wounded a correspondent or an artist.

Night watchmen over in Allegheny who may hereafter discover burglars at work in adjoining property should be provided with the postoffice address of the policeman on the beat so they can telegraph or write them of the occurrence.

In the death of Bishop Hugh Miller Thompson of the diocese of Mississippi one of the most distinguished ecclesiastics of the Protestant Episcopal church and a man with a record for profound scholarship passes away.

Now that the Delaware situation has been taken in hand by the Addicks press agent things may be expected to grow lively in that little neck o' the woods.

It has been officially denied that the one lone bear captured by the president's party really died of a combination of stage fright and old age.

All the same, Grover Cleveland finds the duck business quite exciting enough for him.

THE SHOW'S GLORY IN THE EVENING

Madison Square Garden Is Mostly a Sea of Empty Seats in the Morning.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.

Almost as dismal as the theater at a morning rehearsal, is the great Madison Square garden in the morning. Visitors to the horse show who go there for pleasure seldom appear before the afternoon, and those that do attend a morning session, to see some particular horse judged, are not likely to get there before 10 o'clock. This is all understood by the management, and it arranges its daily programs so that the most interesting contests shall come late in the forenoon, or in the afternoon and evening. The garden is a wilderness of empty seats at 10 o'clock, usually. It was this morning. There was an attempt of bustle on the tanbark, for the judges were looking over horses and having them put through their paces in a steady way that denoted a determination to do an honest day's work. The grooms and stable helpers were as busy as beavers. Each particular horse brought out had his personal peculiarities and vagaries of temper, and it took two men, on an average, to manage one horse. So there was the continuous thud, thud, of hoofs in the clay and tanbark, and the horse-lover, pure and simple, found plenty to while away his time pleasingly. There is nothing inspiring in watching the judging of horses that are well-mannered and not too excitable, unless one is an expert. That is the reason that horses of that kind are compelled to show themselves in the great arena at periods where there is no brilliant company of spectators. There horses are put in a corresponding class as entertainers, as fourth-class vaudeville performers, who are placed on the program at the supper hour, when there are very few people in the theater. They may do a good act, but it is not a popular one, and they must be content to act as mere "fillers." After luncheon the building fills up, and in the evening, when a good dinner has made most people ready for anything in the way of amusement, there is hardly breathing room on the promeade, and one cannot pick out an empty seat among the thousands that slope nearly to the roof on all sides, unless one has exceptionally good eyes. That is the horse show in the evening.

Excitement and Comedy at the Show.

When Sidney J. Halloway allowed himself to be thrown over the head of his hunter at the horse show, digging a hole in the tanbark with his nose, it was felt that he was a public benefactor by infusing an unexpected element of excitement into the proceedings. He was not hurt, except for a few scratches, such as no cross-country rider minds. Hardly had the spectators recovered from this incident and settled down soberly to watching the judging, when they had a bit of comedy to liven them up. It was the appearance in the ring of an old man with long whiskers, who wore the shabby get-up of a comic picture farmer, riding a raw-boned nag. He entered as "Lord Chesterfield." The whole outfit was ridiculously funny, and everyone laughed so heartily that the judges did not give the horse the gate, but allowed him to remain until the class had been judged and dismissed. The show is not without its humors.

Concern for Carnegie.

The report that Andrew Carnegie was suffering from ptomaine poison in London and could not sail for this port tomorrow, as he intended, caused much excitement here. Mr. Carnegie is so well known in this city, personally as by reputation, that his illness was felt to be almost a family trouble by hundreds of New Yorkers who have never exchanged more than a dozen words with the distinguished Pittsburgher in their lives. It is understood that he will sail next week, without fail, unless his sickness should take a serious turn.

A Squally Voyage.

Weather along the coast has been bad of late, according to incoming steamers. In fact, for many miles out in the Atlantic there have been gales which have made the "ocean ferry" rougher than desirable. The Red Star liner Vaderland, which uses the American line slip at the foot of Murray street, was lying out on the river for some time this morning, having just got into the harbor, and it was remarked that she had a very weather-beaten appearance. Her passengers say she encountered head winds all the way across, and that the voyage was anything but pleasant, unless one happened to be an old salt with an inborn love of squally weather.

Faith in the Deutschland.

The big Deutschland will sail from New York tomorrow for Hamburg, via Plymouth and Cherbourg, with a heavy passenger list, showing that people have perfect faith in the stanchness of the great steamer. Among the Pittsburghers aboard will be T. B. Riter.

Kate Greenaway's Art.

Kate Greenaway, known to the world for her quaint and tender pictures of little girls, always had a pencil or brush in her hand, it is said. It seems probable, in view of the large number of her pencil sketches and aquarelles she left behind. Nearly 50 of them are on exhibition at the Keppel gallery in this city. They do not represent her best work, being marked by haste and lack of care; but all are characteristic, and will be picked up by admirers of the charming Kate when the fortnight's exhibition of them is over. Pittsburghers here for the horse show will find the gallery a pleasant place for an hour's quiet study of truly delicate art.

Foxhall Keene's Fighting Blood Up.

Foxhall Keene was kept away from the horse show this morning, to appear as defendant in the stuffy little court of a justice at Oyster Bay. It was the usual thing. Mr. Keene had been detected exceeding the speed limit with his automobile, and he had to pay $10 fine. He was caught by rural detectives who hid behind fences and held a stop watch on him. One of these delectable gentleman said he was paid $50 for this work. Foxhall Keene will appeal the case, declaring that the machine he was using could not run faster than the speed limit.

In Behalf of the Small Boy.

Settlement workers here are determined to try for legislation in Albany to make it illegal for small boys to work. The aim is to corral in school the whole vast army of bootblacks, newsboys, messengers and office boys of tender years that make up an appreciable proportion of the population of this city. Robert Hunter, head worker of the University Settlement, is active in the movement, and he thinks it can be carried to fruition. Perhaps it can, but serious thinking people are wondering what use there will be in turning loose some tens of thousands of new school boys while the schools in New York are not half numerous enough to accommodate those already seeking admission. Still, as Mr. Hunter probably would say, that is only a detail.

Harlem Women Take to Bowling.

While ping-pong, piff-puff and other innocuous pastimes may suit those who like them, the women of Harlem are made of sterner stuff. They go in for bowling. There are so many women's bowling clubs in that part of Greater New York that there is to be a tournament next week in which only women will participate. Many of the women roll a heavy ball with an accuracy that many a man might envy; and the scores said to be made at the club meetings are calculated to take one's breath away. If Pittsburgh bowlers that happen to visit New York will take a car up to Harlem any week night and drop into a woman's bowling alley, they may learn something about the game with which they can create a sensation in Diamond street when they return home.

Philanthropy of a Bishop's Bride.

Mrs. Potter, wife of the bishop, always has been interested in charitable work, but is more active now than ever. As a clergyman's wife, she feels that duty calls her to care for the people whose worldly lot is not so easy as her own. Her latest project is to build a clubhouse on the East Side for the use of working people, to be known as the Edward Clark club, in memory of her late son. The building will cost $55,000. She bought the site last spring for $22,000. There will be a coffee room in the basement and every club luxury, capped by a roof garden. Hardly necessary to say that Mrs. Potter is popular in the Ghetto.

The New Game.

As I have mentioned piff-piff, perhaps it might be well to tell what it is. The game has only just appeared in New York, but promises to be popular very soon. It is played on a table, and the implements are a diminutive pair of bellows and an air ball. At each end of the table is a pair of upstanding goals like those on a football field, but in miniature. The game is to send the ball through your opponent's goals. It may take you all night to do it, or you may be lucky to win in a few minutes. As in ping-pong, the ball does not confine itself to the table. Instead of falling to the floor, however, it is likely to soar to the ceiling, and it is your patient duty to wait till it comes down, and then try to puff it into your adversary's "timber-yard."

The Lateral Handshake.

The horse show "hand-shake" is gravely announced. It means that, when you have the other person's hand firmly in your own, which should be accomplished by a slow and calm pushing forth of your hand straight from the fifth rib, you shake laterally instead of up and down. The idiotic effect of this hand-shake, when done according to strict rule, with an expression of funereal solemnity on the countenances of the two participants, beggars description. I saw a Pittsburgher doing it with a New York woman of the smart set this afternoon, and he told me afterward that as soon as he got away he felt as if he must go and give someone a "slug in the jaw," just to relieve his feelings.

Huge Consumption of Chrysanthemums

Chrysanthemums are getting short in New York—at least, so the florists say. There is the same complaint every year about this time. Football and the horse show create such a tremendous demand for the flower that wagonloads of them are brought into the city every day, only to be used up to the point of scarcity in the evening. Still, if one is willing to pay a fair price, he can generally get all the chrysanthemums he wants, while, if he is not finicky about their freshness, he can buy a large bunch of good-looking blossoms at almost any Broadway street corner for 25 cents.

Alice Roosevelt at the Horse Show.

There was no one at the horse show this afternoon of more general interest than a pretty girl in a blue hat, who sat in one of the boxes, taking a young girl's lively pleasure in all that was going on. She was in the box of James H. Hyde, and many a well-groomed man stopped to speak to her, Alfred G. Vanderbilt being one of them. The young girl was Miss Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the president of the United States. She wore the same costume she had on when she christened Emperor Wilhelm's yacht, the Meteor, some time ago.

Molineux's Domestic Hard Luck.

The Molineux divorce case is much of a surprise and sympathy seems to be with Roland. "Pretty hard luck" is the expression in which sympathy is couched, usually.

Devery's Men on Trial.

Devery's captains, charged with using money illegally in the late election, were on trial today. The "big chief" was not there, but his right-hand man, Peter J. Garvey, was present to watch his interests. It is true that no reflection has been cast on Devery, but the Ninth district is known as his, and by inference any crooked work there could hardly escape besmirching him a little, even though he may have been entirely innocent of it. The proceedings today were not of a startling nature. They were mainly a repetition of accusations already made, and were given as a matter of record. Devery does not believe that anything can be proved against his man, but McCullough, the election superintendent, thinks otherwise. The casual observer is inclined to the opinion that the whole thing will drop through after a decent amount of fuss has been made.

Coney Preparing for Next Summer.

Coney Island hotelkeepers are preparing already for next summer's campaign. So to make sure they can conduct their business they are going through the police court. The authorities are doubtful whether all of the hotels are built in conformity with police regulations, and 15 hotel managers were arrested today to be sacrificed for the rest in a test suit. Old Coney was not a gold mine last summer, on account of the cold weather; but hope springs eternal in the Coney Islanders' breast, and all expect better luck next year. GEORGE C. JENKS.

Those Shaw Buttons.

From the Washington Star.

The assertion is made that Secretary Shaw's vice presidential boom was started because some Iowa man had a lot of campaign buttons made and wanted to get rid of them without loss. It is not the first time a statesman has been embarrassed by mercenary machinations for which he is not responsible.

Patience Rewarded.

From the Franklin News.

After 15 years of patient waiting, the efforts of the sidewalk committee have at last been crowned with success. A new sidewalk has been laid in front of the old Osborn planing mill in Buffalo street, below the Union school building. The residents of that section of the city hereby return thanks.

An Even Start.

From the Philadelphia Press.

They are setting up the claim in behalf of Uncle Joe Cannon that the state of Illinois never had a speaker. Well, the state of Allegheny never had a speaker, either, so in that respect Daboll and Cannon start even.

PERSONALS.

Attorney Rody P. Marshall went to Harrisburg last night, where he will appear before the board of pardons today in the interest of Alexander Killian, who is serving a sentence of 21 years in the Western Penitentiary on the charge of murdering Mrs. Paul Rudert of Tarentum, 13 years ago. Attorney Marshall has newly discovered facts which he will place before the board.

Like the big railroads, the hotels of Pittsburgh are congested. Night after night the hotel managers have been forced to turn persons away. Old customers who had not taken the precaution to wire in advance fared equally with strangers. This congestion is unprecedented in the city.

Secretary J. M. Ryan of the Building Trades council, who was married in New York last Thursday, slipped into Pittsburgh with his bride on Monday night. The members of the council had arranged a reception for him, but he surprised them by turning up at his office yesterday morning.

John Wick, Jr., president of the Ford City China Company, who was in the city yesterday, received word last night that the company had struck a big gasser two miles from Ford City. Mr. Wick at once started for that place. The strike opens up a new territory.

Alderman David McKelvey of Allegheny, who has been very ill for a month, has almost recovered, and was on duty at his office yesterday.

T. J. Foley, assistant to General Manager G. L. Potter of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, is at the Hotel Henry.

John G. Hastings, collector of delinquent taxes for Allegheny, went to Chester, Pa., last night.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Among those at the hotels last night were the following persons from nearby points:

Victoria—S. S. Meek, Coshocton; Paul Allan, Franklin.

Lincoln—C. F. Dickinson, Wheeling; C. D. Bose, Altoona.

Duquesne—A. Bender, Ottawa, O.; Evan O'Neil, Kane; S. S. Morgan, Sharon; S. S. Henne, Titusville; J. H. Weber, Punxsutawney.

Henry—B. F. Overholt, Scottdale; J. L. Friend, Cambridge Springs; W. Artherward, Johnstown; G. B. Reed, Ellwood City; V. Wagener, Wheeling; C. H. Lay, Jr., Oil City.

Griswold—J. T. Wallace, Washington; C. E. Fox, John McDonald, Mt. Morris, Pa.; G. W. Gans, M. Gallagher, Wheeling; Frank M. Holland, Greenville; A. B. Cole, Morgantown; M. Dossa, Akron; F. C. Barnnett, Sykesville, Pa.; J. Kaufman, New Castle.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Mrs. Anna E. Nellis.

Mrs. Anna E. Nellis, widow of Michael Nellis, who died 26 years ago, died last night at her home, No. 1407 Webster avenue, where she lived many years. Mrs. Nellis was 84 years old. She was born in County Derry, Ireland, and came to Pittsburgh in 1847. Outside of a short stay in Allegheny, she lived in Pittsburgh since, nearly all of that time in the Hill district. Mrs. Nellis had been a member of St. Paul's cathedral congregation for 35 years. Until 10 days ago she was attending to her household duties every day. She did not take to her bed until Saturday. Mrs. Nellis is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Robert Crawford, and two sons, John E. and James M. Nellis, the sporting editor of The Gazette. The mother and children had never separated, so that her loss falls heavily upon them.

Bishop Hugh Miller Thompson.

Bishop Hugh Miller Thompson died at Jackson, Miss., yesterday, of cancer of the throat. Since his arrival there from New York, a week ago, he has been sinking rapidly and had made all preparations for the end, which came peacefully while surrounded by his family and friends. He was born in Londonderry, Ireland, in 1830, and came to America with his parents when a child. He was admitted to the Episcopal ministry when 22 years old, and filled several prominent pulpits in Chicago, New York and elsewhere. He was appointed bishop of the diocese of Mississippi in 1886. The funeral has been arranged for Thursday.

Goodman Young Chess.

Goodman Young Chess of Crafton, a prominent farmer of Chartiers valley, died yesterday morning. He had been sick about one year. The deceased is survived by his widow and one child, Mary, aged 20. Interment will be made today at 2 o'clock in the Presbyterian cemetery of Crafton.

Obituary Notes.

Benjamin Grove, aged 81, of Ligonier, is dead of pneumonia.

Frank P. Parker, a postal clerk of Punxsutawney, Pa., died of diphtheria yesterday.

John Bell Bouton, formerly one of the editors of the Cleveland (O.) Plain Dealer, and afterwards for about 30 years an editor and proprietor of the New York Journal of Commerce, died yesterday at his home in Cambridge, Mass., aged 72.

George Harding, aged 76, died in New York on Monday. He was one of the foremost citizens of Philadelphia, where his brother for several years was owner of the Philadelphia Inquirer. He built and for many years owned the Hotel Kaaterskill in the Catskill mountains.

John A. Grier, reaper manufacturer, died yesterday at his residence in Chicago, of pneumonia. He took part in many of the naval battles of the civil war, and after reaching the rank of chief engineer, retired and engaged in the manufacture of reapers. Afterward he went to Philadelphia, and was chief engineer at the mint there.

THE SOLID WEST.

How It Strikes a Newspaper in the Solid South.

From the Memphis Commercial Appeal (Dem.).

Whatever may be the cause of it, there can be no doubt that the solidification of the west has been going on rapidly during the last six years. Not one of the seventeen western states has gone Democratic this year, and thus is the last vestige of Democratic influence wiped out of the west.

It matters not whether this result is due to Mr. Bryan and Bryanism, or whether it is due to some other cause. He may not have produced it; but it is evident at least that he was powerless to avert it. The fact is, however, that the west is now solid for the Republican party. We believe that every one of the seventeen states of that section now has a Republican governor except Montana, and only ten or eleven Democratic congressmen have been elected from that section.

The solid south has elected thirteen Republican congressmen, and has one Republican governor. Solid New England elects five Democrats to congress as against twenty-two Republicans; but there is some excuse for New England remaining loyal to the party that has protected her infant industries for many years. The Democratic party may as well confront the fact that there is a solid west as well as a solid New England against it. It has but little to hope from either section. Connecticut has been known to go Democratic and so has Massachusetts. But if the party is to win in the future its field of labor must embrace the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

The solid west is a hard problem to solve. The southern people find the solid south an incubus, and most persons except the politicians would like a diversification of political results. The negro question is gradually solving itself, and when that result has been reached it will not be undesirable that political contests should be closer, and that the dominant party should be forced to remain on its good behavior or take the consequences.

WITNESS SPOKE UP TO THE COURT

Some Small Stories With a Gleam of Sunshine in Them.

ONE of the prominent lawyers of the city tells this story of an early experience in the courts. At that time he lived in a little town in Southern Virginia, had read law with the "judge" of which every Virginia town boasts at least one, and had been admitted to the bar. It was one of his first cases, and there was one old negro witness whose testimony was worth a great deal, and who had known the young lawyer since his babyhood. He was a very fine specimen of the best type of the "Befo' de wah" uncle, who endeavored to emulate the courtly manner of his master.

Put on the stand, he turned to the young lawyer and began: "Hit's des disaway, Marse John ——" He was interrupted by the young man. "Speak to the court, Uncle Jake," said he indicating the judge presiding.

The old negro began again. "Hit's des dis yer way, like I'se tellin' you ——" but he was interrupted again.

"Speak to the court, Uncle Jake; speak to the court."

The old man turned and looked at the judge. A kindly smile broke over his features and in unctuous tones, and with a flourishing bow, he said distinctly, "Good mawnin', co't. Hopes you is well dis mawnin'." Then he turned again to the lawyer and resumed his testimony.

AN INCIDENT which occurred the other day illustrates the fact that upon little things often depend the important affairs of life, and that unguarded moments are frequently the moments of fate.

A young lady had applied for the position of stenographer with a well-known local firm. So far as could be learned, she was competent in her profession and of good moral character. Inquiries regarding out these matters had been made by the company with which she sought employment, and she was to be interviewed next day by the Great Man who was the head of the concern, and who, in the event of her securing the post, would make the most use of her services.

The night before the day upon which she was to call she went to the theater in company with a young man. In itself this was harmless, but her fate was stalking abroad that evening, and must have been having a disagreement with some other fate, for it was in a very bad humor. It found the young lady in a trolley car and proceeded to overthrow her plans.

Across the car, unknown to her, sat the Great Man whose employment she sought to enter. He knew her, because he had caught sight of her when she filled her application, and narrowly watched her. Suddenly he saw her, while looking right at her companion, open her mouth in a wide, cavernous yawn, to which she gave not so much heed as either to turn away her face or cover her mouth with her hand. As to the latter the Great Man who was watching her is willing to say he would have considered the covering of the open mouth a physical impossibility. But the incident disgusted him, and the next day the yawner was notified that her services would not be needed. It was simply another illustration of the woes that pursue people unable to keep their mouths sh

CHASTISED BY ANGRY FARMERS

Woman's Assailant Roughly Handled by a Mob in Ohio.

ON VERGE OF LYNCHING

Rope Was About His Neck When Officer Interfered—Ridden on a Rail, Thrown Into Creek and Stoned.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FINDLAY, O., Nov. 18.—This afternoon a battered looking individual suffering from a dozen wounds, came running to Moffit, west of this city. He said that he just escaped being lynched and that his name was James Bowers.

It developed that his story was true and that a mob of enraged farmers had accused him of assaulting Mrs. Mary Mott, a respectable widow, who had given him shelter from the storm last night.

About midnight she ran screaming to neighbors. Bowers was soon apprehended, dragged to a tree and a rope was placed around his neck, when the marshal interferred. Then the mob rode him out of town on a rail, threw him into a creek and stoned him for a couple of miles. Bowers will probably die of exposure.

THE SOUTH BUSINESS.

Trade So Heavy That It Cannot Be Handled Promptly.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—President Samuel Spencer of the Southern railway, who has just returned to New York from several weeks spent in the south, said today:

"Business is so heavy in the south that we cannot handle it promptly, and I see no prospect of a diminution. Industrial conditions there are improving all the time."

Mr. Spencer said that he believed the report from the Birmingham (Ala.) district is true, that the mills at Ensley will start soon to turning out from 75 to 100-pound steel rails.

MUSIC IN CIVILIZATION.

Art Lecture by William L. Tomlins of New York.

Carnegie music hall was comfortably filled last night by the audience that assembled to hear the lecture by William L. Tomlins of New York. His talk on the "Higher Life Values of Music" was of unusual merit.

Mr. Tomlins said: "The plane of culture to which a people have mounted can be judged by their music. The advance of civilization has been coincident with the advance in musical education. The wierd strains of discordant notes produced by the savage on his crude instrument, when compared with the volume of melody heard at one of our symphony concerts, shows the vast difference in mentality and culture between the savage and the civilized beings.

"Art is the plaything of civilized nations, and it is in play that happiness is attained. Music is the most popular of arts, as it affords to the greatest multitude the pleasure they seek in art."

DEMAS WANTS JUSTICE.

Seven Men Must Answer for Wrecking His Hotel.

D. J. Demas, proprietor of a Greek hotel at No. 5 Diamond square, which was wrecked by a crowd of young men on election night, made information before Alderman J. W. Walker yesterday charging seven well-known residents of the First ward with being concerned in the affair. The defendants are Patrick Toole, Harry Jacobs, Michael McGuire, Patrick Collins, Nick Andrews, James Connelly and George Chekelas.

According to Demas, they wrecked his hotel. They are also charged with assaulting Demas and several of his friends. All are charged with riot, assault and battery and malicious mischief. Each defendant furnished $1,300 bail bond and waived a hearing for court.

Got His Feet Tangled Up.

If James Garrity, who conducts a general store at the Duquesne mines near Wilkinsburg, had not got tangled up in some harness during a fight Monday night, he might not be the plaintiff in a case against Michael Curren of the same locality, charged with assault and battery before Justice Samuel Creelman of Wilkinsburg. Curren refused to leave Garrity's store at closing up time and a fight followed. Garrity, who is an old soldier, was holding his own until he got tangled up in some harness hanging in the store. It was then that Curren got in his work. Curren has not yet been arrested.

PASSENGER OFFICIALS HEAR CASE OF LAKE ERIE'S $13 BOSTON RATE

One of the most interesting cases ever heard in connection with Pittsburgh passenger traffic was argued in this city yesterday before Commissioner F. C. Donald of the Central Passenger association. The case was the admission of the $13 rate of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie from Pittsburgh to Boston to the Pittsburgh rate-sheet. The decision of the arbitrators was reserved. Commissioner Farmer left last night for New York and the agreement will be mailed from there today. It is said that the rate will not be admitted. Mr. Donald would not speak on the matter last night.

Those present at the hearing were Passenger Traffic Manager D. B. Martin, General Passenger Agent C. W. Bassett of Baltimore and General Passenger Agent B. N. Austin of Chicago, all of the Baltimore & Ohio system, representing that road as the complainants in the case; General Passenger Agent L. A. Robison of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, who defended the rate; Frank Van Dusen, chief assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, chairman of the Pittsburgh passenger committee; Chief Clerk Pyle of the general passenger agent's office of the Pennsylvania railroad and Chief Clerk Woodman of the general passenger agent's office of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh.

After the hearing the visiting railroad men were the guests of Mr. Robison at luncheon at the Lake Erie terminal, and were shown through the station and general office building.

Last night Messrs. Martin, Austin, Van Dusen and Donald left for Cincinnati over the Baltimore & Ohio. In that city today there is to be another hearing on the Cleveland-Cincinnati-Jacksonville-Richmond case. This was to have been heard in Pittsburgh today, but Warren J. Lynch, general passenger agent of the Big Four, the aggressive line in the case, was unable to be here. Mr. Bassett returned to Baltimore last evening.

WILL EXCHANGE IN 1903.

Eastern Reports State Ante-Pass Agreement Will End With the Year.

Eastern reports state positively that the anti-exchange pass agreement in effect during 1902 will not be in effect in 1903. No matter is followed with more interest by railroad men, for the question is of much importance to them.

It is a significant fact that President W. B. Truesdale of the Lackawanna is one of the hardest workers for the annulment of the present agreement when its first year elapses. His reputed activity last year in securing agreement to the anti-pass rule was the cause of a concerted movement among the traffic agents to divert business from that line. The early announcement of President Loree of the Baltimore & Ohio that that railroad would not issue exchange passes, also proved a costly affair.

On top of all the unpleasantness, it has been discovered that the rule has been impossible of enforcement, and experience with it, even so far as it was enforced, proves that it was not worth the trouble.

TONS OF RAILS USED.

B. & O.'s Annual Report Shows 58,852 Tons Laid—Other Interesting Items.

The annual report of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad contains many items of interest showing the growth of this system during the most prosperous year of its history. No less than 58,582 tons of rails of 85 to 100 pounds to the yard were laid, and 1,636,353 cross ties were laid.

There have been added to the road during the year 34 miles of main track, 72 miles of second track and 10 miles of third track. Of the track 834 miles have been rehalliasted with stone during the year. Extra large expenditures have been made for the improvement of the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling, now a part of the Cleveland division. This is now nearly finished.

INCREASE IN FREIGHT CARS.

Remarkable Growth of Railroad Equipment from 1897 to 1901.

The interstate commerce commission has just issued a significant series of comparisons between the equipment of railroads in cars and locomotives in 1897, and in 1901. The statement shows an increase of 3,598 locomotives, a gain of 2,343 passenger cars and of 242 freight cars.

An interesting point which the report misses is the increase in the average capacity of cars. In 1897 the Pressed Steel Car Company of Pittsburgh and the other manufacturers of large capacity cars had just begun to affect the car supply in general. Since then the capacity of the average car has risen from about 40,000 pounds to about 70,000. It is safe to say that the 242,598 new freight cars shown in the report are the equivalent of 350,000 of the average cars of the earlier year.

The table gives other interesting statistics as follows:

	1901.	1897
Locomotives per 1,000 miles	202	196
Passenger cars per 1,000 miles	184	183
Freight cars per 1,00 miles	7,488	6,606
Passengers per passenger locomotive	59,651	48,861
Passenger miles per passenger locomotive	1,704,005	1,223,614
Tons carried per freight locomotive	47,692	36,362
Tons miles per freight locomotive	6,439,736	4,664,135
Passenger cars per 1,000,000 passengers	59	69
Freight cars per 1,000 tons of freight	1,344	1,647
Number of locomotives	39,584	35,986
Number of passenger service cars	33,969	33,626
Number of freight service cars	1,464,328	1,221,730

Pennsy Plans New Cut-Off.

Pittsburgh and Cumberland are to be linked together more closely by the Pennsylvania than at present. The Pennsylvania plans to build a new cutoff from Henrietta, on the Martinsburg branch, to a point on the Bedford division near Mt. Dallas. Freight from Pittsburgh to points along the Cumberland & Pennsylvania will then go via Cresson and over the cutoff, and not be forced to go the present roundsabout route through Altoona. This is still more important as a westbound freight route, the Cumberland region originating more freight than it receives. The new route will prevent also, to some extent, the too great use of the Altoona yards, as these yards will be relieved of this business by the cutoff.

Railroad Notes.

The McKees Rocks shops of the Lake Erie are building a new private car for the use of the general superintendent and the general freight and passenger agents of the road.

Raymond B. Jones, city passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, is acting as district passenger agent during the absence of J. K. Dillon on a western vacation trip.

D. S. Wilder, division passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio at Columbus, has been elected chairman of the Columbus passenger committee. He succeeds R. A. Jaynes, formerly general passenger agent of the Columbus, Sandusky & Hocking railroad.

Paul Gruber, commercial agent of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas at Pittsburgh, announces that the new line of that system from Stevens, I. T., to Bartlettsville, I. T., has been so far completed that trains can be run from Wana, Dewey and Bartlettsville.

J. H. P. Hughart, general manager of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad, who came into Pittsburgh in his private car yesterday to confer with President Cassett and other officials of the Pennsylvania railroad, will leave the city today. Mr. Hughart occupied his private car last night.

SEARCH FOR CORNER STONE.

Relic May Be Found by Removal of State Building.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—George F. Payne & Co. of Philadelphia, contractors for the new $4,000,000 capitol, will tomorrow begin tearing down the old internal affairs building to make room for the south wing of the main building. Mr. Payne has instructed his workmen to keep a sharp lookout for the corner stones of the old department buildings, and if found they will be turned over to the state capitol commission.

There are no public records of any corner stone having been placed in either the internal affairs building or the old executive building and it may be that there are none. As these buildings were erected in 1810, and the old capitol not until 1820, it is thought the corner stones were placed in the department buildings.

FOUND IN WOODSHED WITH HER THROAT CUT

It Is Alleged That Mrs. Benjamin Bernstein of Duquesne, Tried to Kill Herself

Mrs. Benjamin Bernstein, 28 years old, was found yesterday morning in a wood shed in the rear of her home in Duquesne, with her throat badly cut. She was removed to the McKeesport hospital, where it is said she will probably not recover.

Mrs. Bernstein's husband keeps a grocery store and lives over the store. He arose at 6 o'clock yesterday morning and, missing his wife, instituted a search for her. She was not in the house, and it was not until 9 o'clock, three hours later, that someone thought of going to the wood shed.

When Mrs. Bernstein was found she was asked what she had cut herself with, but she did not reply to that question, merely moaning that she wanted to die. A search of the yard and wood shed was made, but the instrument with which she is supposed to have wounded herself could not be found. The family said Mrs. Bernstein had been ill and had expressed the fear that she could not recover. She had not, however, ever threatened to take her life.

A PLUCKY WOMAN.

Took Revolver from Man Who Intended to Shoot Her Husband.

Mrs. Johanna Schoner appeared before Justice Engle of McKees Rocks and made information charging Vassilio Keleman with disorderly conduct. She alleged that last Saturday night the defendant, who was boarding with her, came home intoxicated and tried to start a fight with her husband, Mike Schoner. Vassilio drew a revolver.

Mrs. Schoner ran between the men and after a fierce fight succeeded in wresting the weapon from Vassilio. He was ejected from the house and on Monday Mrs. Schoner heard that he had said he was going to get another gun and shoot her. Thereupon she had him arrested.

Reading Also Raises Wages.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—The Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company has issued a circular to heads of departments ordering the equalization of wage of employes with those of other companies. The increase will not take the form of a 10 per cent advance all around, as was the case of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for the reason, it is said, that many Reading employes are now receiving higher salaries than those paid by the Pennsylvania.

EVERY VOTER IS TO BE REGISTERED

County Commissioners Will Give Especial Instructions to Assessors.

The registration for the February election will no doubt be the largest in the history of the county. Especial effort will be made to get every elector in the county in a position to cast a vote.

The registration books will go into the hands of the register assessors next Monday. For the first time in many years the county commissioners will issue instructions to each of the assessors. These officials will be instructed to see that in Pittsburgh and Allegheny especially the names of all eligibles are put on the books.

The Citizens and Democratic organizations will work with the assessors. In the past it has been customary to have to appeal to the courts to have names put on the registry and on election day electors have to make affidavit to their residence. In order to avoid this the workers in the two organizations will see that every one in their district is on the list. This fall there were 85,000 registered voters in Pittsburgh, but the indications are that the lists for February will show a large increase.

"Before using your Balm I had not taken a breath through my nose for a month or more. Also had sores in my nose during this time; was so deaf in both ears that I could not hear; my eyes were so bloodshot that they looked as though they had been hurt. After four days' use of your Balm I can hear, breathe freely and sleep with my mouth closed, and the sores in my nose are all healed. Your Catarrh Balm has worked like a charm in my case." M. Mary M. Klie, Riley Center, Mich.

Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm is for sale by druggists for 50c per jar.

WANT TO ELECT E. J. FRAUENHEIM

Some Anti-Fusion Democrats Trying to Have Him Named for Recorder.

PLAN IS TO MAKE A DEAL

There are a number of Democrats who will try to prevent fusion next spring. Their plan is to force the nomination of E. J. Frauenheim for recorder, and then endeavor to make a deal with the Flinnites. Each day this program is being struggled with, but the promoters are finding many obstacles in the way.

The plan of the Democrats who want a straight ticket is to hold a nominating convention prior to the one held by the Citizens. To successfully carry out a program of this kind it would be necessary to have such Democrats as Col. J. M. Guffey, George W. Guthrie, W. J. Brennen, City Controller John B. Larkin and numerous others friendly to the scheme. So far there is nothing to indicate that these men are inclined to move with the haste necessary to carry out the program.

Mr. Guthrie is chairman of the Democratic city committee. In order to hold early primaries it would be apparent that his co-operation would have to be secured. While there are some Democrats who pretend to say that Col. Guffey does not have a voice in local matters, it has been demonstrated with considerable regularity that the procession does not move until he gives the word.

They Want Jobs.

Many of the Democrats who are shouting for Frauenheim are free to say that they think it is possible to elect a Democrat recorder and secure control of about 75 per cent of the offices. They figure that the entire Democratic vote can be held for Frauenheim and by dealing with William Flinn he can deliver enough of the old organization to defeat the Citizens ticket. What ground they have for claiming that Flinn will deal they do not reveal. The idea of George W. Guthrie making a deal with William Flinn is ridiculed by the friends of the former.

The Frauenheim boom was started largely by Charles A. Fagan, Timothy O'Leary and other persons connected with the Pittsburgh Brewing Company, in which Frauenheim is an official. Fagan has requested a number of Democrats to become delegates in their district for the brewing company's candidate. Frauenheim says that if he were to consult his own inclinations he would not think of becoming a candidate for recorder. He adds that he believes the Democrats have a chance of a life time to capture the recordership. At present he is not ready to announce whether or not he will allow the use of his name. In the meantime the interests back of him and the Democrats who believe that they have an opportunity of getting on the payroll, are whooping things up for Frauenheim. While this is going on the men who control the machinery of the Democratic party are saying nothing. They will have to be consulted before the program is completed.

Would Hasten Harmony.

There has been much talk of harmony in the Republican party. There is probably nothing which would hasten reconciliation more than for the Democrats to put up a straight ticket. There are hundreds of Republicans in the old organization who would not go to the support of Frauenheim. They are ready to vote for any representative citizen and business man nominated on the Citizens ticket. In return they simply want the assurance that they will receive fair treatment. The forces favorable to party unity are receiving recruits each day.

James G. Wyman has issued a statement denying the published report of yesterday that he had made a deal with Allegheny city hall. According to the terms he was to retain certain officials in return for the support of the North Side machine. "The statement is untrue in every sense of the word," said he. "I have made no deals in the past nor do I intend to in the future. Unless I can be elected without promises to any one, except to give the people good government, I do not want the position. I want to enter the office a free man."

Francis J. Torrance denies that he is a harmony candidate for recorder of Allegheny. He says that he will not permit the use of his name.

Bazar in Wilkinsburg.

The annual bazar under the auspices and for the benefit of St. James' Roman Catholic church, Wilkinsburg, began in Penn hall, Wilkinsburg, last evening, and will continue until tonight. The affair was one of the largest of the kind ever given in the borough, and was liberally patronized. Beside the Rev. A. A. Lambing, LL. D., pastor of the church, and the Rev. William J. McMullen, assistant pastor, those who contributed to the success of the function were the women and men of the church, who comprised the various committees. The officers of the bazar were: Mrs. Willis McCook, president; Mrs. James Hughes, vice president; the Rev. William J. McMullen, treasurer. The committees were made up as follows:

Fancy work booth—Mrs. McCook, Mrs. L. W. Nagley, Mrs. John Griffith, Mrs. James Murphy, Mrs. Charles Wymond, Mrs. M. Fitzgerald, Miss Crease, Miss Murphy, Mrs. Ledlie Groniger, Mrs. Kennedy.

Refreshments—Mrs. M. J. Kennedy, Mrs. M. M. Cushing, Mrs. Arthur Flanigan, Mrs. Featherstone, Mrs. Holzen, Mrs. Shaughnessey, Mrs. Joseph A. Becker, Miss Maud Snyder, Miss Dora Linderman, Mrs. Kerr.

Floral booth—Mrs. James Hughes, the Misses Hughes, Miss Celia Knuff, Miss Constance McGann.

Candy booth—Mrs. A. D. Selheimer, Mrs. Anna Klemm, Mrs. Joseph Vogel.

Fish pond—Miss May Corboy, Miss Bessie Doran, Miss May Doran, Miss Alice McCallen.

Fortune telling—The Misses Hughes.

Cherry tree—Miss Eva Goodyear, Miss Mary Milcairn, Miss Jeannette Graham.

The floor committee consisted of the members of the ushers' society, of which Thomas McDonald is chairman. The members of the C. M. B. A. society of the church acted as the euchre committee, of which M. M. Cushing was chairman.

SOCIETY

MRS. EDWARD T. BOTSFORD'S tea yesterday afternoon in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. James Edwin Whiteney of Louisville, Ky., was a pleasant social affair. Mrs. Botsford entertained at her home in the Thomas boulevard, and her guests included the acquaintances Mrs. Whiteney has made during her visit of a couple of weeks in Pittsburgh. It was intended as a farewell entertainment, but Mrs. Whiteney, who had expected to leave tomorrow, will remain until Monday. Her husband, who is to accompany her home, is detained in New York on business until the first of next week.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Botsford received, with her guest of honor, in her pretty drawing room and was assisted by Mrs. Frank Moore, Mrs. James Botsford, Mrs. Edwin K. Morse, Mrs. A. M. Imbrie, Mrs. W. T. Dunn, the Misses Maple and Mrs. William Y. Brady. The decorations were in yellow, yellow chrysanthemums and palms appearing in the hall, while the flowers were arranged unconventionally in the drawing room. In the dining-room yellow chrysanthemums composed the decorations of the tea table. Mrs. Whiteney has been the guest of honor at a number of pretty and informal entertainments since her arrival, one of the first being Mrs. Frank Moor's tea last week at "Glen Craigie," Braddock road.

Miss Solomon's Debut.

Mr. and Mrs. Kaskel Solomon gave a brilliant ball last evening, at the Concordia club, in Stockton avenue, Allegheny, at which they introduced their eldest daughter, Miss Gertrude Solomon. It was the first of the balls which will be given this season at the club house. The interior was transformed by its decorations of palms and ferns, feathery asparagus and smilax, into a tropical fairyland. Large chrysanthemums appeared in the reception rooms and the supper tables on the lower floor were decorated with chrysanthemums and roses. Mrs. Solomon and her daughter received in the reception rooms, at the left of the entrance where the high mantel was banked with small maidenhair ferns and foliage plants, while tall vases held clusters of chrysanthemums. Standing with them were Miss Haan of New York and Miss Rothschild of Savannah, Ga., who are house guests of the debutante.

Mrs. Solomon wore a rich gown of black lace with handsome jewels and her daughter appeared in a delicate white lace gown and carried an immense bouquet of white roses. Miss Haan also wore a white lace gown and Miss Rothschild wore an artistic costume of pink crepe de chine. In the library, across the hall, small plants surmounted the low bookcases and in the hall a particularly beautiful effect was secured by the vines which clambered over the banisters of the curving oaken staircase. In the ball room, where the dancing continued until the early morning hours, tropical plants were massed against the delicate white and rose-pink background while vines, smilax and asparagus hung over the railing of the graceful gallery, one of the most charming architectural features of the room.

McElroy—Thomas.

The wedding of Miss Edith B. McElroy and Charles R. Thomas was quietly solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride, in Walnut street. The ceremony was simply conducted because of the death, five months ago, of the bride's father. The Rev. D. L. Ferris, the assistant rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, East End, officiated. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lois McElroy, as maid of honor, and William Harvey Thomas, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. The bride wore a wedding gown of white crepe de chine over white satin, with a veil of tulle and carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor wore white mull and also carried flowers. After the supper Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left for a short wedding trip. They will return to the bride's home in Walnut street, to live, after coming back to Pittsburgh. The only out-of-town guest present at the wedding last evening was Miss Snyder of Minneapolis.

St. Brigid's Tea Party.

The annual tea party given by the members of St. Brigid's Roman Catholic church, was held last evening at Kenwood lawn. The reception rooms and dancing pavilion were filled with people throughout the evening. Several pretty booths were erected in the house, the five long supper tables were decorated with flowers and surrounded by people, one of the attractive features of the affair. The dancing pavilion was filled with younger people. The chairmen of committees included the following: Dining room, J. Fitzpatrick; tables, Mrs. Charles Hannon; table Nos. 2 and 3, Mrs. James Donnelly and Mrs. M. Pewtill; tables Nos. 4 and 5, Mrs. James Pender and Mrs. McMahon; flower booth, the Young Ladies' Sodality; lemonade, Miss Ida McClosky; cloak room, John Whitney; dancing, Joseph White; euchre, D. F. Crawford; door, M. Purtill, and cashier, Lewis Weinerskirsh.

Drawing-room Entertainment.

The drawing room entertainment which will be given next Monday afternoon, November 24, at the home of Mrs. Wenman A. Lewis for the benefit of the Public Wash House and Bath, will be a very enjoyable affair. Robert Pigott will entertain with song and story, and the remainder of the afternoon will be marked by pleasant social features within the handsome house.

The patronesses will be Mrs. James Howard Park, Mrs. James J. Vandergrift, Mrs. James W. Brown, Mrs. John C. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Lee S. Smith, Mrs. John G. Holmes, Mrs. P. D. Perchmont, Mrs. Brenneman and Mrs. Edward H. Utley.

Handsome at Home.

A very delightful entertainment yesterday was the reception from 3 until 5 o'clock given by Mrs. Samuel McCleery at her home in Quaker Valley. Three hundred invitations were issued and about 200 guests were present. Receiving with Mrs. McCleery were her daughters, Mrs. Henry A. Davis, Mrs. Frank W. McCleery, Mrs. R. C. Wrenshall and Mrs. F. I. Stoner. The aids were Mrs. John Richardson, Mrs. Caroline Duncan, Mrs. William McD. Drave, Mrs. Edward Agnew, Miss Agnew, Miss Eliza Semple and Miss Nellie Drave. Yellow chrysanthemums were used exclusively in the decorations.

Debutantes at the Concordia Club.

The social circles which center about the Concordia club in Allegheny, will have several brilliant young debutantes this season. They come from some of the most representative of the Jewish families and will be introduced at balls to be given later in the season.

The first to make her debut was Miss Gertrude Solomon, who came out last night. Among the others will be Miss Edna Klein, Miss Daisy Sunstein, Miss Edna Kerngood, Miss Charlotte Kornbium, Miss Elsie Trauerman and Miss Irene Kamm.

Mrs. Alden's Luncheon.

The handsome little luncheon given by Mrs. Frank Alden at her home in Shields yesterday afternoon was the third in a series of entertainments which she has been giving during the past two weeks. Covers were laid for eight. There was no honor guest. English violets and white roses were the decorations. Beside the hostess those at the luncheon were: Mrs. William Walker, Mrs. Charles McKnight, Mrs. Robert Wardrop, Miss Elizabeth Love, Mrs. R. C. Wrenshall, Mrs. H. O. Wrass and Miss Stewart.

Church Women Entertain.

The women of the Homestead Presbyterian church will this evening hold a bazaar and supper in Steenson's hall that will continue the remainder of the week. It will be under the direction of Mrs. R. C. McCaslin, president and manager of the bazaar; Mrs. D. R. McClure, secretary; Mr. M. D. McClure, treasurehr, and Mrs. James Jamison, Mrs. C. W. Taylor and Mrs. William Patton.

Coming on for the Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrows Sloan left Philadelphia last evening, arriving in Pittsburgh this morning, for the Walton-Childs wedding this afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Sloan will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Park Painter at their home in Ridge avenue. They terminated their wedding trip a few days ago and are settled in their new home in Philadelphia. They will remain in Pittsburgh only two or three days, before going east again, as Mr. Sloan must return to his business.

Young People's Church Bazar.

The Young People's society of the Park Avenue Presbyterian church will hold a bazaar in the lecture room of the church, Park avenue and Luna street, on Friday evening. The following committees have charge: Zu Zu—Ernest Foster, Press McChesney, Will Strain, Leslie Adams, Albert Barnett, Edwin Stauffer. Pies and cakes—Florence Woolslars, Agnes Porter, Edna Walters, Christine Freedman, Edna Beaver, Mary Foster, Regena Gordon. Lemonade—Harry Watson, Irene Cardale, Helen Quinn, Florence Maddock, Raymond McLaren, Jean Miller, Nanna Duff, Vinnie King. Commonsense fancy work and dolls—Mrs. W. A. Means, Alice Carpenter, Lillian Woolslare, Phyllis Martin, Mary Mulholland, Millie Sheridan, Margaret Chalfant. Ice cream—Emma Quinn, Ruby King, Gertrude Porter, Ida Jones, Agnes Woolslare, Janet McLaren, Elizabeth Mellwain, Fern Moore. Candy and flowers—Mary McLaren, Agnes Kepple, Mrs. E. C. Chalfant, Lida Baers, Elsie Foster, Carrie Gilbert, Myrtle Rugh. Cloak room—Wyman Eaton. Doorkeepers—Sam Fritz, Stewart McLaren. Music—W. A. Means.

Some Future Social Affairs.

Mrs. W. H. Donner will give a small informal tea on Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Bancroft of Chicago.

Mrs. Thomas W. Fitch of Maple avenue, Sewickley, will give a dinner today for Miss Myra Murdock and Percy M. Bishop, whose wedding takes place next week.

Miss Lotta Lyon of Bank street, Sewickley, will give a luncheon in honor of Miss Hortense E. Watts and Miss Elizabeth Snow, Miss Watts' house guest from Greenfield, Mass., this afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. Frank Smith of Beaver street, Sewickley, will entertain the Entre Nous, a fancy work club of the East End, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Kaskel Solomon will give a whist party tomorrow afternoon, at the Concordia club, in honor of out-of-town matrons visiting in the city, including her sister, Mrs. M. Berk of St. Louis.

Rehearsal and Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., gave a dinner last evening in honor of their son, James Harold Childs, and his bride-elect, Miss Alice Walton. The guests included the members of the bridal party. Dinner was given at the Childs residence in Shadyside, and followed the wedding rehearsal. The attendants will be Mrs. James Wood, who will be matron of honor; Mrs. Burrows Sloan, Miss Evans of Morristown, N. J.; Miss Martha Dalzell, Miss Marion Chambers, Miss Rebecca Darlington, Miss Madeleine Laughlin, Miss Gertrude Childs and Miss Edna Johnson, the bridesmaids; Clinton L. Childs, the best man, and the ushers, Thomas McGinley, Southard Hay, J. Ramsey Speer, Henderson Gilbert of Harrisburg, Charles Foster of Philadelphia, William Day of Indianapolis, Lawrence Butler of Detroit and Reginald Bolles of Boston.

In the Boxes at the Horse Show.

Pittsburgh is sending many representatives on to New York for the horse show in Madison Square garden. Among the box holders are Alexander R. Peacock, who left the city last week; George W. Darr, who with his wife is living in New York at present, and James Gayley, another of the Carnegie steel men who now makes his home in New York city. Mr. and Mrs. Peacock are entertaining their friends in their box. Mr. and Mrs. Darr, Miss Darr and their children, Miss Alice, Miss Catherine and James Park Verner, are now in New York for the remainder of the week. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Mueller of Bellefield, and Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Hartje of Shadyside, are now in New York. Mr. and Mrs. John P. Knable left on Sunday night to spend the week in New York.

Will Wed Today.

The wedding of Miss Adele Greiner, daughter of Mrs. Louise Greiner of St. Louis, and George Tanner Sipe of Pittsburgh, will take place at the home of the bride's mother, No. 3508 Manchester avenue, St. Louis, at 6:30 o'clock this evening. Cards enclosed with the wedding invitations announce at home days as Tuesdays, after January 1, at their new residence, No. 343 Fairmont avenue, East End. Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sipe of this city, parents of the bridegroom, will be among the wedding guests.

Powers—Moser.

Miss Nora Powers, daughter of John Powers of No. 405 Fifth avenue, Homestead, and Albert Moser of the South Side, were wedded yesterday at 4 o'clock in the German Catholic church rectory on the South Side. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. E. Busch. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Jessie Powers and the groom by his brother, Joseph Moser. After a wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents in Homestead last evening, the couple left on an eastern trip.

Reception in Beaver.

One of the largest and most daintily appointed social affairs ever given in Beaver county was the reception given in Beaver yesterday afternoon by Mrs. W. A. Laird and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. F. H. Laird. There were guests present from Pittsburgh, Allegheny, Sewickley, New York and all the Beaver valley towns. The house was beautifully decorated with tropical plants and flowers. Dainty refreshments were served. Fully 300 guests were present.

The Tuesday Musical Club.

The Tuesday Musical club held its regular fortnightly meeting yesterday afternoon at "The Maples." The musical program was of exceptional interest. Among those who took part were Mrs. Lawrence Litchfield, Miss Lewis, Miss Jane Lang, Mrs. Liggett, Mrs. Lantz, Miss Eva Lippa, Miss Steinert, Miss Goff and Miss McLean. The work of the choral class is one of the prominent features of the programs of the club.

Change in Program.

John W. Beatty, director of the Carnegie art galleries, was unable to attend the meeting of the Lawrenceville New Century club yesterday afternoon, and his talk on the paintings represented in the loan exhibition was postponed until January 20. Miss Elizabeth Cory gave an interesting informal talk on the palaces and parks of London.

Golden Wedding in Butler County.

The Rev. John M. Moore, pastor of the First Baptist church, Wilkinsburg, will leave Friday for Butler county on a pleasant mission. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Moore, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday, and it is expected that their five children, 28 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren will all be present.

Art and Poetry.

At the meeting of the Colonial club in the parlors of the Hotel Henry yesterday, Mrs. C. E. Locke was the leader and among the subjects presented were the following: "Robert Burns," Mrs. Locke; "Albrecht," Miss Lizzie Weaver; reading from Longfellow's "Nuremberg," Mrs. J. A. Moore, and from the "Cobbler of Hagenau," Miss Boyle.

Sterling—Tolby.

The marriage of Charles Tolby of Allegheny and Miss Adelaide Sterling of Lisbon, O., took place in the latter city yesterday. The Rev. A. W. Lytle of the United Presbyterian church, officiated.

Notes of Society.

The Tuesday Night Euchre club of Sewickley met yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. L. H. Blair, in Bank street.

The Sewickley Valley Whist club held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Irwin, at Edgeworth.

Branch No. 78, C. M. B. A., will give a reception and dance in Braun's auditorium on Thanksgiving night, November 27.

A card party was given last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Daschbach, the hostess being Mrs. McKenna of Stratford avenue.

The McKinley chapter of the Eastern Star gave the first of a series of receptions and dances last evening at the South Highland auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burleigh entertained a small neighborhood euchre club last evening at their home in Forbes street and McKee place. Four tables were placed in the music room.

The regular meeting of the Woman's club was held yesterday afternoon at the Central Young Women's Christian association, when different topics related to domestic science and the home were discussed.

A piano recital will be given in the studio of Adolph Carpe, No. 408 Penn avenue, on Monday evening, November 24, by the following pupils: Miss Ida Kropff, Miss Willa Du Barry, Miss Nellie Nobbs, Miss Blanche A. Hill and Miss Ada V. Houston.

This evening the second annual reception and banquet of Center Avenue lodge, No. 124, A. O. U. M., will be held in the South Highland auditorium under the direction of the committee composed of Lorenz A. Boyle, Joseph A. Butler and Joseph A. R. Gunst.

One of the pretty home weddings to take place yesterday was that of Miss Edna Cynthia Jones and Stanley Anderson McCaskey, at the home of the bride's mother in Rippey street, East End. The attendants included the bridegroom's sister, Miss Ella McCaskey, as maid of honor, Miss Helen McDaniel and Miss Effie Dean, bridesmaids, and William James, best man.

M. E. Mission Appropriations.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 18.—The conference of the Methodist general missionary committee, which has been in session here for one week, concluded its labors tonight. Appropriations for Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society were approved as follows: Home missions, $438,439; foreign missions, $420,628; for the work at New Castle, Pa., $500 was appropriated; Pittsburgh, $600; Allegheny, $350.

An Issue on the Cafe.

The annual election of officers by the Keystone Bicycle club next month promises to be the liveliest in the history of the organization. For some time there has been a strong faction in the club advocating the introduction of a cafe and all its privileges. This is being fought bitterly by a faction composed almost entirely of the members who were instrumental in organizing the club and making its constitution and bylaws. Rival tickets on the cafe issue have been made up.

Foxhall Keene Appeals.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Foxhall P. Keane was fined $20 and costs today by Judge Franklin at Oyster Bay for speeding an automobile at a rate declared to have been beyond that prescribed by law. He was indignant over the judge's ruling and at once filed an appeal.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Child's School Coat.

Pears of the best quality, when perfectly ripe, are better suited for being eaten raw than apples, their flesh being much softer. But pears are not so cheap or generally useful in cooking as the apple, and consequently the housekeeper does not know that there are many delightful ways of preparing them for present use on the table.

Five Ways to Serve Pears.

Ripe Pears with Cream.—This is a delicious breakfast dish and a pleasant change served with good brown bread and butter for the fruit and cereal course. The pears must be mellow, ripe and of flavor. Pare and slice them thin and sprinkle lightly with powdered sugar. Have them chilled and when cold heap whipped cream on top of each dish.

Compote of Pears.—Cut fine large pears in half, pare, remove cores, but not stems. Make a rich syrup as for preserving; add a slice or two of lemon, and when it boils up put in the pears and cook gently until tender. Take them up carefully, arrange in pyramid on a glass dish and cover with very firm apple jelly; let get cold, and having boiled down the syrup until very thick, pour it around the pears cold.

Pear Meringue.—Pare and carefully remove the cores from fine large pears; steam them until tender, then arrange them in a deep dish; sift powdered sugar over them, squeeze a little lemon juice over them, and cover with a meringue, heaped up roughly. Set in the oven to color to a delicate brown. Eat hot or cold.

Baked Pears.—Take larger pears than will answer for stewing, selecting those of uniform size. Arrange them in a deep baking dish, stem ends up; mix a half cup of sugar with a cup of boiling water and stir until dissolved. Cover closely with an inverted dish and bake slowly until they are tender, but do not lose their shape. Baste them frequently with the syrup. Serve with cream.

Stuffed Pears.—Carefully remove the cores from good-sized baking pears, pare or not, as you choose; remove seeds from dates, roll each date small enough to fit in the hollow space in each pear, and bake slowly until soft, being careful to retain their shape. Place in a glass dish and surround with a rather thick, boiled custard decorated with a meringue made of whites of the eggs and powdered sugar. Serve with sweet wafers.

The Right Way to Use Dried Fruit.

The Californians would spurn a mess of dried fruit put upon the stove to stew as has been our custom when we deigned to cook them at all. They claim 24 to 36 hours is none too long to soak the fruit in clear cold water, and those of us who have eaten it after such treatment can substantiate the claim. This soaking restores the fruit to its original size and flavor. The fruit is then allowed to simmer gently for a few minutes in the water in which it has been soaked. Try this with California prunes and you will be surprised at their sweetness, requiring no sugar for the ordinary taste.

Perhaps no fruit loses so much of its lusciousness as the peach in drying, canning or preserving, and yet the dried peaches which have been soaked the prescribed hours and served with sugar and cream almost defy detection. Its half sister, the apricot, is also most delectable when so prepared.

So many who have tried and failed to make an appetizing dish for the children from the dried fruits will find the solution in the soaking for hours and the simmering for minutes. The golden rule is never to throw away the water in which the fruit has been soaked, for in it lies half the virtue of your "sauce;" simply rinse the fruit thoroughly before putting it to soak.

What "Bouquet Garni" Really Is.

Bouquet garni is a term very frequently used in both English and French cooking recipes, as it expresses in two words what would otherwise require many lines to explain. To define it in a general way, it means, in fact, a bunch of savory herbs put into a soup, stew or sauce in order to give a piquant flavor. It is taken out of the liquor in which it has been cooked before the soup or sauce is finished and sent to the table. It is tied up in a little bag or piece of thin muslin, which is tied securely round the top with a piece of twine or tape. For convenience, the string should be long enough for the end to fall over the edge of the boiler or saucepan, so that it can be taken out without trouble or disturbing other contents of the pot or saucepan.

Restocking the Linen Closet.

Autumn days beget a close inspection of linen closets and bed furnishings. Towels in all linen are found as low as 25 cents each, which are almost one yard and a quarter long, in the "huck" quality. Damask towel ing sells at the same price and becomes very soft after it is washed, pleasant to face and hands, and is all linen as well. For 50 cents much finer and somewhat wider towels are offered at special sales, which should not be missed. Bed sheeting is remarkably low in price. For servants' beds, excellent sheets in bleached cotton for 50 cents each, and some as low as 45 cents each. Pillowcases, at 12 cents and 14 cents each, make a cheap outfit. Very good blankets for the same beds, at $3 and $4, with the addition of warm comfortables in flowered cheesecloths for $2. In sateen, one finds better wearing ones for $2 25 and $2 50. For $3 50 and $3 75 down quilts, suited to single beds, are covered with charming sateens, silky and fine, and in exquisite colors and designs of orchids, roses and poppies, with plain borders.

A Good Cup of Coffee.

The secret of making palatable, non-injurious coffee, lies in the two words: quick infusion.

In the first place, have the coffee ground to the finest powder, so that its full virtue may be quickly extracted. Allow a dessertspoonful for each person, mix it with just enough cold water to make a thick paste, and let it stand until five minutes before the time to serve. Have fresh water boiling, pour on a cupful for each person, and two more for the persons who are likely to (but should not), wish a second cup. Put the pot over the fire and let the infusion come to a boil, settle with a dash of cold water, or a clean eggshell, and serve immediately. This is a cup of coffee and not a cup of tannin. Coffee made in this way may be taken morning, noon and night, without injury, but the quantity drunk at one time should not be greater than one cupful.

Coffee that has boiled, or stood more than five minutes should be thrown away.

Cleaning Colored Goods.

One of the best and most economical of the various fluids for removing spots from fast colors is made as follows: Cut four ounces of Castile soap into a quart of soft water and heat it until the soap is melted. Remove from the fire, and add two quarts of cold soft water. When the liquid is quite cold pour into it four ounces of ammonia, two of alcohol and two of ether. Bottle and cork tightly. When it is desired to remove grease spots or generally renovate a garment, shake the liquid well, apply with a sponge or cloth and rinse with clear water. When fast-colored dress goods are to be washed, add a cupful of the fluid to a pailful of soft water, soak the garments in this water for a few minutes, wash them and rinse thoroughly.

Things Well to Know.

Plain apple sauce may be transformed into a really delicious dish by various small additions. Dates stoned and cut in two, orange peel in flakes, half a cupful of English walnuts or a cupful of plump raisins will so flavor and enrich apple sauce that the children will welcome it as a dessert.

If you have a cupful of cream on hand you wish to keep fresh for a day or two add to it two or three lumps of sugar, stirring it well, then cover it and set it away in the coldest corner of the refrigerator.

Keep a thin knitting needle by the stove to use in piercing any vegetable which is cooking. It will not leave so unsightly a mark as a fork.

The first time new iron utensils are used, such as pop-over cups, waffle irons, sad irons, griddle or frying pans, they should be heated very slowly or they may crack.

Services for Boys' Brigade.

H. P. Bope, colonel of the Third regiment of the Boys' brigade, has issued an order for the usual pre-Thanksgiving observance next Sunday. Each company is directed to arrange for its own service. Where possible, two or more companies can arrange for a joint service. The colonel recommends that the officers and members of the regiment wear their uniforms during the entire day.

PUTTING IT STRONG.

But Doesn't It Look Reasonable?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as at first appears.

The trouble with Dyspeptics is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extremes or else deluging the already over burdened stomach with "bitters" "after dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty, even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is a rest. Now how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained.

This is a great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy but its success and popularity leaves no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach. The sufferer from Dyspepsia according to directions, is to eat an abundance of good wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your Dyspepsia may be, because, as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plainly, if you take 1,800 grains of meat, eggs, or ordinary food and place it in a temperature of 98 degrees, and put with it one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made because the much abused stomach will be given, to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggist will tell you that of all the many remedies advertised to cure Dyspepsia none of them have given so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance in these hard times is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money.

THIS REMEDY is sure to GIVE Satisfaction.

FOOD TO USE

When Doctor Is Not Convenient.

Many people dislike to call in a doctor until it is absolutely necessary; frequently a change of food will work wonders.

A young lady in Russellville, Ky., says: "I was taken ill six weeks ago and could not take solid food; was only allowed to eat soup and milk. In about a week I got so weak and nervous that I could not sleep. Father wanted to call in a doctor, but I objected, as I didn't feel I needed medicine as much as good food. The next day father had to go to town, and he brought back a package of Grape-Nuts with him, and I commenced to eat it twice a day in milk. I would get hungry for it from one time to the next. In a few nights I could sleep soundly all night, and in two weeks I was up and had actually gained flesh, and was soon as strong as before I got sick.

"I would not be without Grape-Nuts now for anything, and my friends comment on my looks. I tell them I owe it to Grape-Nuts, and recommend it to all who complain with stomach trouble, which is the general complaint in this neighborhood." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

M'CANDLESS SAYS PENALTY IS VOID

Asserts That Councils Released Reservoir Contractors from Damages.

LARKIN DEMANDS PROOF

Controller Disputes the Assertion That Mercantile Trust Company Is Not Liable for Overtime—Director Ignores Council

Director McCandless said yesterday that the resolution passed Monday night by common council instructing the controller to collect penalties for the noncompletion of the new Highland reservoir, is void, because a resolution had been passed by former councils releasing the contractors from this part of the contract.

The director stated that he would ignore the other resolution directing him to fill the basin with water and make a test, giving as his reason that a resolution is not binding unless passed by both bodies of councils.

"I understand that the former councils passed a resolution releasing the contractors from paying damages for not having the reservoir completed within the time specified in the contract," said the director.

City Clerk Martin was asked for information by a Gazette representative, and he stated that a resolution had been passed by councils releasing the Jonathan Clark & Sons Company from penalties at the time that the contract was turned over to Keeling & Ridge.

Larkin Asks for Proof.

Controller Larkin said: "Let them produce such a resolution or ordinance in the records. I have never found it."

Deputy Controller Morrow, who has kept close tab on the financial transactions of councils, made the same statement. "Let them show it in the records," he said.

W. L. Stevenson, chairman of the finance committee of councils, was astounded when he heard of the statements of the director and city clerk. He said he had never heard of such a measure having been passed. He doubted it, as Controller Larkin had made a claim for the penalties in his defense to the recent mandamus proceedings instituted by the Mercantile Trust Company against the controller.

Controller Larkin said that a careful investigation had been made to find not only a release of penalties granted by councils, but also to find authority for changes in the reservoir specifications, which he alleged had been made.

Ready to Pay One Estimate.

Controller Larkin said that he would obey the order of the supreme court and pay the $11,140 estimate for April, but that all other estimates would be carefully inspected. The order of court deals only with the one estimate. The other estimates approved by the director of public works aggregate over $250,000. It is the belief that from the remaining estimates the controller will deduct the penalties, which amount to over $146,000.

It is claimed by some members of councils that the resolution to collect the penalties is unnecessary, as the controller is clothed with power to collect all claims of the city without special warrant. The resolution is intended, however, to protect the controller in the event of another mandamus suit against him.

Director McCandless said that while he would not heed the resolution directing him to fill the reservoir, he had been doing so and would continue to fill it as fast as possible. He said that there was 21 feet of water in the reservoir yesterday.

The director says that John G. Trimble has secured affidavits from all the engineers that there were no leaks.

A well-known riverman made a tour of the reservoir yesterday and reported to the controller that he found a stream as large as a man's body flowing from the embankment.

TELEPHONE RECORD DID NOT FIT STORY

Mrs. Virgin Found Her Jewels Soon After the Detectives Gave Her a Tip.

Mrs. Martha Just Virgin of No. 620 College avenue, author of the tale of stolen jewels, left Pittsburgh yesterday with her house maid. She said she would not return until spring.

It was learned at the East End telephone exchange yesterday that five telephone calls were recorded at Mr. Virgin's residence on Saturday, the day of the alleged robbery. There were three calls before noon; one about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and one about 8:30 o'clock in the evening. The records on the telephone books do not coincide with the story of Mrs. Virgin, who said she had been summoned to the telephone three times early in the evening.

The detectives told Mrs. Virgin on Monday afternoon that the colored hairdresser was honest. They also informed her that there were five telephone calls at her residence on Saturday, entirely different from the hours Mrs. Virgin had told them. The officers then told Mrs. Virgin that they had a clue they would start to work on Tuesday morning if the diamonds were not returned to the house that night. They said they were sure of their theory and it would be better for all concerned if the diamonds were returned.

Within a few hours Mrs. Virgin informed the detective bureau that she had found her jewels under the bath tub.

HAD NARROW ESCAPES.

Family Occupying Old Salt Works Station Driven Out by Fire.

Early yesterday morning the old Salt Works station of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, opposite Homestead, was entirely destroyed by fire. It was occupied by William McManigan, his housekeeper and three children.

The fire started from an oil lamp. McManigan and his household were awakened by employes of the Second avenue traction line just in time to escape being burned to death. The total loss is about $3,000.

Theological Seminary Affairs.

The two official boards of the Western Theological seminary met yesterday afternoon. Before the board of directors a memorial minute was ordered to be recorded on the death of the Rev. J. J. Beacom, who for many years was a member of the board. The trustees considered the financial condition of the seminary and found it needing an enlarged endowment.

QUARANTINE GUARDS MUST WEAR CHEVRONS

Yellow Insignia on Coat Sleeves Will Distinguish Those Guarding Smallpox.

Quarantine guards will be distinguished hereafter from the ordinary "copper" by yellow chevrons on their coat sleeves. This has been decided on by Director A. H. Leslie of the department of public safety to insure better vigilance on the part of the guards and make the quarantine of houses infested with smallpox more secure.

Negligence on the part of quarantine guards has been a source of much complaint to Director Leslie. Instances of guards leaving their posts and allowing inmates of quarantined houses to escape have been reported. A remedy was discussed yesterday between Director Leslie, Controller John Larkin and Deputy Controller E. S. Morrow. Controller Larkin said that he thought the quarantine guard should have some insignia to distinguish him from other policemen, and Mr. Morrow suggested the yellow chevrons.

This suggestion was at once adopted and Director Leslie issued an order that all policemen on quarantine duty shall wear a yellow strip of cloth, three inches wide, on their left coat sleeves. This will denote their occupation and also serve as a warning to persons not to get near them. If an officer with the yellow badge on his coat is seen away from a quarantined house it will also be a notice that he is neglecting his duty and subject him to being reported by any citizen.

A PRESBYTERIAN HOME.

Prominent Churchmen Advocate the House of All Local Interests Together.

The movement inaugurated to raise $50,000 for church extension in the Pittsburgh presbytery has awakened new interest in the project to erect a "Presbyterian house" or to bring the institutions of the church under one roof. The removal of the First Presbyterian church, where most of the denominational meetings have been held, will compel several societies to seek new quarters. Many advocate the erection of a Presbyterian house similar to those erected in this city by the United Presbyterians and Methodists. There are Presbyterian houses in New York, Philadelphia and other cities, and the Rev. E. P. Cowan thinks that the wealthy Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh should not be behind other denominations in this city or behind their own denomination in other cities.

W. W. Watters, superintendent of the Presbyterian book store, is warmly in favor of a building where all the Presbyterian interests could be under one roof and the book store on the ground floor. William C. Lilly, secretary of the Presbyterian union, advocates the renting of an entire floor of some large office building and getting a room for the book store on the ground floor. This subject will undoubtedly be taken up at the December meeting of the Presbytery.

MERCER NOT FOR ALCORN.

County Commissioner Denies That Democratic Chairman Is Slated for County Solicitorship.

Commissioner J. Carson Mercer denies that he has agreed with Commissioner James A. Clark to elect Thomas B. Alcorn, chairman of the Democratic county committee, county solicitor. According to a report published yesterday, the deal had been made and been approved by Thomas S. Bigelow.

"There is no truth in the statement," said Mr. Mercer. "I have not promised to support Alcorn for solicitor. The story also says that we intend to create the office of assistant solicitor. This is also untrue. There is no law providing for the creation of such a job, neither is there any necessity for an additional office of this kind."

EXCITED OVER OIL.

Greasy Fluid Believed to Have Been Found in Old Hole Back of Homestead.

The region in Mifflin township back of Hays borough and Homestead is in a fever of excitement over the striking of an oil well by the American Steel Sheet Company, which was drilling wells for a gas supply for the W. Dewees Wood works at McKeesport.

A few days ago the work of sinking one of the gas wells drilled a year ago deeper was started, but on Monday work suddenly stopped, and all people were warned to keep away from the well. Since then agents have been securing leases on all the adjoining property for oil and gas.

A MASONIC DISPUTE.

Colored Man Sued for Inducting Friend Into the Wrong Lodge.

George Hackley, colored, was sued by David Mosely before Alderman Connor on Monday for false pretense. Mosely says that he paid Hackley $5 on account on the initiation fee into the Star of the West lodge of colored Masons. Later Mosely joined another Masonic body and charged that Hackley's organization had no grand lodge standing.

Hackley said last night that he would produce the secretary of the lodge to whom he had paid the $5 received from Mosely. Star of the West lodge belongs to the colored Free and Accepted Masons, Hackley said, and if Mosely joined any other Masons it must have been the Compact or State Rite Masons.

Lectures on Shakespeare.

Dr. Richard G. Moulton of the University of Chicago captured the hearts of a large audience of Shakespearean students last night in the lecture room of Carnegie library, Allegheny. This was the second of a series of lectures on studies in Shakespeare's tragedies, the subject last night being "A Study in Pathos." The theme was taken from "Romeo and Juliet." Other lectures of this series will treat of "King Lear," November 25; "Julius Caesar," December 2; "Othello," December 9, and tragedy in general, December 16.

General Meeting of Machinists.

UNION OF CHURCHES WILL BE FORWARDED

Methodist Protestants to Treat With Congregationalists and United Brethren.

The movement for union of the Congregational, Methodist Protestant and possibly United Brethren churches is making progress. Committees have been appointed by the respective bodies. The Rev. David Stevens of Philadelphia, president of the general conference of the Methodist Protestant church, has appointed a committee of twelve to represent that body in the negotiations. The Rev. Martin Luther Jennings, editor of the Methodist Recorder, is a member of the committee.

The movement was inaugurated by the United Brethren making advances to the Methodist Protestants. Letters have also received addressed to the Evangelicals and to the Cumberland Presbyterians. No answers were ever received from the Evangelicals and the United Evangelicals, and the Cumberland Presbyterians decided not to accept the overtures.

The Rev. E. H. Ward, editor of the New York Independent, and chairman of the committee of the Congregational church of church comity, wrote to the Methodists Protestants that if a union movement was on foot the Congregational church wished to be considered. It was at his request that Dr. Stevens appointed a committee on conference. Negotiations will at once be opened between the Congregationalists and the Methodist Protestants looking toward a union. The several Congregational churches in this city and Allegheny are in favor of a union and the Methodist Protestants look upon the movement with favor.

Mrs. Laura L. Barnes, Washington, D. C., Ladies Auxiliary to Burnside Post, No. 4, G. A. R., recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"In diseases that come to women only, as a rule, the doctor is called in, sometimes several doctors, but still matters go from bad to worse; but I have never known of a case of female weakness which was not helped when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used faithfully. For young women who are subject to headaches, backache, irregular or painful periods, and nervous attacks due to the severe strain on the system by some organic trouble, and for women of advanced years in the most trying time of life, it serves to correct every trouble and restore a healthy action of all organs of the body.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a household reliance in my home, and I would not be without it. In all my experience with this medicine, which covers years, I have found nothing to equal it and always recommend it."—Mrs. LAURA L. BARNES, 607 Second St., N. E., Washington, D. C.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women.

MAY UNDERMINE THE FEDERATION

Scheme to Create a New General Union of State Federations.

LEADERS ARE SUSPICIOUS

Think Colorado Crowd May Be Trying to Overthrow Parent Organization — Several Advantages Claimed.

A movement is on foot to create a new general organization of the 30 or more state federations of labor. It is a radical move threatening the present general organization which gives the state federations life, the American Federation of Labor. The new organization will make the state presidents the chief organizers in their own territory and aim to prevent the sparate organization of two crafts much alike, or the same, and thus prevent the differences which are now plentiful in the general organizations of the American Federation of Labor. The Pennsylvania state organization is a new one. The Colorado federation is taking the initiative in the matter and is arranging for a convention to be held in Denver.

It is planned to cement the different state organizations "through a general executive board of the presidents of each state organization. This body is to be a tribunal of final appeal, but up to this the state organizations are to govern their own affairs.

In Pittsburgh the scheme is regarded as an effort to overthrow the parent body of the American Federation of Labor. Leaders suggested last night that it looks to them of entirely too radical a character to meet with approval before there are more details at hand.

Under the present organization of the American Federation of Labor most of its membership is enlisted in national and international organizations, which are also represented in the state organizations. Till this time these state organizations have been of little consequence, except in the west, where all the unions of the parent organization have their delegates at the state conferences.

The promoters of the scheme claim that it will be the means of unifying labor interests, that it will economize the work and will be the means of bringing 99 per cent of working people into an organization. The governing scheme is compared in character to the relations of state and federal government in the United States.

One of the economical schemes is to avoid the sending of an army of organizers at much expense over all territory, those of the state organizations to serve instead. Another economical feature proposed is to drop all but one union label for each craft. A reduction in the per capita tax is also promised.

NEW TRIAL FOR BISSERT.

Sentence Set Aside Because of Error in Presentation of Case.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—George Bissert of New York, Capt. Diamond's ward man, who was convicted of bribery and sentenced to Sing Sing for five years and six months and to pay a fine of $1,000, was today granted a new trial by the court of appeals.

Bissert was found guilty on August 12, 1901. An appeal was taken to the appellate division, which set aside the sentence on the ground that the district attorney's office erred in its presentation of the case.

Bissert was charged with having accepted a bribe of $500 from Lena Schmidt, keeper of a disorderly house.

LINEN LUCK.

Good Thing the Freight Blockade Lifted a Little.

Campbell has been worrying not a little lest a lot of mill ends of table linens, bought to give his Thanksgiving trade a choice bargain tidbit, should fail to show up until December, when nobody wants to spare any money for practical table furnishings, however tempting the price. But the anxiety is over. The cases showed up in yesterday's freight, and so the customers of The People's Store will carry home lovely full-bleached Scotch damask tablecloths for 80 cents, $1 and $1.20, which will make the neighbors wonder at the seeming extravagance of the family—providing they do not tell the price paid.

Directors' Tables

One thing which tells the story of Pittsburgh's prosperity is the erection of skyscrapers.

The increase in tall buildings means more offices. More offices and more firms requiring office equipments.

The Directors' Table pictured above is brimful of suggestions. It is a particularly worthy example of the furniture shown here in large variety for the use of business people. This Table is made of quartered golden oak, 6 feet long, 42 inches wide, with large drawer in each end. It is massive, simple, elegant and above all convenient.

The corporations of today demand the best furniture and the demand is adequately supplied by this establishment. It is the pride of this store that every furniture want can be met here, and that price is always an inducement.

Tapestry Panels.

When our buyer was in Paris the past Summer selecting special Furniture and Coverings and Drapery Stuffs, he secured a lot of these Tapestry Panels, and they are now ready to be exhibited.

We have mounted a great many with oak frames in different finishes. Some of the pieces are of surpassing beauty, many of them taken from works of art by famous artists. The original of the finest one, "The Spring Fete," was exhibited in the Paris Exposition.

One of the interesting features of this Panel collection is the extensive range of prices, as follows:

From 60c up to $75, for Panels unmounted.
From $3.50 each to $40, for Framed Panels.

Hot Water Bottles, 50c.

The head of this department coins a compound word and says they are finished with a patent non-loosable stopper, which is to say that the stopper is fastened to the Bottle, thus making the Bottle always ready for instantaneous use. These Hot Water Bottles have our best guarantee.

New Wool and Cotton Waists.

There has just come to the Waist Section of the 2d floor several numbers of New Waists—all of them beautiful. A remarkably handsome Waist, to sell for $4.50, is one in white Vesting, the goods of the same heavy grade as that entering into the make-up of men's white vests. Conventional designs with small black figures forming the pattern, a style of Waist that has the front with tailor stitched pleats and immense fancy pearl buttons; French back. A white stock with small tie of self completes the most delightful cotton Waist that we have had for some time.

Others of same material in white, blue and tan, at $5 and $6.

White Cotton Waist of Vesting in the basket weave, front of three pleats on each side to form yoke. Buttons to one side with three large pearl buttons; French back; bishop sleeve, new bishop stock. $3.

White mercerized Cheviot Waist, the front of tucks finished with pearl buttons; French back; self stock with blue linen embroidery turn-over. $3.50.

Fine Waist of a new material called Mercerized Matting, the look of Albatross. Front and back of broad tailor pleats; large pearl buttons trim the front; stylish sleeves with buttoned cuffs; self stock with white linen turnover piped with green. Something very dainty, and only $4.50.

$1.50, $1.90 and $2.50, attractive Waists of American flannel. Front of tailor stitched pleats; latest stitched back, with four pleats graduating from shoulders to waist line; shirt sleeves, self stock. Navy, red and black.

Brilliantine Waists with slot tucks front and back, trimmed with small black buttons; new sleeve with narrow button cuff; navy, red and white. $4.

A very handsome Waist of doeskin Flannel. Tailor stitched tucks to form yoke. Trimmed with two rows of small pearl buttons. Self stock, shirt sleeves. Black, Yale, red, tan, light blue and white. $5.

We have Waists, black with pretty metallic polka dots. The front is tucked, back plain, bishop sleeves, fancy stock. $5.

Waists of Scotch Flannel in fancy stripes. These Waists are washable. Just plain tailored effects, shirt sleeves, link cuffs, $6 and $7.

Tomato Pin Cushions.

A necessary, but inexpensive requisite for the feminine work box or the bachelor's dresser. 8c, 15c and 25c each.

Pearl Headed Pins, 5c a Dozen.

Two dozen on the card. All the popular colors, and also a lot of new shades.

Tooth Brushes, 10c Each.

All we have to say is we will guarantee them and will replace any one that does not give utmost satisfaction.

Neither will we say how many we have, but advise seeing us today or tomorrow.

Good Soaps.

Two brands of Soap that you know all about, but probably never bought quite so low as what we offer you now.

5c a cake for special cutaneous Soap—sold everywhere for 10c a cake, 3 for 25c. Some clever dickering brings a few gross to our Toilet Counter to be sold at the foregoing small price.

Almond Bath Soap in bars, cut convenient size for the hand. Pure, sweet, wholesome. Each bar weighs a pound. 25c a bar.

Advance Sale of Holiday Dress Goods.

Today we begin the selling of gift dress goods, by putting out some

10,000 yards of 50 inch superfine Dress Materials

at special price. The collection is made up of newest weaves in plain fabrics and a sumptuous showing of the pretty flecked and nub suitings—the whole forming, in the Fifth Street Aisle, an attractive exhibit of fashionable Fall and Winter fabrics.

Note—Neatly boxed, if desired.

The Original prices on these Dress goods were $1 and $1.25 a yard, but the 10,000 yds. are all marked for quick selling at the remarkable price of..... 75c yd

Today we make an offer extraordinary—1,100 ends of all wool 50c-a-yard Challies and also Cotton Waistings, either suitable for Waists and Children's Dresses, at the extreme low price of..... 25c a Yard

AN ORDINANCE—To authorize and direct the proper officer or officers in the name and on behalf of the city of Allegheny to enter into and execute a contract with the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a corporation under the laws of the state of Pennsylvania, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a like corporation, whereby said Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company may change and elevate the grade of Bridge street across Herrs island and also construct a siding from the tracks of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company to Herrs island.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the city of Allegheny in select and common councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the proper officer or officers of the said city be and are hereby authorized and directed in the name and on behalf of the city of Allegheny, to enter into and execute a contract with the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in the following form, to-wit:

CONTRACT.

This agreement made this ..... day of ....., A. D., one thousand nine hundred and two, between the city of Allegheny hereinafter called the "City", as first party, the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a corporation under the laws of the state of Pennsylvania, (hereinafter called the "Railroad Company"), as second party, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a like corporation, lessee of said Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company and joining herein to express its consent to the making of this contract (hereinafter called "Lessee"), as third party, witnesseth:

Whereas, The said railroad company contemplates establishing a switch or connection from its main track, over and across back channel to Herrs island in said city; and,

Whereas, The said railroad company further proposes to elevate the grade of the street known as Bridge street, across said Herrs island for the purpose of avoiding grade crossings of the said street with its several tracks and thereby secure the safety of lives and property and promote the interests of said city; and,

Whereas, The said city, deeming the said contemplated changes and the reduction of grade crossings resulting therefrom adapted to secure and promote the best interests of the city and of the public, is willing that such changes be made;

NOW THIS AGREEMENT WITNESSETH:

First. The said city hereby assents and agrees that the said railroad company may change the elevation of Bridge street across Herrs island from the western terminus of the Thirtieth (30th) street bridge at the line of the Allegheny river to the eastern line of Ohio street in said city, as follows:

At the point first above mentioned, Bridge street shall be elevated to an elevation of fifty-eight and seven one hundredths (58.07) feet, city datum.

Thence descending from said point in a westerly direction upon a six per cent (6 per cent) grade, a distance of one hundred and eighty-three (183) feet to an elevation of forty-seven and seven one hundredths (47.07) feet, city datum.

Thence proceeding westwardly on a level grade seventy (70) feet.

Thence proceeding westwardly ascending upon a six per cent (6 per cent) grade, one hundred and thirty-eight (138) feet to an elevation of fifty-five and thirty-seven one hundredths (55.37) feet, city datum;

Thence proceeding westwardly on a level grade crossing the back channel to the western end of the point immediately over the abutment at the western end of the Bridge street bridge;

Thence ascending on a five and eight-tenths (5.8) grade a distance of one hundred and thirty-four and one-half (134½) feet to an elevation of sixty-three and seventeen one hundredths (63.17) feet, city datum;

Thence proceeding westwardly at a level grade of fifty-five (55) feet;

Thence descending northwardly and eastwardly by six per cent (6 per cent) grades to the eastern line of Ohio street at its present grade;

Also to permit the following changes in the grade of streets connecting with Bridge street:

River avenue, beginning at a point distant southwardly from Bridge street three hundred and fifty (350) feet;

Thence ascending upon a seven and five-tenths (7.5) grade to Bridge street at its proposed elevation.

Franklin street from Bridge street, extending back a sufficient distance to make said grade or approach from the present surface of Franklin street to the proposed grade to Bridge street not to exceed six per cent (6 per cent).

Second. Said city further assents and agrees that the said railroad company may construct a siding connection from the main tracks or line of said railroad company at a point about four hundred (400) feet west from McFadden street and crossing River avenue, giving a clearance over the present surface of River avenue of sixteen (16) feet;

Thence extending across back channel to Herrs island.

Third. The said railroad company is to make said changes on Bridge street and streets connecting therewith as hereinbefore indicated at its own proper cost and expense, and to complete and finish said work in a proper and workmanlike manner and to the approval of the engineer of the said city, and the same to keep in good order and repair in so far as said improvements or changes are upon city property or upon highways over which the said city has control;

Said railroad company shall also indemnify and save harmless the city from any loss or damage resulting from the proposed changes of grades of streets.

Fourth. Said city further agrees to pass such ordinance or ordinances directing the change of grade of said Bridge street and the said several streets connecting therewith, as may be proper or necessary in connection with and as a part of this contract.

MITCHELL TIRES OF LONG BATTLE

He Grows Impatient Under Steady Fire of Questions from Attorneys.

COMMISSION IN A HURRY

Ask Counsel to Cut Out Unimportant Matters and to Refrain from Going Over Same Ground Twice—Day of Incidents.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SCRANTON, PA., Nov. 18.—President Mitchell, for the fourth successive day, occupied the witness stand during the two sessions of the strike commission and was cross-examined by three attorneys for as many coal companies. The arbitrators are growing restless in consequence of the long cross-examination. Several times during the course of the day's session Chairman Gray reminded the attorneys of the value of time and suggested that cross-examination be limited to new features.

Mr. Mitchell has been on the stand since last Friday morning, and is showing signs of weariness from the strain of four days' cross-examination. Thus far his attorney, C. S. Darrow, and David Wilcox, for the Delaware & Hudson; Wayne McVeagh, for the Erie; Francis I. Gowen, for the Lehigh Valley, and W. W. Ross for the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Company, have examined the miners' president.

The commissioners today for the first time entered into the discussion with the lawyers and the witness over disputed points which arose from time to time.

Take Up Special Cases.

Mr. McVeagh, who began his cross-examination of Mr. Mitchell on Saturday, concluded at 11 o'clock today. Mr. Gowen and Mr. Ross questioned Mr. Mitchell principally regarding conditions existing at the collieries of the companies they represent.

Mr. Ross' line of examination was for some time directed toward testing Mr. Mitchell's knowledge of bituminous mine working, the number of men employed, the wages paid and a comparison of these with the wages paid in the anthracite fields. Regarding the number of hours the men work in the hard coal regions, Mr. Mitchell said that when the breaker runs 10 hours the men usually work 7, 8 or 9 hours. When the breaker runs less the men work in proportion. On the average, however, the men worked more hours than the breakers.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Ross, "hasn't your organization stopped the miners from working on the days when the breakers were idle?"

Mr. Mitchell admitted that in this district the rule is that the men shall not prepare coal on idle days. This, he said, was for the purpose of preventing favoritism.

Ross Avoids Tilt.

"Do any of these epithets and slurs," inquired Mr. Ross, "you have made regarding the horrible condition of the miners apply to our company?"

"Will you tell me particularly to what slurs you refer?" Mr. Mitchell asked.

Getting no direct answer, he, with some spirit, repeated his query, saying:

"I would like you to refer specifically to what you mean by slurs. I do not recall having used language of that character."

Mr. Ross took no notice of Mr. Mitchell's remark, but, instead, took up the line of his examination.

Mr. Mitchell declared that the rule of the local unions not to prepare coal when the breakers were idle did not have for its object the restriction of the output.

"If these miners had been permitted to work," asked Mr. Ross, "on these idle days, the output would have been greater, wouldn't it?"

"I don't know whether your company wanted more coal than the miners produced or not."

"We have wanted for several years all the coal we could get. We have never been able really to supply our orders."

Information Is Different.

"That information," Mr. Mitchell said, "is much different from what I usually got from the men you represent, because they said their sales were limited entirely by the competition of bituminous coal."

Mr. Mitchell said he could not see any other reason in child labor than that the families required the money to live on, the exception being where the parents may be inhuman. He then reiterated his former statement that the minimum wage should be $600 a year.

"We might want to go to the seashore," said he.

Speaking with a little sarcasm, Mr. Mitchell said that the company had some employes who had visited Philadelphia once in 24 years, and that they thereby had an important event in their lives to relate to their grandchildren.

At this point Mr. Ross took occasion to call attention to the fact that his company owned 284 houses, which are rented to the miners on an average of $5 a month.

"So you see," remarked Mr. Ross, "we haven't very many houses for the number of employes, upward of 12,000."

"You charge enough for the ones you do have," was Mr. Mitchell's response.

After securing an expression from the miners' president that the company paid to stockholders 26 per cent on their capital stock, Mr. Ross inquired if he was not incorrect.

"I think the earnings were that," said Mr. Mitchell. "There are a good many methods for putting profits away in a railroad."

Mr. Mitchell's examination will continue tomorrow.

Church Site Likely to Win.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Taylor will tomorrow select the site for the McKeesport federal building. He is in favor of the church site on the corner of Eighth avenue and Walnut street, unless some unexpected evidence comes tomorrow against it. No action will be taken on the New Castle site question until Senator Quay returns and can be consulted.

LOVE OF FOOTBALL WAS THEIR DOWNFALL.

Their love for football and the equipment necessary to play the game may cause the undoing of Willie Smith of Lloyd street, Edgewood, and John Humton of No. 912 South avenue, Wilkinsburg. The boys, who are about 15 years old, are alleged to have entered the residence of John Farrell of No. 1232 Franklin avenue, Wilkinsburg, yesterday and made away with a purse containing $32. Farrell made information against the boys, charging larceny. When the Humton boy was arrested $16 had been spent for football togs. The Smith boy has not yet been apprehended. None of the money has been recovered.

LAIRD IS ILL OF POISONING

His Wife and Daughter Are Also Victims of Impure Food.

VOYAGE POSTPONED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, Nov. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie returned to London with the intention of sailing tomorrow for the United States, but they have been obliged to abandon the voyage for the present, because Mr. Carnegie is indisposed.

The whole family were affected by something they ate on the continent. Mrs. Carnegie and her daughter have quite recovered. The physicians, however, think it would be imprudent for Mr. Carnegie to start yet, although he has practically recovered from his illness. Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie expect to sail on the New York next week.

The Carnegies were at Caux, Switzerland, when they were served with food which was in some way contaminated. The ill effects seemed to promise to pass off and had done so in the cases of Mrs. Carnegie and her daughter, by Sunday, when the party arrived in London.

Mr. Carnegie felt worse yesterday evening and summoned a physician, who was able to assure him that the poisoning was not of a serious character, and that he would be up again in a day or two.

UTAH HAS VOLCANO ON THE ACTIVE LIST

Monday's Earthquake Which Shook Up Salt Lake City Is Charged to It.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Nov. 18.—According to D. A. Turner of Milford, Utah, an old volcano, forming part of the Wasatch range in Southern Utah between Beaver and Piute counties, which apparently has been extinct for centuries, has broken out afresh.

Explosions, apparently emanating from the crater, have been heard for miles around, while at times columns of smoke and dust have arisen from the old volcano and new lava formations, all very hot, have been found on the sides of the mountain.

"There have been a number of slight earthquakes in that vicinity recently," said Mr. Turner, "and we have heard explosions for a distance of 20 miles from the crater.

"Several times of late smoke and dust in considerable quantities have been seen arising from the crater. Yesterday's earthquake, which was quite severe in that locality, was fresh evidence of the renewed volcanic activity in the Wasatch range."

PRESIDENT'S HUNT OVER AND BRUIN STILL LIVES

Party Rides in from Camp and Takes Special Train for Memphis.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SMEDES, MISS., Nov. 18.—President Roosevelt's bear hunt in Mississippi is ended, and he did not even get a shot at a bear. The last day of the chase was simply a repetition of the three preceding days, so far as his luck was concerned. Try as the hunters would, they could not get a bear within range of the president's rifle.

This afternoon the president and members of the party mounted their horses and rode into Smedes, leaving the wagons to follow. The president is a hard rider, and the pace was rapid in spite of the bad trails. The distance, which is fully 12 miles, was covered in less than an hour.

At 9:30 o'clock the special train started for Memphis, where the reception to Gen. Luke Wright occurs tomorrow.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 18.—Gen. Luke Wright, vice governor of the Philippines, was given a warm reception on his return home tonight. He was greeted with booming canon, and bonfires lighted the streets.

LABOR EMULATES BIG RAILROADS

Salaries of President and Secretary of American Federation Increased.

INVESTIGATION STARTS

Committee to Settle Gompers-Shaffer Controversy Has Trouble Securing Fifth Member—Tangueray Chosen.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 18.—The salary of the president of the American Federation of Labor this afternoon was increased from $2,100 per annum to $3,000, and the salary of the secretary from $1,800 to $2,500.

The increase was voted only after a long debate. The original resolution, presented by Delegate Berger of Milwaukee, provided that they should be $4,000 and $2,400, respectively.

Delegate Berger represents the Socialistic element of the federation. Explaining his resolution, he said:

"This is not a personal measure. I say frankly that if the Socialists had the power in this convention, they would turn out Gompers, Morrison and the entire executive board and elect Socialists, in order to carry out a Socialistic policy in the American Federation of Labor. But the Socialists are fair and they believe that labor organizations should pay the best of wages."

Fifth Man Hard to Find.

Just prior to the noon adjournment, Mr. Agard of the committee investigating the Gompers-Shaffer matter, reported that the four members had been unable to agree on the fifth man. President Gompers was visibly agitated upon hearing the announcement. He called Treasurer Lennon to the chair and said:

"Up to now I have said nothing regarding this matter, but I now insist upon prompt action. If 24 hours more elapses and nothing is done, I shall ask at the opening of tomorrow morning's session that the committee be discharged and that the convention settle the entire affair."

Mr. Shaffer took the floor to announce that he had instructed his members of the committee to object to one man only, and outside of that had caused no delay to the committee.

President Gompers said his representatives on the committee were free to choose any man, he did not care who it might be, any fair man was agreeable to him.

Means No Reflection.

Mr. Shaffer rejoined that he had intended no reflection upon Mr. Gompers, nor had he meant to insinuate that he had been trying to influence the committee. He only wished to disclaim any responsibility for himself. If it was satisfactory to Mr. Gompers, however, he would be glad to have the matter come before the convention as a whole.

Mr. Agard replied for the committee that several men who had been agreed upon had declined to serve.

The committee finally organized this afternoon by selecting E. A. Tangueray of the Telegraphers as the fifth members. It spent the entire afternoon in taking testimony, but does not expect to be able to present a report before Thursday morning.

THREE BREAK JAIL

Prisoners Escape in Warren County by Use of Wire Nails and Saws.

OIL CITY, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—An escape of three prisoners was effected from the Warren county jail early this morning, leaving but one more inmate, a 17-year-old boy, who did not care to break out.

Two of the men, Charles Rew of Buffalo and Herbert Turner of Salamanca, N. Y., are charged with larceny. The other was Thomas McMahon of Oil City, who, it is alleged, was one of four robbers who bound and gagged an aged couple living near Titusville, last September, relieving them of about $1,600.

VICTIMS OF SMALLPOX.

One Death and Eight New Cases in the Hospital.

Samuel Charles of No. 607 Humber alley died yesterday at the municipal hospital from smallpox. His wife and three children are in the hospital and the children have developed the disease.

Eight smallpox victims were reported yesterday, and all were taken to the hospital. The sick persons are Henry Anderson of Economy, who came to the city yesterday morning; Albert Schiffe, 26 years old, of No. 374 Frankstown avenue; Mary Lazarus, 26 years old, of No. 228 Jones avenue; North Still, 30 years old, of No. 214 Main street; Ed Hill, 38 years old, colored, of No. 35 Franklin street; Kate Schwendeman, 20 years old, of Cliff and Gum streets; Mary White, 19 years old, colored, of the rear of No. 303 Linoleum alley, and Dewey Stewart, 6 years old, of No. 6 Wesley street.

ST. VINCENT IN AWFUL PLIGHT

Appeal for Assistance Made to the British Government.

DREAD OF VOLCANO

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The governor of Windward islands has sent a dispatch to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain in which he says the prospects of the inhabitants of the island of St. Vincent are blacker than they have ever been.

He believes that Georgetown will have to be abandoned, while it is doubtful if any part of the island is out of the range of danger of La Soufriere, which he describes as "this terrible volcano."

The dispatch adds that the southeastern end of the island, to which the inhabitants of the district around La Soufriere have fled in the hope of safety, is badly off for water and "if more people are crowded there they will not be able to exist. The people cannot go on like this indefinitely."

TO STRIKE AT BOXERS.

Chinese Soldiers to Use Western Tactics in Suppressing the Rebellion.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 18.—A Peking correspondent of the North China Herald says the Chinese government is secretly planning another upheaval. The empress dowager has given instructions to train the Manchus in the use of the rifle and in western drill, they then to be drafted to the different provinces to instruct the soldiery.

Advices have been received from Canton to the effect that the Kwansi rebels have captured the prefectural city of Szenfu and also several district cities in the same prefecture. A number of the officials of the captured city either committed suicide or were killed by the rebels, while some succeeded in escaping.

From Szechuan news was received that Gen. Ting has defeated the boxers and killed or captured 200.

MOLINEUX SEES HIS LAWYER ABOUT DIVORCE

Looking More Haggard Than at Any Time Since He Lately Left His Prison.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Nov. 18.

Looking far more haggard and worn than at any moment during his two trials on the charge of murder, Roland B. Molineux spent a busy day today consulting his attorneys with regard to the action for divorce to be instituted by his wife in South Dakota.

He appeared at the Tombs police court in the morning to see his attorney, Mr. Battles, who was engaged there with a case, little thinking, apparently, how much attention he would attract. He got in unobserved and sat in the front row of spectators' seats; but hardly had he got seated when he was recognized, and from that time till Mr. Battle finished his case—nearly an hour later—the little man was gazed at by everyone in the court room. He read a newspaper and pretended to be indifferent to the scrutiny of those about him.

From the court Molineux and Mr. Battles went to a restaurant on Broadway and over their luncheon discussed the case of Mrs. Molineux.

"Has any member of your firm been engaged to contest the suit of Mrs. Molineux?" was asked of Mr. Battle.

"We really have no knowledge of any suit except what we have read in the newspapers," returned Mr. Battle.

Gen. Molineux, however was more communicative.

"I am not going to talk about the matter until I see my lawyer," said he early in the day. "So far as I can see, the only thing she has against her husband is that he was in prison for four years, and that during that time she was deprived of some pleasure and enjoyment. They say she refers to my son as 'that man.' Well, I have always referred to her as 'that lady.' Perhaps she will have the last word in this matter, and perhaps she won't."

It is now said that Mrs. Blanche Chesbrough Molineux's heart was steeled against her husband, Roland B. Molineux, long before he was set free by a verdict of the jury. Whatever regard she had once entertained for him—and she never professed any deep affection—had turned to hatred. She had refused to see him in the Tombs prison and his release was the signal for her to hasten to the west to have her own bonds severed. She hailed with joy the moment when she could throw aside the cloak which she had been compelled to wear over her true belief and feelings. All through the trials, it is now claimed, she simulated devotion for Molineux so that the defense might not be hampered.

camp, extended the official greetings and tendered the archbishop quarters in the Malacanan palace temporarily until permanent arrangements for his accommodation can be made. The offer was declined with thanks, as an arrangement had already been made for the delegate to use the palace of the archbishop of Manila.

Archbishop Guidi proceeded from the wharf to the cathedral, where solemn services were held. He will make a formal call on Gov. Taft tomorrow, and it is expected that the plans for the negotiations looking to the settlement of the friars' lands question will be informally discussed on that occasion.

Herrera Gets a Letter of Advice from Uribe-Uribe and Is Acting Upon It.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PANAMA, Nov. 18.—On Saturday a notification was sent to Gen. Herrera, the revolutionary commander, of the ending of the period given the revolutionists in which to surrender, and yesterday Admiral Casey received a communication from Gen. Herrera, dated November 3, asking for a vessel to bring him to a conference with the government officials.

The Bolivar left here today with an officer from the United States flagship Wisconsin for Agua Dulce, where Gen. Herrera is waiting. It is reported the revolutionists will accept the amnesty decree under the same conditions as did Gen. Uribe-Uribe. The conference will take place on board the Wisconsin.

A letter from the revolutionary general, Uribe-Uribe, who recently capitulated, written to Gen. Herrera, is published here, in which Uribe-Uribe advises Herrera to come to an arrangement with the government similar to that made by himself. He believes the interior of the republic is now completely pacified and that, therefore, no effort made by the combined Liberal forces in the department of Panama, Bolivar and Magdalena could change the fate of the revolution.

He asserts that the failure of Gen. Herrera's military operations was due to American intervention, which made it impossible for the revolutionists to attack Panama and Colon, which were scarcely defended.

COLON, Nov. 18.—The United States marines from Panama embarked on the U. S. S. Panther this morning.

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, Nov. 18.—(Copyright Cable.—Passengers who have arrived here from Colon say that from certain recent events it would seem that all peace negotiations will fall through, and from present appearance matters will have to be decided by fighting. The principal reasons for this conclusion are that there is no confidence in the promises or guarantees of the Bogota government.

Coastwise Shipping Granted.

MANILA, Nov. 18.—The United States commission has, with a slight amendment, passed the coastwise shipping act, permitting foreign vessels to engage in coastwise trade until 1904. The most important change forbids pooling either to advance prices or limit competition. Revocation of license is made the penalty for pooling.

Parliament Member Sentenced.

DUBLIN, Nov. 18.—William Duffy, M. P., (Nationalist), was sentenced today at Galway to three months' imprisonment for conspiracy and incitement to commit crime.

HERR KRUPP CLAIMS LIBEL

The Wealthiest German Promises Criminal Litigation.

BLAKMAIL CHARGED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—The seizure by the police of the Monday issue of the Vorwaerts, the Socialist organ, for publishing an article strongly reflecting upon Herr Krupp, the richest man in Germany, is likely to be followed by an extraordinarily sensational trial, as it is said today that Herr Krupp intends to bring criminal prosecution against the paper.

The publication referred to was made Saturday and the seizure of the undistributed portion of the edition Monday was followed by a search of the Vorwaerts office for the manuscript of the article in question, which was a column in length and contained what purported to be details of the Italian police investigation into the charges made. The Berlin police, during the domiciliary visit, forced the desks of several members of the reichstag, among them being Herr Bebel's. This, the Vorwaerts avers, is contrary to the constitution and will be a matter to be taken up later.

An acquaintance of Herr Krupp says the latter had been aware, since July, that a malicious story was in circulation, and that it was the result of a conspiracy of hotel keepers at the Island of Capri, where the great gunmaker has a residence, and who, supposing him to be about to build a modern hotel on the island, where he has expended several million marks on his villa and grounds, determined to drive him from the place. Herr Krupp has a taste for beautiful hotels, and has built model inns at Kiel, Essen and other places in Germany.

What began as a project to make Capri distasteful to Herr Krupp developed, Krupp's acquaintance says, into a scheme of blackmail, which he has thus far ignored. The Vorwaerts was perhaps misled, but Herr Krupp designs taking immediate stps toward legal vindication.

Epileptic Fits Can Be Cured.

Mrs. Joseph Keller, Converse, Ind., Paid Doctors Over $1,000 and They Failed to Cure Her of Fits.

She Tells Her Own Story of How Quickly and Permanently She Was Cured Within Six Months by Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer.

Marvelous as it may seem, epilepsy can be cured and is being cured every day—Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer gives instant relief from the terrible fits and spasms and gives a positive and permanent cure in every case no matter how severe or how frequent the attacks. For years epilepsy has been considered incurable and physicians marvel at, but fully indorse the wonderful cures made by Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer. Mrs. Joseph Keller, Converse, Ind., says:

MRS. JOSEPH KELLER, Converse, Ind.

"I was in a very bad, nervous condition, being so badly afflicted that I was liable to be taken with an epileptic fit on the street or wherever I might be. I was afflicted in this manner about ten years when I began using Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer, which gave me relief at once. I have had only one fit since beginning its use six months ago, and that within a short time after taking the first dose. I tried every treatment I could learn of, and had spent over a thousand dollars in ten years without any help, until I used Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer. It cured me. I am only too glad of this opportunity to inform others similarly afflicted what Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer has done for me, that they may be induced to use the medicine and be cured."

Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer is successful in curing all nervous diseases. It is for sale by all druggists at one dollar a bottle or is sent, express prepaid, on receipt of price. The J. W. Brant Co., Ltd., Albion, Mich., sends free medical advice and proof of cures to all who write.

MARY FLED FROM MARRIAGE BECAUSE LICENSE WAS GREEN.

Nine days ago Michael Drozda of McKees Rocks got a license to marry Mary Eva Orenic. He spent $40 for a blue gown and a gorgeous hat for Mary Eva and then, on the day before that set for the wedding, Mary Eva ran away with another man. Michael carried the marriage license to the court house yesterday, showed it to the clerk who issued it and asked to have the officials bring the girl back and fulfill the contract. He was sorely pained when told that the office did not guarantee a bride when it gave a license. Michael thought this was pretty hard, because he said the color of the license was to blame for his girl's flight. When he first showed the license to her she said she did not like it because it was green. She feared it would bring bad luck. Michael thinks it did—to him.

A Good Game Won't Be Played---Waddell's Crowd Is Defeated

W. & J. TURNED GENEVA DOWN

A Disagreement Over Terms Knocks Out a Good College Game.

MAY PLAY WEST VA.

Geneva college, which has made such a fine record on the intercollegiate gridiron of Western Pennsylvania this season, is much disappointed over the failure to arrange a game with the Washington and Jefferson kickers for Saturday. This would be one of the most interesting contests that could be arranged at this stage of the game, but Washington-Jefferson, according to the Geneva management, was none to anxious for a meeting.

Representatives of Geneva were in Pittsburgh yesterday en route to Beaver Falls after fruitless negotiations with the Washington-Jefferson management. Geneva, it is asserted, offered Washington-Jefferson 60 per cent of the receipts or a guarantee of $250 to play at Beaver Falls, or would play in Washington on the same basis. Washington-Jefferson could see nothing but 50 per cent of receipts, or a guarantee for the expenses of 18 players for a game in Washington. Geneva further offered, it is stated, to play in Pittsburgh, on neutral grounds, but this was unsatisfactory to the Washingtonians. Such a game would have undoubtedly been a drawing card here.

Geneva now expects to play Westminster college at Beaver Falls on Saturday, and if the University of West Virginia makes a good showing against Washington-Jefferson a game will likely be arranged to be played in Pittsburgh between Geneva and West Virginia. It is to be hoped that the contest will be arranged, as it is this sort of competition, with a question of result engendered, that is needed to stir the local football corpse into life.

GOULD PICKS YALE FOR 18 TO 0 SCORE

Last Year's Captain Declares That the Blues' Defense Is Far Superior to Harvard's.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—"Yale will win from Harvard next Saturday by a score of 18 to 0," said Charley Gould, captain of the Yale eleven last season, this evening. He added: "I regard Yale's offense and defense much superior to those of Harvard." Mr. Gould has been coaching the Amherst team, which held Harvard down 6 to 0, and said today:

"The light Amherst team pushed Harvard all over the field and would have scored on a better field."

Yale's substitute players took another day's light practice at the Yale field this afternoon. They practiced signals only, but were driven hard during that drill. Charley Gould, last year's captain, joined Coaches Hinkey and Swan. Hare and Farmer, the varsity players, who limped up yesterday, were joined today by Rafferty, who was used up by his hard work Saturday. He practiced catching punts half an hour this afternoon.

Goss did not report, although he was in town. The varsity squad arrived at 6 o'clock tonight from their lay-off of three days up the Hudson. They will take a short but sharp scrimmage at the Yale field tomorrow afternoon. All the players returned in splendid condition.

AFTER WINSTEIN.

Pittsburgh Team Needs the Big Fellow—Gammons Reports on Wednesday.

The Pittsburgh football team had a lively practice at Greensburg yesterday in preparation for the game Saturday at Philadelphia. All the players were out with the exception of Lawler and McNulty, who were in Pittsburgh negotiating with John Winstein to join the team on the Philadelphia trip. This move was deemed necessary by the management, owing to the injury to Fleisher. Winstein says he is in as fine condition as he ever was. The team will leave Thursday evening on the fast line for Philadelphia, and during the stay there will practice on the American league grounds.

Today Coach Richardson wired Gammons to report here next Wednesday for signal practice for the Thanksgiving Day game with the Athletics. The team feels confident, and everything points to a victory in Philadelphia on Thanksgiving Day. Pittsburg cannot play with the Stars on Thanksgiving Day on account of the Lafayette-Lehigh game. He wrote Richardson to this effect.

LEGAL FOOTBALL BATTLE.

Manager Berry and W. U. P. Had an Inning Over Financial Differences.

The contending factions in the local football squabble over the Colosseum grounds held a hearing in the offices of Jackson and Lang, Frick building, yesterday afternoon before Attorney L. L. Davis, the arbitrator agreed upon by both sides. The W. U. P. management was represented by Attorney R. H. Jackson and Manager Berry of Greensburg by Attorney George Wallace.

W. U. P. had several witnesses on hand to prove the verbal agreement whereby Berry was to secure a game with the Philadelphia team for W. U. P. The college team claims damages of $250 from his failure to arrange the game.

The matter will be heard in court Thursday morning, when W. U. P. will petition to have the injunction against the closing of the Colosseum grounds on them made permanent. Arbitrator Davis has not yet announced his decision.

MUST PLAY AT ANN ARBOR.

The Big Michigan-Minnesota Game Is Causing Much Trouble.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Nov. 18.—The transfer of the Michigan-Minnesota Thanksgiving day football game from Detroit to this city is meeting with much opposition. The alumni in Detroit are up in arms over the transfer. Today Coach Williams of the Minnesota team wired Athletic Director Baird as follows:

"Positively object to game at Ann Arbor. Means $5,000 loss. Plenty of time to erect a grandstand at Detroit."

The board of control of athletics met this afternoon and after considering Coach Williams' protest and Director Baird's representation in regard to the condition of the Detroit stands, decided unanimously in favor of playing the game at Ann Arbor.

W. U. P. Plays Allegheny A. C.

The Western university eleven will at 3:30 this afternoon line up against the Allegheny Athletic club on the Colosseum grounds. The Wasnesburg college team scheduled for this date has disbanded. The lineup today:

W. U. P.		Allegheny.
Patterson	L.E.	Glassbrunner
Martin	L.T.	Rittenhouse
Boyd	L.G.	Smith
Hankey	Center.	Glass
Douglass	R.G.	Bauer
G. Jackson	R.T.	Steele
McLain	R.E.	Powers
McCready	Q.B.	Ward
Hawkins	R.H.	Flannigan
Hugh	L.H.	Donley
Kerr or Scerist	F.B.	Elsom

Clearwater Outplays Weston.

Weston was clearly outplayed by Clearwater in both pool games yesterday. In the afternoon game the former was only able to score 68 points to the latter's 154, while in the evening contest the game was about as easy for the champion Clearwater made 101 points while Weston counted 45, making the total score to date: Clearwater, 401; Weston, 313. The games are being played in the Brunswick billiard room, and are watched with interest by lovers of scientific pool playing. Both players when at their best are past masters of the defense, combination, force and draw games.

Two New Players for Risher's Team.

Manager H. M. Risher of the H. L. A. C. association football team yesterday signed two new players. One, Charles McVicker, a brother of one of the old players, will play center in place of Creighton, who is to be shifted to outside right wing. Fowler, the star full back of the Swissvale Semphamore team, is the other man. Saturday the H. L. A. C. will line up against the reorganized Roscoe team.

Wall Street Flying the Blue.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—There was brisk betting today on the stock exchange on the Yale-Harvard football game for Saturday. Yale odds favor Yale at 10 to 8, and three bets at $1,000 to $800 were placed. Many bets at $200 to $60 and $100 to $50 were made.

HARVARD MAY PROTEST GLASS

Rumored That Charges of Professionalism Will Be Made.

YALE ODDS OF 10 TO 6

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 18.—Yale men here have received word from friends in Cambridge that Harvard's football authorities are considering the advisability of protesting Glass, Yale's great guard, as ineligible for Saturday's game. The report had it that Harvard received information that Glass, while at Syracuse university, played on a football team, the members of which were paid $20 each for a certain game and that Glass, having thus played for money comes under the category of professionalism.

The Yale authorities have thus far, it is said, received no protest from Harvard, upon receipt of the report, however, the Yale authorities investigated the report and it is authoritatively stated is all in favor of Glass and Yale.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Yale has picked three men from Western Pennsylvania for her football team that will play Harvard at New Haven. Thomas L. Shevlin, the right end, is a freshman in the academic department. He came from the Hill school, Pottstown, and played tackle for two years on that team. He holds the world's record for throwing the 12-pound hammer. Morgan H. Bowman, the second, the fullback of Uniontown, Pa., also prepared at Hill school, from which he was graduated last June. He will be Yale's baseball pitcher next season. Charles D. Rafferty, the left end, is a Pittsburgher and a junior in the scientific school. He has played substitute end for two years.

CORNELL BADLY CRIPPLED.

Team More Fit for Hospital Than the Pennsylvania Game.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 18.—With the Cornell-Pennsylvania game but 10 days distant, the condition of the Ithacans is far from satisfactory. Hunt and Davitt were on the hill nursing bruised legs. Shebie was taken to the infirmary with an abscess on his back and Purcell will be in no shape to play this week.

Coach Reed this afternoon gave his attention to the 1906 men who play Pennsylvania freshmen at Philadelphia on Saturday. The youngsters will be light but very fast, and it is hoped that speed can win the game.

Coach Reed says he will give the regulars two good scrimmages for the next three days and will then have either a team that can give the Quakers a good tussle or will be fit for a hospital.

PENNSYLVANIA WEAK.

Team in Practice Displays Irregular and Ragged Form.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—There was nothing inspiring about Pennsylvania's football practice on Franklin Field today. It was hard, even fierce, but the play lacked that smoothness and regularity that should mark the play of a team that has received daily coaching for almost three months.

There was little difference between the quality of the defense and offense. Both were ragged. At times the line would charge with some degree of fierceness and quickness and the result was immediate. Sometimes the runner was afforded a distance by the other backs and a substantial gain would be made. Again he was left unprotected and his individual efforts were of no avail.

HARVARD'S CENTER UNCERTAIN.

Crimson 'Varsity Put Up Strong Game in Practice Yesterday.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 18.—Tomorrow afternoon there will be a short open practice of the Harvard football eleven, offering the last opportunity to see the team before it lines up against Yale. The question of center apparently is not settled. In yesterday's practice Force was given first call in the position on the 'varsity, while Carrick, from the freshman eleven, was given preference over Sugden on the second team. The 'varsity team today played magnificent ball and effectually squelched all talk about the team being in poor condition. The betting should really favor Yale.

CINCINNATI AMBITIOUS.

Charter of New Ball Club Allows Wide Activity.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 18.—The Cincinnati baseball club company filed its incorporation papers today as to the Cincinnati Exhibition Company, with $300,000 authorized capital stock. The incorporators are August Herrman, Julius Fleischman, Max Fleischman, George B. Cox and Casper H. Rowe.

The new corporation is authorized to do a great many things in addition to giving baseball games. The company may have a country club, may own tennis courts, golf grounds or may hold any sort of athletic exhibition, under which head would come bowling contests, such a departure would not run counter to the Hollister prize fight decision.

Latrobe Wants to Be Counted In.

LATROBE, PA., Nov. 18.—To the Sporting Editor of the Gazette:

"In playing for the championship of Westmoreland county Mt. Pleasant and Brookville have overlooked the fact that Latrobe has a team which has not been defeated in two years and claims the championship until defeated. I hereby issue a challenge to play the winner of tomorrow's game on Saturday next for the championship of Westmoreland county. H. Evans Derby, manager, Latrobe A. C."

Working on the Cup Defender.

BRISTOL, R. I., Nov. 18.—Activity of workmen in the boatshops of the Herreshoffs was especially noticeable today when the pig lead for the keel of the new cup defender, something like 40 tons, arrived from Kansas City. The wooden mold for the keel is completed and it is being banked with clay as it sets upright on a marine cradle. The mould is much after the shape of that used for the Constitution, but the ends look sharper.

Greensburg Has Football Fever.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—At least 2,000 enthusiasts will see the game at Athletic park tomorrow between Bradenville and Mt. Pleasant for the county championship. Bradenville's big delegation will be accompanied by a band and the entire sporting fraternity of the coke region will cheer for the Mt. Pleasant Tigers. Both elevens insisted on 30-minute halves.

That 50 Pound Championship.

The Orient A. C. having won 14 games, tied one and lost none, claims the 50-pound championship of Western Pennsylvania. Orient claims a game from Lincoln A. C. for non-appearance, and would like to hear from 50-pound teams for Saturday at home. Out half expenses guaranteed. Orient wishes to hear from Colosseum A. C. about November 23. Address C. A. Bigley, No. 1 Randolph street, Allegheny.

Punxsutawney Is Interested.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Considerable interest is being taken in this vicinity in the 15-round contest scheduled to take place here November 28 between Al Martin of Warren and Jack Curry of Pittsburgh. Martin has been training here for several weks and his numerous admirers say he is good shape for the battle.

John O'Donnell Will Fight.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—"Billy" Williams, a bantam weight boxer of this city, today signed articles to meet John O'Donnell of Austin, Pa., Thanksgiving Day, before the Keystone A. C. of Austin. It will be a 15-round contest and the men will go in at 112 pounds.

RUBE WADDELL AND BUTLER MET DEFEAT

Teck Matthews' Franklin Team Victorious by a Score of 11 to 0—Hard Line Bucking.

FRANKLIN, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Rube Waddell and his band of football players from Butler met defeat here today by a score of 11 to 0. Waddell was a tower of strength for the visitors, but their line could not withstand the fierce bucking of the locals. The line bucking of Teck Matthews and Rogers was terrific and they rarely failed to make a gain. Burns, McConnell and Donahoe also did some excellent work for Franklin. Waddell was injured in the first half and in the middle of the second half was forced to retire. The ball was in the visitors' territory most of the time and within a few feet of the goal when the game was called to allow the Butler team to catch the train. Lineup:

Franklin—11.		Butler—0.
Campbell	L.E.	Ramsey
McConnell	L.T.	Hamilton
Murray	L.G.	Miller
Jarrett	Center.	Graf
Smiley	R.G.	Waddell-Blair
Ringsley, Brennan	R.T.	Irwin
Donahoe	R.E.	Ritchey
Forsythe	Q.B.	Cain
Rogers	R.H.	Goehen
Matthews	L.H.	Feigel
Burns	F.B.	Campbell

Touchdowns—Matthews, Rogers. Goal—McConnell. Umpire and referee—Dunn and Nixon. Timekeepers—Printz and Roch. Linesmen—Hall and Smith. Time of halves—30 and 12 minutes.

DREYFUSS LOOKING UP THE SCHEDULE

Col. Pulliam ad the President Paid a Visit to Herrmann of the Cincinnati Club.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—President Barney Dreyfuss and Secretary Harry Pulliam of the Pittsburgh club were in the city today. They called on President Herrmann of the local club in the morning to discuss the schedule for next season, Mr. Dreyfuss being a member of the schedule committee and anxious to secure the opinions of all the members of the league on the question of dates for next year.

Mr. Dreyfuss said that Pittsburgh would lose to the American league only the players who had been released by the Pirate management, namely, Tannehill, Chesbro, O'Connor and Davis. Leach, Conroy and Smith surely would stick to the team. The visitors made an informal call on Colonel Schoepf of the traction company, took in the races at Latonia in the afternoon and left for Pittsburgh tonight.

MISS FOWNES' FAST GOLF.

Won a 36-Hole Match Playing Against Handicap of 54 Strokes.

In the womens golf tournament on the Highland course yesterday Miss Mary Fownes again displayed some very fast golf. Playing against a handicap of 28 strokes she was all even with Miss Elizabeth Hillman at the end of 18 holes, having covered them in 90 strokes, one over her record of 89. Another 18 holes were necessary and Miss Fownes won by 2 up in the 36 played. Miss Golding Gerdes with 8 strokes beat Miss Louise Elkins by 3 up and 2 to play, and will today meet Miss Fownes in the final match.

In the mens tournament C. B. Fownes beat Louis Brown by 2 up and 1 to play; W. C. Fownes, Jr., defeated W. C. Fownes by 2 up; G. A. Ormiston played E. Z. Smith all even, and H. C. Fownes beat Dr. Arundel by 3 up and 1 to play.

Vanderbilt's Heavy Winnings.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—W. K. Vanderbilt comes ninth on the list of winners on the French turf in 1902. His winnings amount to $55,130.

Wu Starts for Home.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—Minister Wu, who for more than five years has represented the Chinese government at Washington, left here at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon for San Francisco over the Pennsylvania railroad. He will sail for China November 25.

FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF WESTMORELAND

Mt. Pleasant and Bradenville Battle at Greensburg Today for Amateur Honors.

MT. PLEASANT, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Mt. Pleasant is ready for Bradenville, and when these two teams face each other at Athletic park, Greensburg, tomorrow afternoon the disputed claim of the county's amateur championship will be decided. The local eleven is in good shape for the contest and each player is determined to do his share toward retaining the county championship.

Reports from Greensburg are that Bradenville is the favorite in the betting line. This is pleasant news here, and all the Bradenville money in sight tomorrow can be easily placed for the local people have confidence in their eleven and are ready to back their team heavily. Nearly every available vehicle in the town has been engaged for tomorrow and with anything like fair weather 500 people from here will be present and root for Mt. Pleasant.

NOVEL ATTACKS TRUSTS.

Withdrawn from the Market for Correction of an Error—Written by Magnate's Daughter.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—"Mrs. Gertrude Daniels' novel, 'Eshek the Oppressor,' was withdrawn from the market because of an unfortunate slip made in one chapter of the book," said a representative of Rand, McNally & Co. today. "We expect to have the book again on sale within a few days.

"I wish to emphasize the statement that the book was not withdrawn because of its attack on trusts. It will stand as first issued, except for the correction of an annoying error. The tenor of the story is not to be modified, and the change to be made is not such as the author would think of making any objection to."

The speaker declined to explain the nature of the alleged error, but his expressions seemed to indicate that it was more than typographical.

In attacking the trusts, Mrs. Daniels does not seem to have been disturbed by the fact that her wealthy father, O. W. Potter, aided in the formation of the United States Steel Corporation by turning over his interests to the agents of J. P. Morgan & Co.

SOLDIER LOST HIS JOB.

Member of Tenth Regiment Says He Must Quit Guard or Remain Idle.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Organized labor is taking a stand against members of the national guard. The local brewers' union, it is charged, has caused the discharge of George W. Brown, an old employe of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company's plant here, because he, as a member of Company C of this place, served at Shamokin with the Tenth regiment. His union expelled him for serving against the strikers, but he was told that if he would leave the militia they would reinstate him in the union.

Brown applied to Capt. Beeson for his discharge, and was refused. He has written to Gov. Stone, reciting the case, and says he is in no position to assert his constitutional rights, and cannot fight the union or prosecute them, and asks the governor to grant his discharge, or to command Capt. Beeson to discharge him from Company C.

The Coming of Miss Russell.

There are few actresses on the stage today more popular than Annie Russell. She comes to Alvin next week with a new play. This time it is "The Girl and the Judge," written by Clyde Fitch, America's recognized foremost playwright. Miss Russell has already been seen here in four standard plays—plays that were recognized as the best during the seasons of their presentations. She has been especially fortunate in appearing in productions of unquestioned merit. "The Girl and the Judge" is both novel and unique. It is out of the ordinary. Of course, there is a beautiful love story from beginning to end. Charles Frohman has provided for Miss Russell a company that would be difficult to excel. It is not a large one, but what it loses in number is supplied in superior ability. That ever delightful veteran, Mrs. G. H. Gilbert, a most distinct ornament to the drama in America, is with the company, also Mme. Cottrelly, Mrs. McKee Rankin, Mrs. Dellenbaugh, Orrin Johnson, John Glendining and three others.

Anker Girl Released on Bail.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Pauline Anker, the girl whose unrequited love led her to throw vitriol into the face of George Loughner, a postoffice clerk, was this morning released from jail on bail. She expresses penitence. Loughner is recovering.

Washington Annexes a Borough.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—A step toward annexing the surrounding boroughs and suburbs with Washington was made last night when the borough council passed an ordinance annexing Tylerdale, a suburb of over 2,000 population, which has grown up about the mills of the Tyler Tube & Pipe Company.

Railway Franchise Granted.

WARREN, O., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—A franchise was granted by the Trumbull county commissioners today for the new electric line from Middlefield to Sharon, Pa., to be built by the F. B. Morgan syndicate. It is for 50 years and specifies the road must be completed by January 1, 1904.

FIRE EATER THE ONLY FAVORITE

Outsiders Won Five of the Six Events at Bennings.

TRACK WAS MUDDY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—The rain of last night and this morning made the track at Bennings sticky and held the attendance down to the regulars today. Outsiders again took five of the six events, Fire Eater, at 3 to 5, being the only favorite to win first money. Carbuncle, Extinguisher, Meistersinger and Ascension on the flat and Judge Phillips over the sticks were the others to earn brackets. Weather cloudy. Summary:

First race, highweight handicap, 2-year-olds and upward, 6 furlongs—Carbuncle, 129, J. Martin, 5 to 1 and 8 to 5, won; Paul Clifford, 130, Gannon, 7 to 5 and 2 to 5, second; Examiner, 115, Lyne, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:17. Setauket, Ben Battle and Virginia Grace also ran.

Second race, mile and 40 yards—Extinguisher, 110, Shea, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, won; Blackstock, 110, Redfern, 3 to 1 and even, second; Grail, 107, Lyne, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:48. Gallant, Gold Cure, Alite Virgie, Harrison, Andree and Bene also ran.

GREGOR K. A SURPRISE.

Ran Away at Lakeside from the Horses That Had Beaten Him Before.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Gregor K. disgracefully beaten in his last previous start, met the same horses again today in the third race at Lakeside, and made them look cheap. Although having an additional five pounds on his back, he led throughout and crossed the winning line four and a half lengths ahead of Jove. The Don, winner over Gregor K. in their former meeting, was beaten a head for the third money by Rankin.* The handicap at 1 1-16 mile went to Woodwink. Weather clear and cool; track muddy. Summaries:

First race, 6½ furlongs—Prue, 105, Robbins, 2 to 1, won; Ben Frost, 119, Morpher, 15 to 1, second; Old Mike, 119, Hoar, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:27 2-5. Sand Flea, Meraps, Tom Collin, Nat Eggleston, Miss Shanley, Gus My Circe, Lady Rice and Frances M. also ran.

Second race, 6½ furlongs—Howendobler, 114, Munro, 10 to 1, won; Filiform, 117, Birkenruth, 5 to 1, second; Ranina, 110, Hoar, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:27 2-5. Henry of Franstamar, Eva's Darling, James J. Corbett, Mission, Barkleylte and Trillgam also ran.

Third race, 6½ furlongs—Gregor K., 115, Hoar, 7 to 10, won; Jove, 98, Davisson, 6 to 1, second; Rankin, 98, J. Walsh, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:26 1-5. The Don, Chicago Girl, Arvenis, Pickles and Florstan ran.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 miles—Hoodwink, 90, W. Knapp, 2 to 1, won; Dr. Stephens, 106, Robbins, 8 to 5, second; Lady Strathmore, 104, Hoar, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:55 2-5. Scarlet Lily, Yellowstone and Prince of Africa also ran.

Fifth race, mile and 70 yards—Chickadee, 103, W. Hicks 8 to 5, won; David S., 109, Fuller, 20 to 1, second; Ida V., 105, W. Knapp, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:54. Althea, Miss Liza, Tickful and Prima II. also ran.

Sixth race, mile and 70 yards—Lena, 117, Hoar, 3 to 1, won; Tee Ladesan, 105, Butler, 20 to 1, second; Hub Pratther, 100, Robbins, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:54. Touttiah, Inverary II., Faquita, Tulare, Knight Banneret, Egyptian Prince, Laroop, False Lead and Great Star also ran.

Lakeside entries for tomorrow:

First race, 6 furlongs, selling—Red Apple, 106; Limelight, 102; Guy H., 101; Anna, Big Injun, Old Mike, 98; Gus, 98; Gus My Circe, I. Samelson, 96; Prue, Dodie S., 95; Faquita, Sue Johnson, Nat Eggleston, 93.

WEST VA. TACKLES W. & J. TEAM TODAY

Both Colleges Look for a Hot Contest Though Washington Is Picked to Win.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The Washington and Jefferson football squad had final practice this afternoon in preparation for the game tomorrow with the West Virginia university team at College park. The game will undoubtedly be the best on the home grounds this season. The West Virginia team has never been able to score, although one year they held W. & J. down to four points. West Virginia's chances are probably better this year than ever before. The locals are showing an entirely new spirit and dash this week, and the men went through their work tonight with a unison that promises well. The West Virginia backers have telephoned here for bets, and it is likely that a lot of money will be wagered.

The local players are all in fair condition with the exception of Gibson, who had his ankle injured Saturday. He is not laid up, however, and may be in the game. The lineup will likely be as follows: Welty or Hartzell, end; Heimberger, left tackle; Gibson or Lange, left guard; Loucks or Sherrard, center; McCleary, right guard; Hayes, right tackle; McElvitt, right end; McDonough, quarter back; Eckles, left half; Longwell, right half; Murphy, full back.

STERLING TEAM VICTORIOUS.

Enterprise Basketball Five Defeated by a Score of 50 to 3.

The Sterling basketball team easily defeated the Enterprise team by a score of 50 to 3. McMahon led the team in shooting, while Berges and W. Billinger were not far behind. Drum and Sutter did good work at center, while Yoedt and G. Billinger played well at guard. Score:

Sterling—50.		Enterprise—3.
McMahon	Forward	Stauffer
W. Billinger	Forward	Stewart
Sutter	Center	Drum
Yoedt	Guard	Graham
G. Billinger and Berges	Guard	Steupe

Field goals—McMahon 10, Berges 5, W. Billinger 4, Sutter, Yoedt, G. Billinger and Stauffer. Fouls—McMahon 3, Berges 2 and Graham. Referee—Geisler. Timer—Ford.

Enthused Over Football.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Nov. 18.—For the first time this season there is genuine enthusiasm in Morgantown over football. In a few hours today a special train to the Washington and Jefferson game tomorrow was arranged for and 300 tickets were sold. It will leave here at 7 o'clock and will take a band along. The university team left this afternoon and will spend the night in Pittsburgh. Manager Dawson took 16 men along. There is here that this year's game will not be a one-sided affair as usual. The team will make a desperate effort to score on the Washington team.

WABASH HELD UP BY NEW CASTLE COUNCILS

Permission to Cross Streets Refused by the City Authorities.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 18.—Entrance of the Wabash railroad into this city is being held up by councils. The purchased right-of-way of the Wabash here follows the course of the Shenango to the intersection of the Neshannock and thence along an unused mill race track to the intersection of South Mill and Water streets, the local terminal. To reach this point the Wabash must cross South Jefferson street, but councils, so far, have refused this crossing. Definite action will be taken by councils on Thursday night.

The Wabash met with a direct refusal when it asked for a grade crossing over Jefferson street. Last night Attorney Akens asked for the Wabash to be allowed to build a track, agreeing to pay the entire cost of the overhead bridge, to elevate the street at that point, and one-half the cost of any abutments or masonry walls needed, in addition. Councils refused to consider this, but would make no counter proposition.

MASONS HOLD CELEBRATION.

Initiation of George Washington Commemorated at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The celebration this evening by the Free Masons of Johnstown and vicinity, commemorating the sesqui-centennial of the initiation of George Washington into the fraternity, was one of the most elaborate affairs ever held in this city. Among those who delivered addresses were the Rev. T. H. Woodring, D. D., of the Franklin Street Methodist Episcopal church; John Jones, the Rev. W. T. Colliver, George E. Hamilton, G. B. Somerville of Windber, R. L. Drukenmiller, David Evans and the Rev. Calvin F. Gephart, pastor of the Lavansville Lutheran church, and master of the Masonic lodge at Somerset.

At the conclusion of the banquet toasts were responded to by H. W. Store, George W. Moses, Curt C. Campbell, W. H. Rose, Congressman Alvin Evans and Anderson H. Walters. John H. Walters was toastmaster. Three hundred Masons and their friends attended.

TO BUILD STEEL PLANT.

Land Purchased at New Castle for Mill and Furnaces.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—A land deal which promises to be one of great importance to the industrial development of the city was announced today. Spearman & McKelvey, who operate large iron interests at Sharpsville and Leetonia, have purchased the Graham and Weinshank farms, near town, paying in all more than $32,000. The tract covers 120 acres.

It is given out on good authority that a steel mill and two large furnaces will be erected. The ground lies in the heart of the limestone deposits.

THE MONEY OUTLOOK CHECKS SPECULATION

Time Loans Quoted Above the Legal Rate, but There Is Plenty of Money for High Grade Investments---Local Securities Steady.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Aside from a few specialties there was an entire lack of enthusiasm in the eastern stock market yesterday. As the day wore along there were periods of pronounced dullness, prices averaged lower, and the close was heavy, at or near the lowest level for railroad stocks. London quotations and the operations for foreigners were not influential upon the market here, but the absence of support in such stocks as St. Paul, Baltimore & Ohio and Union Pacific caused some profit-taking throughout the railway list. Missouri Pacific reported an increase of $75,000 in net earnings for September, and an increase of $41,000 in gross for the second week in November, but the stock declined from 106¾ to 105½. Canadian Pacific reported an increase of $101,000 for the second week in November, but the stock declined nearly 2 per cent. Wabash reported an increase of $222,550 for the second week in November, but this likewise passed unnoticed, as did the increase of $52,845 for Louisville & Nashville, and $37,397 for Southern Railway. The three strongest stocks on the list were Manhattan, which advanced to and closed at the highest price of the year; Sugar, which rose to 119¾ on the announcement of a 10-point advance in the price of refined, and Colorado Fuel & Iron, which advanced to 87½ on a large short interest, but subsequently broke to 84, and closed at 83¾ bid. Late in the day, the dullness of the general list continuing, selling became more pronounced, and the entire railway list declined, carrying with it some of the industrials. The steel stocks closed at the lowest. The sales reached 642,000 shares.

The heaviness of the market could not be traced to any direct news having an adverse influence upon values, although there was a story in the street late in the day that a prominent house contemplated dissolution, and that a considerable portion of the selling was for the purpose of facilitating its final settlement. No name was mentioned, and the proposed action was understood to be entirely voluntary. The argument of professional traders, whose operations furnished the bulk of the business, was that the market, having had an advance for two days, a reaction was due and arrived on time. If there is one thing upon which the street is agreed, it is that monetary conditions are not favorable to a bull market. Not that bank reserves are abnormally low; on the contrary they are above the season's average for the past five years. But there is a somewhat unsettled feeling as to the status of various underwriting syndicates, the extent of whose obligations are not definitely known. At no time during the recent slump was there any serious apprehension as to the status of brokers. It is stated on competent authority that there was never a time when the public's response to the calls for additional margins was more prompt than during the past month. The only apprehension was regarding the syndicates, and the intimations that some of the undertakings had been offered recently at considerable concessions upon the "ground-floor" terms, naturally aroused conjecture as to what these underwriters must be in to lead them to make the proposed sacrifice.

There was more talk as to the outlook for the money market than at any time for more than a week. The most prominent feature of the market was the scarcity of offerings of time money and the high rates quoted for short-time loans. It was reported that one loan for $500,000, running for 75 days, was negotiated in Wall street yesterday at 7½ per cent. Sixty and ninety-day loans were quoted with a commission which represented 8 to 9 per cent, and 6 per cent was bid for four months' loans. While these rates were being quoted, call loans were ranging between 4½ and 5½ per cent. These quotations reflect on the one hand the indisposition of the banks to make time loans until after the end of the year, and on the other, anxiety on the part of borrowers to provide against possible contingencies which may arise around the annual settlement period. The two fold drain upon the banks continues. On Monday the New York sub-treasury collected $797,117 for customs, and yesterday it transferred $960,000 to San Francisco and $200,000 to New Orleans on account of the banks, the net loss of the latter since last Friday amounting to $838,000. Until the requirements of the country will be ascertained, and the probabilities for gold exports removed, the banks will be justified in keeping their resources well in hand. At the same time stock market operators will be loth to load up with time money at high rates. The effect of the situation is to curtail speculative operations.

While it is true that time money rates are high, it is likewise true that there is an abundance of money for high grade investments. Proof of this was furnished yesterday when a large financial institution in Pittsburgh subscribed for $500,000 of the New York Central 3½ per cent refunding bonds, paying a premium therefor. These bonds are issued for the retirement of $24,000,000 higher rate bonds which fall due January 1. On the 24th instant the second payment of $21,500,000 on the new Baltimore & Ohio stock falls due, and on December 2 the first installment of 50 per cent on the $15,000,000 Illinois Central new stock is payable.

There was a further falling off in dealings on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange yesterday, but the tone of the general market was steady to firm. The sales aggregated 4,335 shares, but no one stock contributed as much as 600 shares to the total. Crucible Steel common recovered to 19¼, and closed firm at 19⅛ bid, while the preferred was firm at 84 bid. United States Steel sympathized with the heaviness in the east, declining to 36¾, while the preferred after selling at 84¼@85, closed at 84¼ asked. Pittsburgh Brewing common was strong and higher, opening at 30¾ and advancing to 30⅞, closing at the top. The preferred was a fraction lower, selling at 46¾. Fire Proofing was also firmer, the common advancing to 25¾ and the preferred to 87¾. There was little doing in the coal stocks and prices were nominally unchanged. Window Glass was firm, selling at 51 and closing at that price bid. Pittsburgh Plate Glass sold at 126 and was in demand at that price bid at the close. The Westinghouse stocks were quieter than for some time past. Air Brake sold unchanged at 170, while Electric second preferred rallied to 99 and closed at that bid. Union Switch & Signal was offered at 92, and Westinghouse Machine advanced to 80 bid.

Bank and trust company shares were irregular. Small lots of Diamond Savings sold at 225, a decline of 6 from the highest point of last week. Pennsylvania Trust sold at 287½, a decline of 2½, and American Trust, while it did not change hands, was offered down to 146, closing at 140 bid. The rapid fluctuations of this stock continues to puzzle the street. Marine National bank advanced 3 per cent, selling at 118, and Safe Deposit & Trust was 1 higher at 110. Bank of Pittsburgh declined to 134 and Federal National to 141. There was no quotations on Pittsburgh Trust or Colonial Trust.

PITTSBURGH STOCKS.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Bank for Secured Savings advanced to 87 bid.

Moore Bros. were credited with buying Rock Island stock yesterday.

A sale of Pittsburgh & Charleroi 5s was reported at 104¾, an advance of ¾ per cent over the last previous sale.

At the close of the market last night 1½ per cent premium was bid for use of Colorado Fuel & Iron stock until today.

American Clay Manufacturing common stock was offered on the exchange yesterday at 4, the first public quotation in months.

The comptroller of the currency has approved of the selection of the Mellon national bank of Pittsburgh as a reserve agent for the Citizens national bank of Latrobe, Pa.

Local stock tickers have been installed in the brokers' offices and banks and were being tested yesterday, preparatory to reporting continuous quotations from the Pittsburgh Stock exchange.

The directors of the United States Reduction & Refining Company yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the preferred and 1 per cent on the common stock, payable January 1.

Peoples National bank was offered on the exchange at 420; German American Savings & Trust closed at 165@170; Diamond Savings at 225@250; North American Savings at 130@131; South Side Trust at 100½@105.

The comptroller of the currency has authorized T. C. Neal, G. B. West, Samuel McCoach, E. Roome, John Kinkaid and D. E. Thomen to organize the Peoples national bank of Statesville, W. Va., with $75,000 capital.

The directors of the Railway Steel Spring Co. yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable December 20 to stock of record December 5. The preferred stock was quoted at 88@88¼.

Operations of the local clearing house yesterday were unusually heavy, the exchanges reaching nearly $6,000,000, and the balances footing up $1,684,332. Of the latter the Tradesmens National had a credit balance of $521,600, which it is inferred represented the settlement of the deal for the change of control of the institution.

One of Pittsburgh's large financial institutions yesterday subscribed for $500,000 New York Central 3½ per cent refunding gold bonds, which mature in 1997, and were issued to refund underlying bonds falling due January 1.

The Seamans Savings bank of New York, which has paid 4 per cent on deposits, will probably reduce the rate in January next to 3½ per cent. Nearly all the leading savings banks in New York city made such a reduction some time ago and officials of the Seamans say their bank will probably soon join the majority.

The comptroller of the currency announces the following selection of new officers by banks: The Marine national bank of Erie, Glenn C. Page, cashier, vice Harry Gunnison, deceased; the Noble County national bank of Caldwell, O., E. J. Hogg, vice president, vice L. B. Frazier.

The head of a New York commission house wired his office to buy some time ago wonderful stories were afloat about Baltimore & Ohio and 115 to 118 looked very cheap for the stock. Now the same people are bearish around 99. It's a fine theory to disagree with them now, as we did two months ago, and rather advise purchase at present prices, with a view of making about five points."

Wall street dispatch: "A gentleman who is thoroughly familiar with the Steel situation and who is closely associated with the United States Steel corporation, says: 'A great deal of work is to be done by the Steel Corporation in concentrating and improving its mills. Much money has already been expended in this direction, and much more will be spent if the New Jersey courts allow the proposed bond conversion plan to be carried out.'"

A large percentage of the buying of local stocks these days is cash business. This accounts for the numerous odd lots of stock changing hand. Several instances have occurred this week where customers have come to brokers' offices with liberal margins that would have been accepted under ordinary circumstances, but when it was explained that some difficulty might be encountered in carrying the stock in bank, the customer has expressed the purchase outright of stock to the amount of the margin.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburgh Trust Company was held yesterday, at which time the old board was re-elected, as follows: B. F. Jones, J. F. Buchanan, H. Sohl, Jr., W. P. Snyder, George M. Laughlin, S. H. Vandergrift, John C. Bell, J. V. McVay and Chas. H. Rhoads. Since its organization the Pittsburgh Trust Company has adopted the rule of publishing monthly statements, in addition to the two reports made each year to the state banking department, showing its condition, so that stockholders know in advance practically what the annual report will show. The balance sheet of the Capital stock, $2,000,000; surplus, $1,000,000; profits (not including accrued interest), $2,050,856; deposits subject to check, $7,116,540; savings deposits, $3,802,054, and time deposits, $4,858,586. The total resources foot up $18,612,673 36.

In a Fourth avenue office yesterday the history of American Tin Plate common was recalled for the purpose of encouraging holders of some of the local non-dividend paying common shares in corporations, which are believed to be making enough money to pay dividends. Holders of Tin Plate had their patience tried more severely than those of any other corporation which ultimately made good the promises of its prospectus. In April, 1899, the stock sold at 53, and from 52¾ then there was a slow but continuous decline until the price got as low as 18, on June 25, 1900. From that point there was a steady rise until 1901, was touched at the end of that year, but dividends still being withheld, the stock began to decline again in January, 1901, when the announcement of an 8 per cent dividend, payable 2 per cent quarterly during 1901, started the famous boom in the stock, which never stopped until it reached 79 in February of that year. Then it was taken into the United States Steel Corporation, each 100 shares Tin common receiving in exchange 20 shares United States Steel preferred and 125 shares common. At the highest market value of the latter Tin common was worth 38½, and at yesterday's quotations was worth about 63½.

Following is a comparative statement of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad system for the year ended June 30, 1902. The income account compares as follows with the previous year, Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern included in both years:

	1902.	Changes. Increase.
Gross	$51,178,060	$4,065,630
Expenses	32,888,563	$1,842,333
Net	$18,289,497	$2,221,297
Expenses	2,250,108	1,433,313
Total increase	$20,570,605	$3,654,612
Deductions	11,558,960	1,822,632
Net income	$ 9,020,945	$1,831,980
Dividends	3,919,924	619,924
Balance	$ 5,101,021	$1,212,036
Add. and imp.	2,500,000
Surplus	$ 2,601,021	$1,212,036
Previous surplus	1,706,719	1,388,185
Total surplus	$ 4,307,740	$2,601,021

From the total surplus of $4,307,740 deduct dividend on common stock of 2 per cent, paid March 3, 1902, $1,919,924 and sundry adjustments, net balance of $162,594, thus leaving $2,625,221 to credit to the profit and loss account.

There has been a quite general impression that with the end of the war in South Africa a resumption of gold mining on a larger scale than ever before would quickly take place. Mr. C. W. Barron, manager of the Philadelphia News Bureau, who has returned recently from Europe, in an interesting review of the foreign financial situation, says: "Mining in South Africa has been very scientific, but the shading of prices in London and on the European bourses has been far more scientific. Today the London market is more localized in South African mining shares than was ever the Boston shares market in copper stocks. Almost nothing else is actively quoted in London, but these South African gold shares and the dividend return upon them for the next ten years cannot yield less than the prevailing London money rate nor can investments therein prove profitable if money is to rule above 3 per cent. But the serious factor in the money situation is not that Kaffir will fall upon a very high basis and must jolt down with any failure to realize the full expectations of the South African promoters, but is in the prospect that it will be many months, and not years, before the gold output of South Africa is restored to what it was before the war. The Dutch held the blacks under and forced them to work. The English demoralized them during the war, raised their wages from 25 cents a day to $1 and more, or from 1 shilling to 5 shilling. The result is that the Kaffir refuses to go back to the mines, and has turned his new found wealth into cattle and wives. The English hope to force him back to the mines by a 42 hut tax and some proposed drastic legislation, but the longest heads say this is a serious problem for English civilization in South Africa, and with its settlement can come no relief to the present world's money market."

THE MONEY MARKET.

In Pittsburgh call and time loans are quoted at 6 per cent. There is, if anything, a little better supply of funds at this rate. Clearing house comparisons:

NEVILLE ISLAND DAM.

Capt. Craighill Says Another Year's Work Will Finish the Job.

Capt. W. E. Craighill of Wheeling, engineer in charge of upper Ohio river improvements, in discussing affairs in his district, told a Gazette reporter that within another year dam No. 2 of the upper Ohio river series at Neville island should be in working order. The work has progressed slowly at Merrill, but that dam will not be of material benefit to the river interests until the intervening structures are finished.

In a few weeks all work on the upper Ohio dams will cease for the winter. Rivermen are of the opinion that the agitation for an improved system of dams will result in more work. As soon as the upper Ohio river dams are completed the pools will furnish good harborage for coal fleets, and instead of hauling coal in the pools of the Monongahela and in the Pittsburgh harbor for southern shipment, coal can be sent farther down. It will be two or three years before the dams now building are finished.

News of the Rivers.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks on the gauge at the Davis island dam indicated a stage of 2.6 feet and the river was stationary.

The force on the towboat Winifreda was yesterday reduced to a single crew.

The Tarascon is now the acknowledged "Queen" of the sternwheel flotilla of the lower Ohio.

The towboat Oakland, which has received new boilers, will be ready to raise steam next Saturday.

Many applications of Mississippi pilots have been filed on Harbor No. 28 for membership in the association.

The towboat J. B. Finley is getting a general overhauling at Jeffersonville and will soon be in perfect order.

C. Jutte & Co. have 24 coalboats in the Clinton landing, in the Pittsburgh harbor, awaiting southern shipment.

The steamer Mayflower, which recently tore off her guards in a collision with the towboat Wilmot, is receiving new ones.

New concrete walls are being built at lock No. 9 on the Monongahela river and Capt. Sibert is there to look after the progress of the work.

Capt. Max Sebold is now a resident of Louisville, having moved there from Pittsburgh to look after the interests of the river coal combination.

While moderate rains fell up the Allegheny and Monongahela valleys yesterday, no rises of consequence are reported. Indications favor additional rainfalls.

Reports from New Orleans say the Lotus Sims, that was in the St. Louis and Memphis trade for several weeks, is doing a good business in the bends trade.

A special meeting of the Pilots' Corporation will be held at the rooms of Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots, this morning at 10:30 o'clock to transact important business.

ATTORNEY PURCHASES PROPERTY IN EAST END

Penn Avenue Corner About to Change Hands---Big Plant for Lawrenceville---Tenants Seeking Railroad Suburbs.

Attorney Johns McCleave has purchased from Wray G. Marioll a fine residence property in the Nineteenth ward for $54,000. The lot is in the east side of Negley avenue near Hays street, having a froniage of 100 feet by a depth of 180 feet. It is improved with a handsome brick house of 12 rooms. The purchase was made for an investment.

The deeds have been registered in the sale of the Seely proprty at the southwest corner of Penn avenue and Whitfield street, Twentieth ward, the consideration being $111,409 50. The lot measures 131x200 feet, extending through to Mignonette street, and has erected upon it a number of dwellings. The purchaser was Timothy Barrett, who, it is reported, is about to turn the property over to another party at a good profit.

Through the agency of Barr Bros. & Co., J. Hanley has sold to H. Simon Banov of Apolla, a property in Preble avenue, Ninth ward, Allegheny, for $11,750. The lot is 40x101 feet and is improved with two business houses, which the buyer will tear down, to make way for improvements.

Daniel E. Yohe has sold to C. E. Aull and Frank Dibert an improved lot, 24x89 feet, in the west side of Dalton avenue, near Willard avenue, Twenty-second ward, for $10,000.

Starting a Big Plant.

Wickes Bros., boiler manufacturers of Saginaw, Mich., started a surveyor yesterday laying out the site for their new plant at the corner of Forty-sixth street and the Allegheny Valley railroad. The firm owns three lots, measuring 250x100, 100x100 and 100x170 feet, respectively, two of them facing in Forty-sixth street. It is the company's expectation to cover the entire plot with factories and foundries. At present only one building will be started. It is said, a two-story brick boiler shop, 50x100 feet, which will cost at least $25,000.

Architect Thomas H. Scott has awarded the contract to the National Lumber Company of McKeesport for the erection of a three-story brick store and apartment building for Peter W. Smith. The building will cost $25,000, and will be one of the neatest business houses in McKeesport.

Charles Mellhauser has the foundations in for six brick houses which he is building in Greenfield avenue, near Hazelwood avenue. The houses were designed by Architects Mueller & Bast, and will cost $40,000.

Contractors John H. Trimble & Bros. have started the erection of a $15,000 brick and stone house in Woodland road, for J. W. Brown.

Brisk Inquiry Along Railroads.

One of the noticeable tendencies that brokers report among tenants this fall is the disposition to move out of the city to suburban points along the railroads. The supply of houses in the East End is so limited that few brokers pretend to keep a rent list that can be called by that name. In the Oakland and Bellefield districts the condition is no better. Houses that rent for from $30 to $50 a month are practically out of the market, as far as the unsiong homeseeker is concerned, and a weary tramp from one to another of the down-town offices continues him, or more often her, that the quest is useless. Flats, which are supposed to be much wanted at this season of the year, are deemed by many people to be had at the prices quoted above, but the call for them is far less than for houses. Landlords of apartment houses are generally averse to children and the head of a large family may consider desirable, gets a cold response to his inquiries, and from his own experience often applies for a flat only as a last resort. All these conditions are driving people out to the suburbs, where the larger houses are easier to obtain. This fall they show a decided preference for suburbs along the steam railroads where the 40 minutes' ride on a strap is not to be reckoned with. Brokers who have properties along the Panhandle, the West Penn, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, the Ft. Wayne, or any of the railroads which offer frequent service, are finding it very easy to turn their patrons to these places in lieu of the city locations which they cannot furnish.

Another Church for East End.

A new church to be known as the Central Fourth Avenue church is likely to be built soon at the corner of Center and Milvale avenues. The present site of the Fourth avenue Baptist church, from which the new congregation will be formed, is valued at $250,000, and a very favorable offer is said to have been submitted for the property. The church is 75 years old, one of the oldest in the city, and a large proportion of the congregation live in the neighborhood of the proposed new house of worship.

The brick work on the Baldwin township school house is nearly completed, and it is expected that the building will be finished by February 1. It was designed by Architects E. J. Carlisle & Co., and will cost $30,000.

The National Casket Company will build a brick storage merchandise room at the corner of Fourth street and Duquesne way, Fourth ward, at a cost of $35,000. The site was occupied until recently by Warden & Oxnard, oil manufacturers, who moved to the corner of Ninth street and Duquesne way.

Seven more brick venesred houses are to be built in Idlewood and Sterrett streets, Twenty-first ward, by John Finley, at a cost of $36,500.

Small building permits were issued to Joseph Atwell, brick dwelling, Tenth street, Eleventh ward, $3,000; Mrs. Annie Donahoe, brick dwelling, Irwin street, Eleventh ward, $3,000; Louis Haas, frame dwelling, Haverhill street, Twenty-seventh ward, $1,900; Mrs. Annie Miller, frame dwelling, Sylvan avenue and Monongahela street, Twenty-second ward, $1,450.

Two Successful Projects.

Wilkinsburg: E. Hallett sold to Samuel Sproul a two-story brick house, lot 26x100 feet, in the west side of West street, near Kelly street, Wilkinsburg, for $5,000. He also sold to Samuel McElhaney a similar house on lot of the same size in the south side of Hallett place, near Fremont street, Bellevue, for $5,000. This makes a total of 27 houses that Mr. Hallett has disposed of since September 1 at prices ranging from $4,000 to $8,000 each. Of the 17 brick houses he built in Bellevue last year only three now remain unsold.

Bluff street: William H. McClelland sold to Caroline Henning an improved lot 20x80 feet, in the north side of Bluff street, near Gist street, Fourteenth ward, for $1,750.

Ernin street: Peter McGovern sold to Solomon Golden an improved lot 23x112 feet, in Erin street, Eleventh ward, for $6,600.

Ward street: Joseph C. Cunco sold to Louis Harris and others an improved lot 20x107 feet in the west side of Ward street, Ninth ward, for $6,000.

Carson street: Daniel Wenke sold to Max Pearlman an improved lot 25x100 feet, in Carson street, Twenty-ninth ward, for $6,000.

Thirtieth street: Edward Davison sold to the Park Steel Company an irregular shaped lot containing about 1,150 feet, in the west side of Thirtieth street, Twelfth ward, for $2,750. The property adjoins the present holdings of the company.

Oakley: John H. Brown sold to John B. McIntyre an improved lot 22x91 feet, in Coleridge street, Eighteenth ward, for $2,000.

Caskaskee: The Belmont Realty Company sold these lots in its new plan at Caskaskee, near New Castle: Nos. 327 and 328, to Wolf Joseph; Nos. 407 and 408, to Jonas Guggenheim; Nos. 371-373, to Mrs. C. M. Walter and William Figley; No. 374, to Robert Fleming; No. 261, to Z. Sepilts; Nos. 13 and 14, to Herman Fiber; Nos. 17 and 18, to Jacob Fiber; No. 62, to Lee Fulkerson; No. 210, to Meyer Levin; Nos. 170, 196, 197 and 198, to Meyer Levin; Nos. 409 and 410, to F. A. Gallagher; No. 407, to Olive Smith; Nos. 346 and 471, to Abe Levin; No. 117, to L. Suckolant; Nos. 360 and 361, to Mrs. S. E. Bauer; No. 86, to J. Mauner; No. 87, to H. L. Duncan; No. 228, to W. Nervin; No. 227, to Jane Nervin; No. 5, to Peter Shaw; No. 322, to George Bachlofer; No. 375, to M. and F. Wolf; No. 66, to Mrs. Vasche; No. 67, to Mrs. Beutte; No. 285, to John Hunter.

J. W. Sheridan sold for R. S. Wilson to a local builder a lot 20x100 feet, in the east side of College avenue, Twentieth ward, for $2,025.

Thomas Morrison Buys a Farm.

The deed was passed yesterday in the sale of the Schoeller farm, in Wilkins township, adjoining Wilkinsburg, from Mrs. Celia Schoeller to Thomas Morrison of the United States Steel Corporation. The lot contains about 55 acres and has a frontage in the Greensburg pike of 1,300 feet, with a depth of 1,000 feet. It is Mr. Morrison's intention to improve and make this one of the finest farms in the county and use it as a vegetable and stock farm for his own use. The consideration was $34,000 cash. J. R. Lazor of the First End Savings and Trust Company handled the sale.

The Duquesne Realty Company sold for the La Belleview Land Company at Steubenville the following lots: Clyde Holtzman, lot No. 229, 30x110 feet, Ohio street, $240; John Spahn, lot No. 240, 50x150 feet, W. Euclid avenue, $800; E. C. and A. R. Fellows, lot No. 524, 40x110 feet, Ridge avenue, $480; William Frudenberger, lots No. 278 and 277, 55x125 feet each, Pennsylvania avenue, $1,025; Frank S. Harden, lot No. 278, 50x140 feet, Pennsylvania avenue, $850; J. C. Thillmmons, lots No. 279 and 280, 50x110 feet each, Pennsylvania avenue, for $1,500.

W. J. Summergill of Homestead yesterday purchased the Griffin dwelling, No. 6 Sixth street, homestead at Ninth avenue and West street for $6,000. The property is 50x110 feet and improved by two large houses.

Building permits were issued to the National Casket Company for a five-story brick storage building, on Seventh avenue, Fourth ward, to cost $35,000; John Finley, seven two-story brick veneered dwellings, Idlewild street, Twenty-first ward, to cost $23,000; Mrs. Anna Miller, two-story frame dwelling, in Sylvan avenue, Twenty-third ward, to cost $1,450; Mrs. Annie Donahoe, two-story brick dwelling, in Trent street, Eleventh ward, to cost $3,000; Joseph Atwell, two-story brick dwelling, in Trent street, Eleventh ward, to cost $3,000; Louis Haas, two-story frame dwelling, in Gable street, Twenty-seventh ward, to cost $1,900.

Available Supply of Grain.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Special cables and telegrams to Bradstreet's from leading markets show the following changes in available supplies as compared with last account: Wheat, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increased 2,400,000 bu; afloat for and in Europe, increased 2,000,000 bu; total supply, increased 4,740,000 bu. Corn—United States an Canada, east of Rockies, decreased 713,000 bu. Oats—United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decreased 225,000 bu. Other changes of importance reported this week are those of 500,000 bu at Manitoba, 205,000 bu at Portland, Maine, 199,000 bu each at northwestern interior elevators and Minneapolis, 100,000 bu at Joliet and 50,000 bu at Chattanooga. The leading decreases are those of 662,000 bu at Chicago private elevators, 400,000 bu at Toledo, 250,000 bu at Winnipeg, and 64,000 bu at Newport News.

Raw Sugar Market Firmer.

Owing to a strong upward tendency in the raw sugar market, all refined grades were advanced to points yesterday. The reduction of 20 points made a couple of weeks ago was found too deep a cut, and the market is working back to its former condition. There is a steady demand for granulated, which extends into all departments, holding matters level and satisfactory. Retail merchants evidently expect a large consumption demand during the winter, and are making liberal preparations to carry it out. The shipments by those who are watching the signs of the times that the coming holiday season will be a record-breaker. People have the money to spend, and when they have it, they generally have a good time. Never were there so many and such elaborate holiday novelties as are to be found this year, and the retail grocer who is ready to take advantage of the general prosperity will likely have a chance to make some money.

Canned goods and dried fruits are especially good sellers, and for these articles quotations have not changed for more than a week, although the corn market is daily tightening, and may go higher at almost any time. Jobbers are advising their customers that canned corn is a good purchase at present prices.

Fresh Florida Tomatoes Here.

New arrivals in the produce market are fresh Florida tomatoes. These are offering at $2 00 @2 50 a crate, and will be regular features in the market during the winter. Liberal shipments of them are expected for the holiday trade. Other fresh vegetables, including pear, and Brussels sprouts are now offering. Endive, by the basket, is here, bringing a range of $4 00@5 00. Potatoes, both white and sweet, hold their own with no change in conditions, and cabbage is unchanged but easy. Apples are still plentiful, and quotations are the same as those of last week, with lots of good stock here, but stocks of poor fruit are free. Grapes hold their own, but few Concords remaining.

Poultry is unchanged, the market being in a waiting mood. There will likely be either a decline or an advance by the end of the week, depending entirely upon whether the weather is cold or warm. Lower temperature will mean more and larger supplies and poorer quality, which is the condition hoped for by the consumer.

Egg Situation Puzzling.

The advance of 1½c a pound in creamery butter on Monday was the cause of considerable comment among dealers yesterday, who fear its effect upon the consuming trade, lest the consumptive demand be seriously affected. While an advance has been looked for on Monday, no such radical increase was expected, and many doubt its wisdom. Extra table butter is scarce, and prosperity is such that the consumer will be compelled to pay more for supplies than they can afford under less favorable financial conditions, but there are limits across which they will not go, especially when a substitute is at hand at less price. The outcome of the advance will be watched with interest. Cheese is firm, and moves readily, notwithstanding the high prices now prevailing. Eggs are coming in in sufficient volume to keep stock is arriving slowly, receipts yesterday being not over two-thirds of those of last Monday. Some withdrawals from storage are being made, but the demand does not equal the prevailing warm weather, and are not so large as they might be otherwise. Nevertheless there are some storage eggs selling, and some fresh eggs which are not fresh are to be found on sale. With all this, and some jobbers selling stock readily at 28c, there are other holders of strictly fresh who claim to find the market dragsy at 28c, with demand less than it was a week ago. For this reason opinions are considerably at variance, and many prices are reported. Actual selling of really fresh stock seems to continue at 28@29c.

SCHOOL BOARD LOSES IMPORTANT TEST CASE

Judges Stowe and Collier Decide Boys Over 13 Employed at Home Cannot Be Compelled to Attend School.

Judges E. H. Stowe and F. H. Collier yesterday decided a question relative to the compulsory education act of 1901, that interests every school board in Pennsylvania and thousands of parents and guardians who have boys over 13 and under 16 years of age, employed about their homes. The question has been raised for the first time in the case of the Commonwealth against H. F. Hutchison for refusing to take a boy away from employment and send him to school at the opening of the schoo. term, although Hutchison permitted the boy to go to school about six months in the year.

Hutchison, who resides in the borough of Cheswick, adopted a 13-year-old boy who had been raised in the Episcopal church home. The lad was employed by the defendant about his garden and in his home during the early fall and the summer, and sent to school in the winter.

The school board wanted the lad sent to school at the beginning of the regular school term and notified Hutchison to comply with the compulsory school act or they would have him arrested for its violation. Hutchison, believing he was within the meaning of the act, refused to be dictated to by the school board. He was arrested and fined by Alderman John Groetzinger. His attorney, George E. Alter, advised him that the fine would not stand and he took an appeal to court to test the law.

One provision in the act reads: "This act shall not apply to any child between the ages of 13 and 16 years who can read and write the English language intelligently, and is regularly engaged in any useful employment or service."

The Cheswick school board argued that employment in a home was not within the meaning of the act, and that Hutchison was violating its provisions when he refused to send the boy to school. Attorney Alter stated that the question had never been raised before, but that employment in a garden or in a home was useful employment and so considered under the law. The court decided that the act applied to all such cases and reversed the alderman, remitting the fine.

JUDGES REFUSED TO RELEASE DR. DUNCAN

Not Satisfied from Physician's Testimony That Bruce Head Is Yet Out of Danger.

Judges F. H. Collier and E. H. Stowe yesterday refused the application of Dr. Ellis S. Duncan, the Louisville physician charged with shooting Bruce Head, to be released from jail on bail.

The physicians attending Bruce Head, Dr. R. L. Walker, Sr., and Dr. R. L. Walker, Jr., were unable to tell the court that Head was out of danger, and until the physicians say positively that the danger of fatal result is past Dr. Duncan will have to remain in prison.

The matter was taken up when Attorneys Clarence Burleigh and George Elphinstone, for the defendant, appeared with Duncan's uncle, W. H. McClure. The commonwealth was represented by Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., owing to the temporary illness of District Attorney John C. Haymaker.

Dr. Walker, Jr., said he thought Head would get well. The wound was healing rapidly and everything pointed to recovery, but that was not certain, as there was still danger of erysipelas.

The judges wanted to know more about the nature of the wound, and Dr. Walker, Jr., went into an explanation of erysipelas, saying there were several kinds that it was possible for Head's case to develop. He said he did not look for any trouble in that direction, as there were no signs of erysipelas at present.

"Do you think he is out of danger?" was asked.

"He is out of danger if erysipelas does not set in, and God alone knows what will happen," was the answer.

Mr. Burleigh said that he had arranged with District Attorney Haymaker to have Drs. Stewart and Buchanan examine Head, but that it had not been done.

Dr. Walker, Jr., said that Dr. McFarlane, one of the surgeons at the West Penn hospital, had been to see Head and that he had made a careful examination. He said that when Dr. McFarlane left Head, the latter said he did not want any more physicians examining him, as they made his face sore in handling him.

Mr. Robb said he had been in consultation with the physicians relative to Head's condition for 10 days, and that they had reported progress daily. The judges then decided that the physicians believed Head would get well, but that there was no certainty about it. Judge Collier declared finally:

"We are positive that it is our duty here not to listen to any application for bail on the testimony before us. The probabilities are that the man will get well, but should he die from the wound, the defendant would be in just as bad a light as if Head had died the day after the shooting."

Wills of Theodore Havekotte and John Daub Filed—Letters of Administration Issued.

The will of Theodore Havekotte, the Allegheny resident whose body was found in the Ohio river, near Jacks run, last Thursday, was filed. The will is dated September 5, 1902. The decedent possessed personal property worth $80,000 and real estate valued at $2,500. Walter Havekotte, a son, is left certain jewelry. The residue of the estate goes to the testator's children, Walter, Dorothy and Louise Havekotte. Charles L. Walther, a brother-in-law, is named as executor.

The will of John Daub, the well-known Pittsburgh grocer, who died last week, was filed. An estimate of the estate was not given, but the annuities would indicate that it is worth $400,000. The testator's wife is to receive the homestead in the Twenty-first ward and $5,000 a year during her lifetime. The residue of the estate is converted into a trust. Out of the income $1,000 annuity is to be paid to each of the testator's sons, Emil D. Daub and Theodore G. Daub, and to his daughter, Mrs. S. E. Capel, while $250 is to be paid to each of the four children of John Daub, Jr. Should Mrs. Daub die before the trust terminates, the annuities are to be increased 100 per cent. At the end of the trust the estate is to be divided into four equal parts and the three children will each receive one part. The four grandchildren will get the other part, the trust as to the latter to remain 10 years more. Attorney W. K. Jennings represents the estate.

By the will of P. L. Ferry of Wilkinsburgh an estate worth $10,500 goes to the decedent's wife. Senator J. M. Goehring represents the estate.

The following decrees in distribution were made: Estates of John Lutz, $8,247 24; John Scott, $8,714 26; Joseph Paul, $8,740 89.

Attorney A. L. Cramer, representing Mrs. Annie Richards, took out letters of administration on the estate of James F. Richards.

Ancillary letters of administration were taken out here on the estate of Arthur Sidman of Onondaga county, New York, by Samuel C. Fercer. Attorney Warren I. Seymour has charge of the estate.

Attorneys John N. Dunn and A. S. Moorhead, representing Peter H. Lind, the administrator, took out letters of administration on the estate of John Lencht.

SAY IRRIGATION PLAN WILL NOT STAND TEST

Washington Firm Wants Pittsburghers to Pay $569,000 for Failure to Reclaim Land.

In the United States circuit court the case of Smith & Benham of Michigan and Washington against Curran & Hussey of Pittsburgh, was taken up yesterday.

The plaintiffs seek to recover $569,000 damages for an alleged breach of contract on the part of the defendants in the construction of a wooden pipe line for the irrigation of the San Luis Rey Valley, California.

The defendants claim the contract was entered into on false and misleading statements made by the plaintiffs. An investigation by the defendants, they allege, showed that the scheme was unpractical because large sections of the pipe line were higher than the source of supply, and in order to carry the water through the pipe would have to be laid from 35 to 75 feet underground, thereby increasing the cost many times over.

The following is an itemized list of the damages asked: $50,000, value of the land to be conveyed to the plaintiff when the pipe line was finished; $1,000 attorneys' fees; $3,000 for land conveyed to the defendant; $15,000 on a bond which the defendants were to give; $30,000 in stock of the company to be formed when the pipe line was finished, and $200,000 dividends on such stock. The case is on trial before Judge Joseph Buffington.

In Judge Archbald's branch of the same court the suit of Minerva Tridell against William M. Munhall, administrator for Patrick H. Munhall, is on trial. The plaintiff seeks to recover $10,000 for services rendered the decedent during the last years of his life. It is alleged that during that time he made his home with her in Chicago and received "board, medicine and washing" for a part of the time, and the plaintiff's services as a nurse during the balance. The amount, she claims, was agreed to by Patrick H. Munhall before his death.

The cases of J. H. Brennan against the Burnham-Warren Company and the Toledo Machine Company against the Penn Shovel Company are with the juries.

LECTURED BOTH SIDES.

Judge Stowe Defines Rights of Boroughs and Corporations—Alderman Reversed in Kerr Case.

The appeal of Oliver Smith and five other employes of the Low Pressure Gas Company from the decision of J. P. Gilian, burgess of McKees Rocks, fining them $25 and costs each for violating a city ordinance in opening a street, was taken up before Judges F. H. Collier and E. H. Stowe yesterday. The men were about to excavate to relay a gas main and were stopped. They were arrested a second time and fined.

The judges did not make an order in the case, but took the occasion to reprove both sides. Judge Stowe said the borough had no right to interfere with the repairs of a main if there was danger of an explosion where human life was involved.

To the appellants he said that the corporation had no right to go ahead with the work under the conditions, and that its proper plan was to go into court, where any common pleas judge would have made a restraining injunction against the borough, if the company was already under bond for putting the street in proper order again.

He added: "That's the trouble with all corporations; they go to work with their heads down to do as they please."

In the case of W. A. Kerr, who appealed from the decision of Alderman John A. Martin fining him $10 for cruelty to children, the court reversed the alderman.

BURNED OUT TOO OFTEN.

De Noon Brothers Planning a Fireproof Warehouse.

DeNoon Bros., paint and glass jobbers, are planning one of the most substantial warehouse buildings in Pittsburgh, a structure which is to cost about $200,000. Two buildings which these interests occupied have been damaged by fire in recent months. It is understood that a site has not yet been secured.

The plans are for a building 80x160 feet and six stories high, of fireproof construction, steel frame and brick walls, with terra cotta trimmings. Stairways are to be of iron and the structure is to be well equipped with elevators with airtight shafts.

Chinamen Go Back at Curtis.

Yee Tang and Yee Quas, Sewickley Chinamen, have entered cross suits against John Curtis, the colored man with whom they got into trouble last Saturday night. Curtis charged them with felonious assault and battery, and they charged Curtis with assault and battery. Justice Johnson last evening bound Curtis over to court.

Too Many Occupants for One House.

W. M. Scott has been prosecuted before Alderman Connor on the charge of false pretense, by William Braxton and Carolina Miller, colored. They claim that each paid Scott $15 separately for rental of the same house. A third person complained to the alderman that Scott took money from him for the same house.

Homestead Welcomed Hall.

Walter E. Hall, organist at the Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, and recently elected organist for the Homestead library, last night gave his first recital in the Homestead Carnegie Music hall. He was well received by the Homestead people, a very large audience being present.

LOTTERY TEST COMING.

New Justice Holmes Holds Balance of Power on Question of Express Company Traffic.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Having close application to the great question of trusts, and involving the right of congress to regulate commerce between the states, is the lottery case which has just been assigned by the supreme court for re-argument early in December.

The re-opening of the case for the third time is an indication that the court stands evenly divided in its opinion, and the new justice, Mr. Holmes of Massachusetts, who will be sworn in before the case is re-argued, is thought to hold the balance of power.

The case is that of Francis against the United States. Francis was convicted in Cincinnati of carrying lottery tickets across the Ohio line into Kentucky, and brought his case to the supreme court on appeal. It bears on the power of congress to regulate inter-state commerce directly, and is important as determining whether or not lottery gambling with the aid of the express companies is to be stamped out.

Crushed by a Heavy Pipe.

John Conley, of 1110 Talbot avenue, Braddock, a machinist at the Edgar Thomson blast furnaces, while at work yesterday afternoon on the new furnace J, was crushed by a 34-inch pipe. His hip and breastbone were fractured. He is 34 years old. He was removed to Mercy hospital.

A GOOD SAMARITAN

Being Helped Himself Wishes to Help Others.

The papers were never so filled with advertisements of remedies that will cure every known disease as they are today; these are invariably accompanied by letters from people, testifying in the strongest terms to the virtue and merit of the particular preparation advertised; but because so much is claimed for the medicine, it has come to the point where most readers regard such testimonials as pure "fakes" and made up out of whole cloth.

We are glad, however, to vouch for the reliability of the following from Mr. William Lichtenwalter, proprietor of the largest printing house in Canton, O., regarding the Pyramid Pile Cure, for which nothing is claimed except that it will cure any and every form of piles.

"For several months past I have received so many inquiries from sufferers asking if my testimonial is authentic, that I am inclined to send in a bill to you for postage and stationery.

"It is now two years since I was last troubled, and my rectum is as clear and clean as any man who never had piles, although I suffered with protruding, bleeding and internal piles for 27 years. I will not attempt to detail the agony I suffered, being too happy to say I believe I am cured, after two years of evidence.

"What will cure one man will sometimes not cure another; whether it was the Pyramid Pile Cure that cured me, I cannot say; but I have been free from piles for two years after using your treatment. I leave sufferers to draw their own conclusions.

"I will answer any communication that a sufferer may ask, and will refer to any business house, bank or manufacturer of Canton, O., concerning my identity, among whom I have lived for 48 years."

Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for 50 cents a package, or will be mailed to any address by Pyramid Drug Company, Marshall, Mich., upon receipt of price.

Drop this drm a card, asking for their little book describing the cause and cure of piles.

Mill Ends of Table Linens.

(Table Cloth Lengths.)

'Twas lucky that the freight blockade lifted sufficiently to let these come to the store in time for the Thanksgiving trade.

We unpacked the heavy ironbound cases yesterday, and when the contents were piled on the inspection boards in the stock room they made a solid wall of white, 36 inches high and 10 feet long.

Every one is a "mill end" of fine Bleached Scotch Damask, full 60 inches wide, ready for use as soon as the ends are hemmed.

The patterns are spot-centers with Arabesque borders, all-over leaf designs, all-over rose figures and all-over lily patterns.

The week before Thanksgiving (this week) the sizes and the prices of these "mill ends" possess a peculiar fascination for you. They are

—2 yds. long, just right for a lunch cloth or a table for a small family—for 80c.

—2½ yds. long—a table cloth for a medium-size family—for $1.00.

—3 yds. long—a large table cloth —for $1.20.

Value—a good deal more than 80c, $1.00 or $1.20, as you will see at a glance if you know anything about linens.

On sale now (down stairs).

Seven Good Points of a New Wash Cloth

The Capital Knitting Co. of Cohoes, New York, recently brought out a new wash cloth as an experiment. It was knit—not woven—and demonstrated its superiority over the Turkish wash cloths so quickly that the knitting mill has had to run night and day to keep within gunshot of the orders that came pouring in from all over the country. The name given to this little device was "Aercel Hygienic Wash Cloth," and the advantages claimed for it are as follows:

First—It will absorb more water.
Second—By pressure in the hand it will discharge more water.
Third—When hung up will dry more quickly.
Fourth—Owing to the construction it can be more thoroughly and easily cleansed.
Fifth—Being of an elastic nature, it will fit the hand, admitting of more perfect massage.
Sixth—Will not irritate the most tender skin.
Last—it has the qualities of a sponge and the advantages of a cloth.

Even in Pittsburgh, where the barbers use sponges and all the successful cleaning devices are at premium, these wash cloths sell at our store for.. 5c

Expect to Entertain Thanksgiving Guests?

This is an opportune time to refurnish the guest chamber, completely or in part, and let the furnishings thus displaced go to brighten up the other bedrooms of the house, thus making your upstairs more than ever a place where the "gentle ministry of sleep" comes amid pleasant surroundings.
